Do you stay in a city, a town or a village? Give a brief description of what you would see within a 2km radius from your home.

- Residential are around the house and all market places within 2 km
- I live in a village. In around 2km radius i can only see small numbers of houses, small small groceryshops, bakery and shops like those. In order to get bulk items I think I can travel to nearest town 5-7 kms away. But branded and premium stuff are not available there.
- I,ve shifted to a new location, so I don't know much about this area.
- I live in a small town named Jamalpur. Since I stay in a Railway Colony, so there only railway quarters, offices, hospitals and schools in the 2km of radius.
- I am staying in the city of Guwahati, Assam. Around me are mostly buildingsand houses, not more than three storeys in height. There are small commercial shops once you get to the main road, all of which are empty as there has been a total lockdown declared at the moment.
- I'm from a City, Coimbatore to be exact, and all around me I'd probably see just building, mostly houses, the place I live at is slightly far away from the main part of the city
- I live in Ghatkopar east. As of now situation here is pretty bad, my building is sealed rn as there are 4 cases in a family living.
- I live in a village which has small town nearby. Pond that I go mostly, and my farm
- I live in a city. Most kinds of shops/facilities are available nearby. I'd see lots of home terraces, mobile towers, schools, all kinds of shops, etc.
- my home is in a village nearby periyar river
- City - Homes, Garment factories, Bus stand, Small general shops
- lots of big buildings and the main road
- I live in a city and all I see is a concrete jungle
- I do have a forest, mountain range and a lake nearby
- There are two parks, a stadium, a hill, many crossroads, a small basti near by, my school, a temple , many crossroads and buildings near where I live
- Town, there are schools, a hospital, state highway, market area, general stores, etc.
- I live in a hill station on Western ghats, Kerala. My house is separate from nearby locality/town which is 6km away. My place is completely covered with dense tropical forest, thrice as dense as our campus. All we have is trees around 2km radius.
- I stay in Baner, Pune; less than one kilometer from the Mumbai Pune expressway. My locality mostly has huge residential complexes, office spaces, restaurants and commercial establishments.
- I stay pretty close to the town. It's not a village but you could see fields around my house and is a less populated area. The sea is less than a kilometre away from my home. There are like 6 or 7 small temple within a kilometre radius and a small market half a kilometre away from my home.
- I live in Mulund, a majorly residential suburb of Mumbai
- I live in a city, but to location of my house is a distant from a locality or city(diameter or 1-1.5km)
- I stay in a city, but I live in the quieter section. There is not much within 2km of my house but with a short drive I can access almost anything.
- I live in Sector-83, Gurgaon, which is a developing part of the city. The landscape around my house displays a heavy contrast between tall housing buildings and open fields and meadows in which if you're lucky, you might spot a grazing horse or two.

- I live in a suburb area near Thrissur City, there are hotels and houses all not located that close to each other. If we go further there are a few shops for basic needs.
- I stay in a prime area in Chennai. There are Houses and high-rise buildings mostly.
- I live in Pune. There is a garden in front of my building, a river after a couple of hundred metres and a couple of societies near the river
- Houses
- I live in a city called Gandhinagar, Gujarat. Residential area, a lot of apartments, bungalows and shops.
- I live in the city of Gurgaon. In a 2 km radius I would predominantly see housing, as I live in the middle of a very large residential area. I would also see a couple of hospitals, a school, and a few small colony markets. I can move around in a car, but walking/cycling and interacting with others won't be possible as certain parts of my area are badly affected, and movement has to be done with a lot of caution.
- It is something between a town and a village. There are shops and lots of buildings and houses, as well as some aspects of a village
- I stay in the middle of a city (Jaipur). There are rows of houses packed together, a stadium close by and a marketplace where we get our items from.

What you would enjoy doing in your Design Project this semester:

- Digital art
- I wanted to explore both 2D and 3D media further, and I've developed an interest in video making. So my project would involve making and animating illustrations (traditionally or digitally). I also want to explore claymation. Given the constraints, I'm unsure of the feasibility as yet, or if these match the scope of the next semester. These are just personal project ideas I had after learning some new skills over the break.
- I would like to do a series of digital illustrations or vector art.
- Sculpting
- An animation short film
- Aero plane design study
- I would like to make several illustrations, both traditionally and digitally. I do not have definite clarity at the moment, but a series of illustrations (possibly for a book) would be something I would enjoy making.
- Something new that I haven't tried out yet or I would like learn more about 3d
- Based on my current situation, I can create content, make posters, make good illustrations, draw, interact - with people online, make almost everything related to nature. I can do a wholesome project with these. I am looking forward undertake a social project based on current situation.
- This is difficult for me. If I had a list to choose from, it would be better. I went through the syllabus for next semester. I think I'll go with DRAWING direction because I got less experience in those.
- Something related to 3d softwares
- Building an imaginary planet/ universe
- Product rendering and development
- movie making
- Something more digital like filmography or 3d
- Researching about stuff
- my dream project would be a colourful and we'll planned animation
- I would like to undertake a project in which I pick any sort of object, and learn and research about it at a deep level to better understand its roots, evolution and functions, and attempt to develop further on these aspects of it.
- Product designing and maybe 3D modelling too
- Not entirely sure, something along the lines of an illustrated storybook/ short animation
- Haven't decided yet. But, something to do with 2d.
- some 3d animated short clips and stills
- I would like an animation project in the next semester.
- I'm not very sure
- I would like to do some related to Animation
- A short 3d animated film of about 1-2 mins with custom characters and sets
- UI design, UX design, Iconography

As you move to Year 2, it would be desirable to grow in your general knowledge and your conceptual abilities.

Which of the options below, would you be most inclined to?

Read widely on different subjects.	Number of students 8	(25.81%)
Listen to youtube videos	Number of students 13	(41.94%)
Interact with peers and mentors	Number of students 10	(32.26%)
Read the News daily	Number of students 0	(0.00%)
TOTAL	31

Would you have any suggestion for helping you learn?

- I feel like, along with online sessions, several youtube videos can help more to understand the topic.
- Curated technical tutorials. Classes focus on developing design aptitude, leaving technical learning to us. This suggestion is an addition to existing important structure.
- We could have online interactions with senior batches.
- I still don't know much that how my mind works but i learn better by watching people doing it.
- Collaborating with aerospace dept. will help a lot
- At times I find myself struggling with self-learning. It would be of great help for me to have guidance and feedback.
- Giving guests to improve my learning taking inspirations from someones else too
- I'm looking forward to learn to give more accuracy for a good design. I need to exercise 3d , I would be grateful if I could get softwares installed.
- I need deadlines/driving force to help me learn. The lesser time period the better i concentrate.
- Sometimes I require the school's help for acquiring some softwares, it would be nice if I got some help in acquiring these softwares, most of the softwares that the school acquires is inclined towards engineering students and not much for design students, one software I need in particular is Zbrush
- Suggesting different / provocative / interesting/ informative things to read or watch
- Give basis of grading for every final project
- I like to read, so if it has anything to do with reading I will work
- no
- I find one on one interaction with students and professors to be very helpful and important during and outside classes, and would like opportunity to maintain that virtually, with some possible methods being scheduled interactions, feedback sessions or group activities.
- Great if I had some theory classes and the rest of the time spending for practising and instructions in between.
- exchange of articles, books, talks etc.; individual guides maybe
- I don't know
- I would like to have a good feedback for my projects.
- I am not sure
- Learning techniques from people who have an already well established workflow by watching them after struggling for quite some time to get solutions for my problems that I encountered with time that I would not have expected at first. I prefer talking to learn concepts, even though it does not necessarily make me think in a certain way but I then know what I should be aiming for which is often not taught in theory.
- Guidance in the same field (towards Interaction design and building interfaces) would be really helpful
- none
- I think having more personal feedbacks would be better. I really liked the writing module of second sem because I got more personal feedback and I felt more motivated because of it.

How have you coped with the lockdown?

I have actually enjoyed most parts of it.	Number of students 9	(28.13%)
Some of it was stressful, some of it enjoyable.	Number of students 19	(59.38%)
It has been quite stressful.	Number of students 4	(12.50%)
TOTAL	32

Does future placement weigh heavily on your mind?

Yes it does.	Number of students 6	(18.75%)
Do worry about it sometimes.	Number of students 18	(56.25%)
It is too early to think about it.	Number of students 8	(25.00%)
TOTAL	32

Which of the options below, best describe the internet connectivity at home?

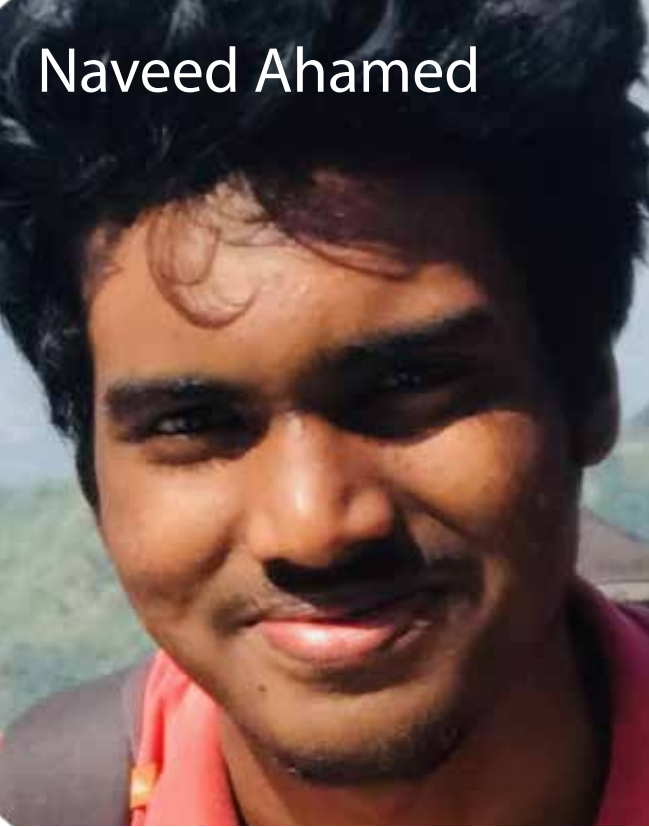

Excellent connectivity. Video conferencing is reliable.	Number of students 6	(18.75%)
Good connectivity but video connectivity gets interrupted at times.	Number of students 21	(65.63%)
Poor connectivity but email works.	Number of students 4	(12.50%)
Have to take help from others (outside home) even for email.	Number of students 1	(3.13%)

Individual Responses / Narrative Feedback

The following pages have the individual responses from students and narrative feedback from faculty.

Naveed Ahamed

Narrative Feedback

Sampurna Chattarji

Was regular in class, a good boy, with a desire to read more, but was unable to make the shift from spoken to written, also very shy and confessed to feeling constrained about his accent etc.

Amitesh Shrivastava

Arun Mascarenhas

Raja Mohanty

Was undecided whether to join NIFT or IDC. Has an interest in textiles and handlooms. Visited December workshop at Vedchi on his own initiative.

I live in a village. In around 2km radius i can only see small numbers of houses, small small groceryshops, bakery and shops like those. In order to get bulk items I think I can travel to nearest town 5-7 kms away. But branded and premium stuff are not available there.

Which of the situations below, best describe the internet connectivity at home:

Excellent connectivity. Video conferencing is reliable.

Q8

Answer this ONLY if you are NOT very comfortable with online learning and you are given the freedom to shape the next semester with the understanding that you shall address the learning objectives. Choose which of the options best describe you.

I am self-motivated but I would need at least one mentor who would guide me.

Q9

How have you coped with the lockdown?

I have actually enjoyed most parts of it.

Q10

Does future placement weigh heavily on your mind?

It is too early to think about it.

Narrative Feedback

Sampurna Chattarji

Was pleasantly surprised to see him in the second semester! A delight to teach. Have enjoyed his explorations, his development, and application. Can do more with words, in combination with his talent for photography.

Amitesh Shrivastava

Earlier he was struggling in drawing but he was keen to know more about his problems so he kept asking me. Finally he was able to resolve them and achieved a strong sense of exploring his drawings and subjects. Well done!

Arun Mascarenhas

Creative, bit rigid on suggestions. Self-motivated easy to converse.

Raja Mohanty

Enthusiastic and has diverse interests. Interested in photography and evidently likes dogs!

I think having more personal feedbacks would be better. I really liked the writing module of second sem because I got more personal feedback and I felt more motivated because of it.

Narrative Feedback

Sampurna Chattarji

A very interesting boy. With a mind that words slowly, quietly, and deeply. Gift for observation. I have enjoyed guiding his writing, especially about difficult things. Can go far!

Amitesh Shrivastava

Arun Mascarenhas

Needs to polish skills, not very confident on his approaches. Bit too much worried on ideal works.

Raja Mohanty

Can be encouraged to focus more. Bunks occasionally.

Q10

Would you have any suggestion for helping you learn?

Learning techniques from people who have an already well established workflow by watching them after struggling for quite some time to get solutions for my problems that I encountered with time that I would not have expected at first. I prefer talking to learn concepts, even though it does not necessarily make me think in a certain way but I then know what I should be aiming for which is often not taught in theory.
