

SCIENCE FICTION COMIC BOOK ON

TERRAFORMING

MARS

By Vivek Narang

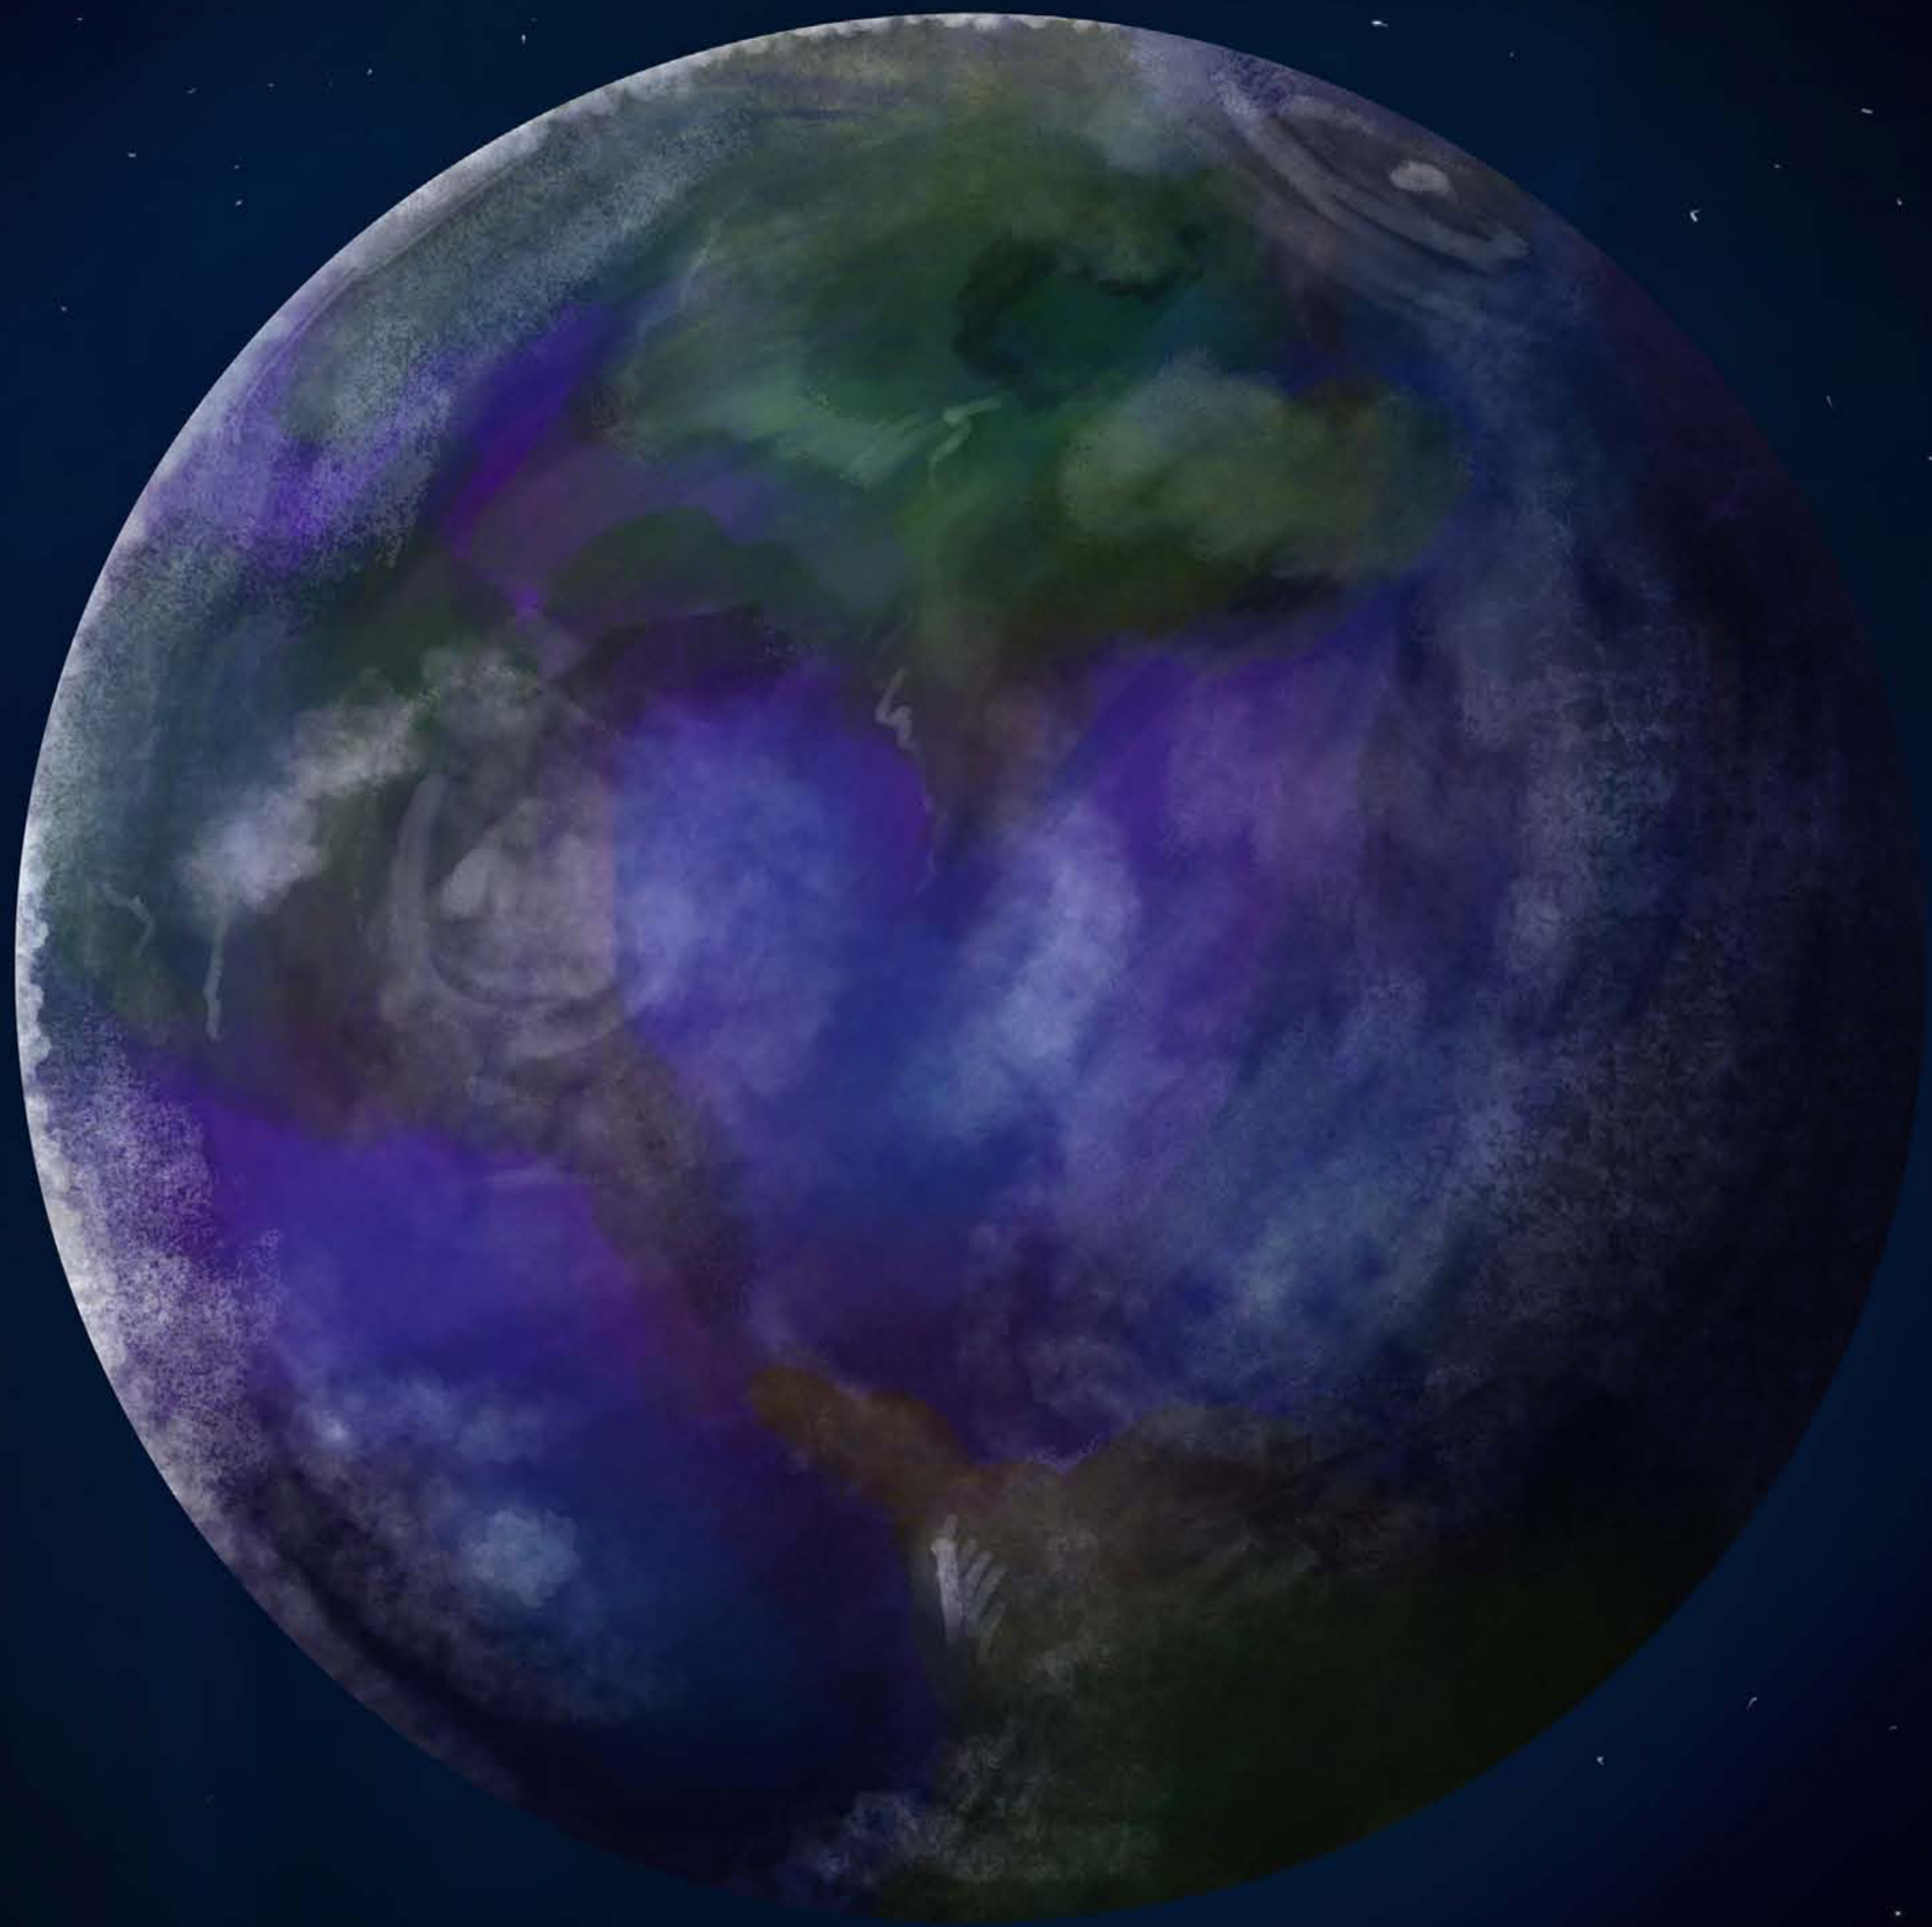

Volume -1

This comic's story and characters have been portrayed as science fiction. However the Certain public institutions are mentioned, but the characters in this comic book are entirely fictional. Any resemblance to actual persons living or dead is entirely coincidental.

At the apocalypse, Earth has become toxic to survive even though it can be visible from space. The colour of the planet is changing and becoming more contaminated.

It is like we were doomed to destroy our planet, and at the time of human extinction, people live inside the bunker and surviving somehow. It seems like we are in the apocalypse.

The environment has become toxic as air quality has rendered dangerous gas as it has become unbreathable. People are roaming around like walker and searching for shelter and food. Most of the people killed each other for survival, and most of them committed suicide in pain.

People are dying in their sleep due to suffocation

All vegetations are changing their colors and becoming toxic. It was feeling like we at the edge of human extinc-

Holographic presentation with all president and scientists of the world.

According to recent data, the human population has decreased, and in this situation, we need to save humanity.

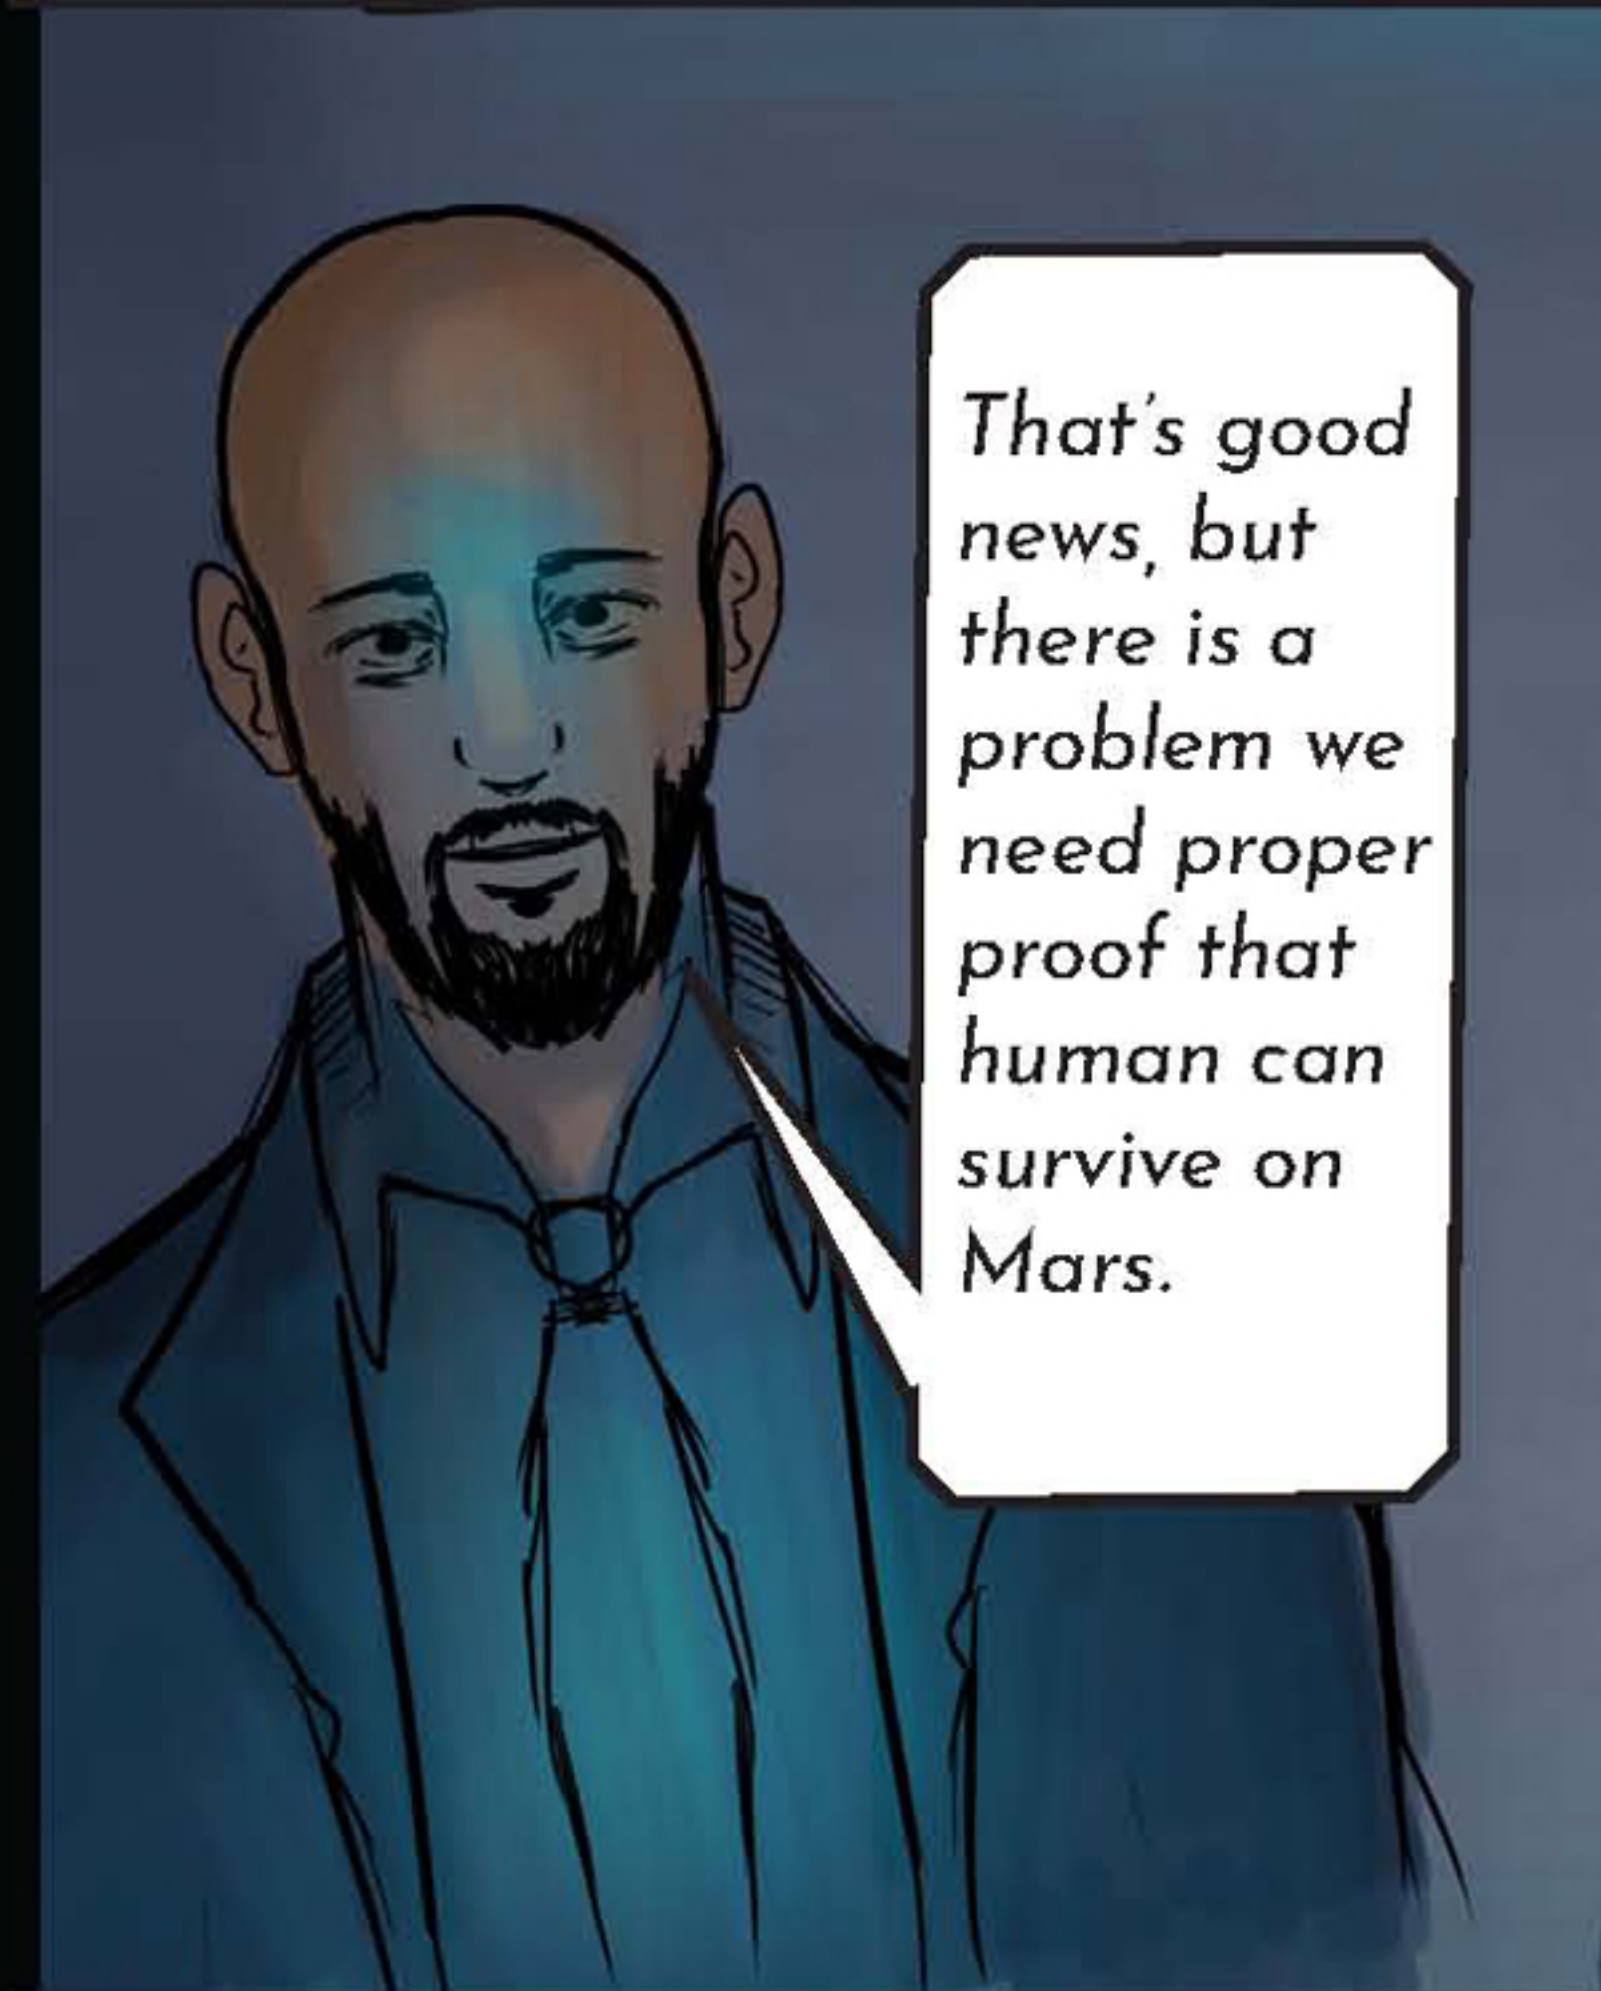

That's the massive destruction

Hey John, what is the mission's progress that you have sent the robot to build a habitable environment on Mars.

Sir, It on the way to completion. By the end of this months, we are ready to move to Mars.

That's good news, but there is a problem we need proper proof that human can survive on Mars.

Can we send small group of people for research?

But it's a perilous mission. What if they won't survive. Will you take that responsibility?

Sir, but we don't have any other option; anyhow, we have to save humanity.

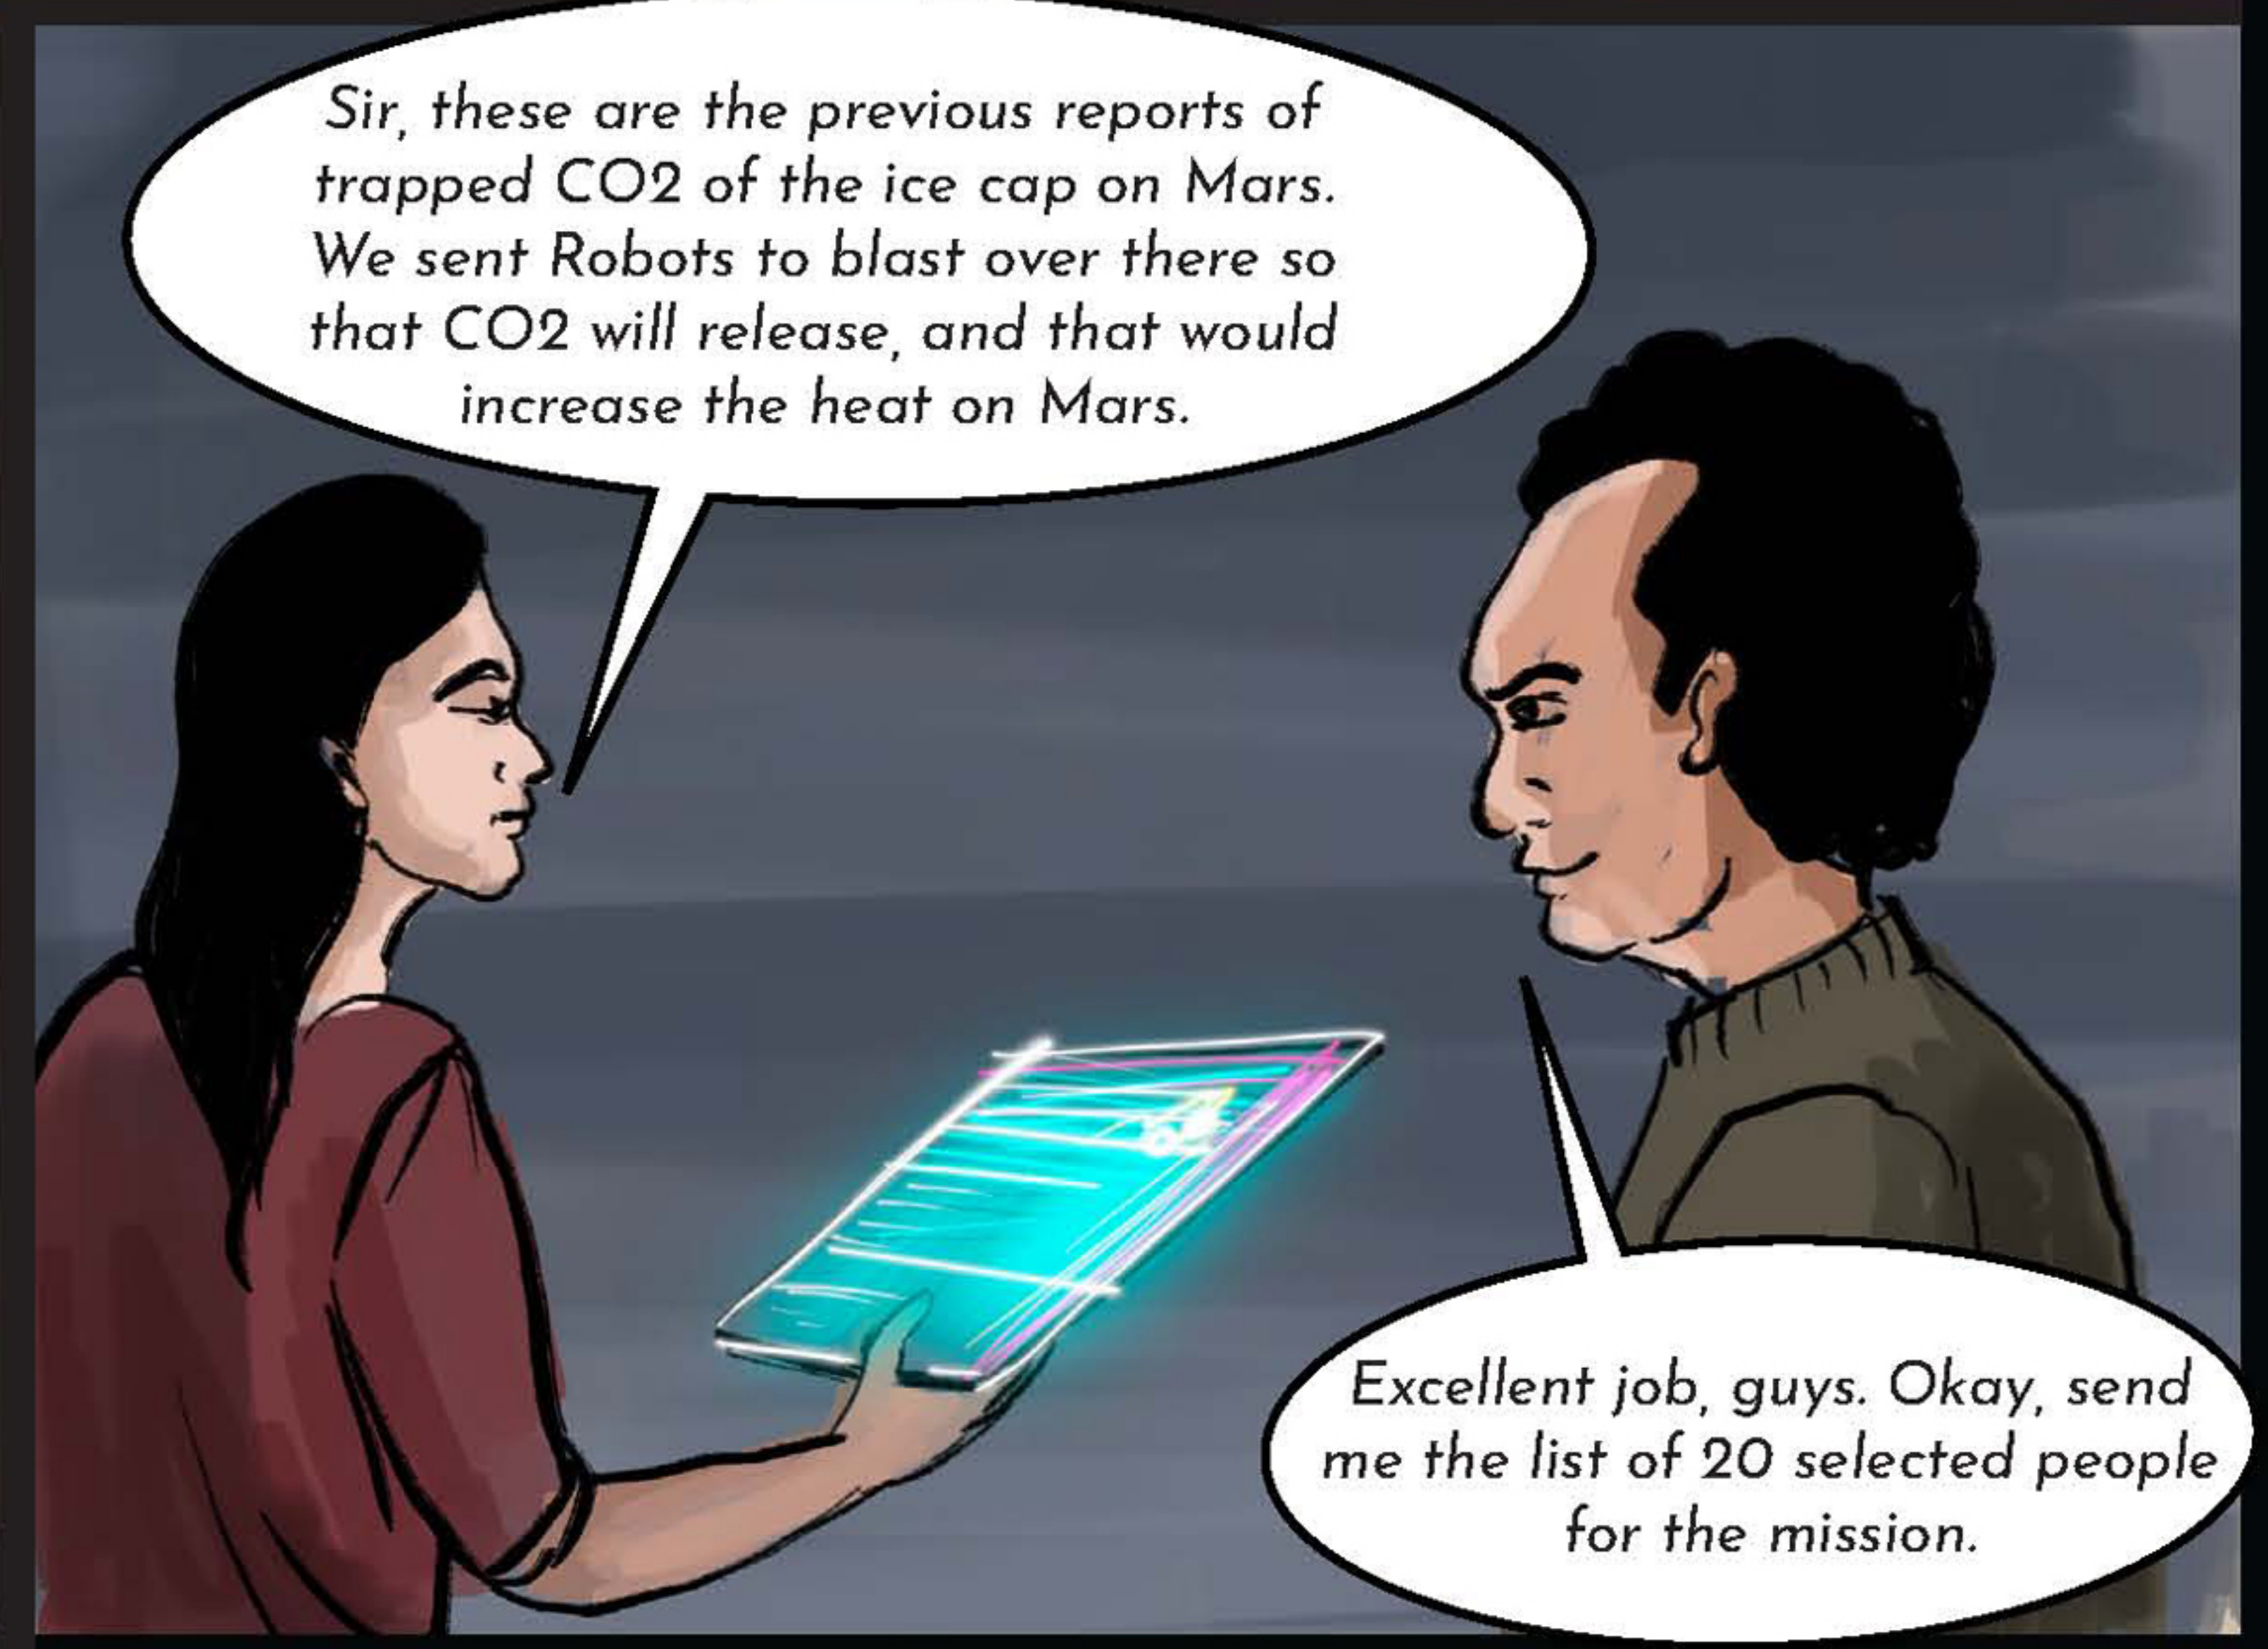

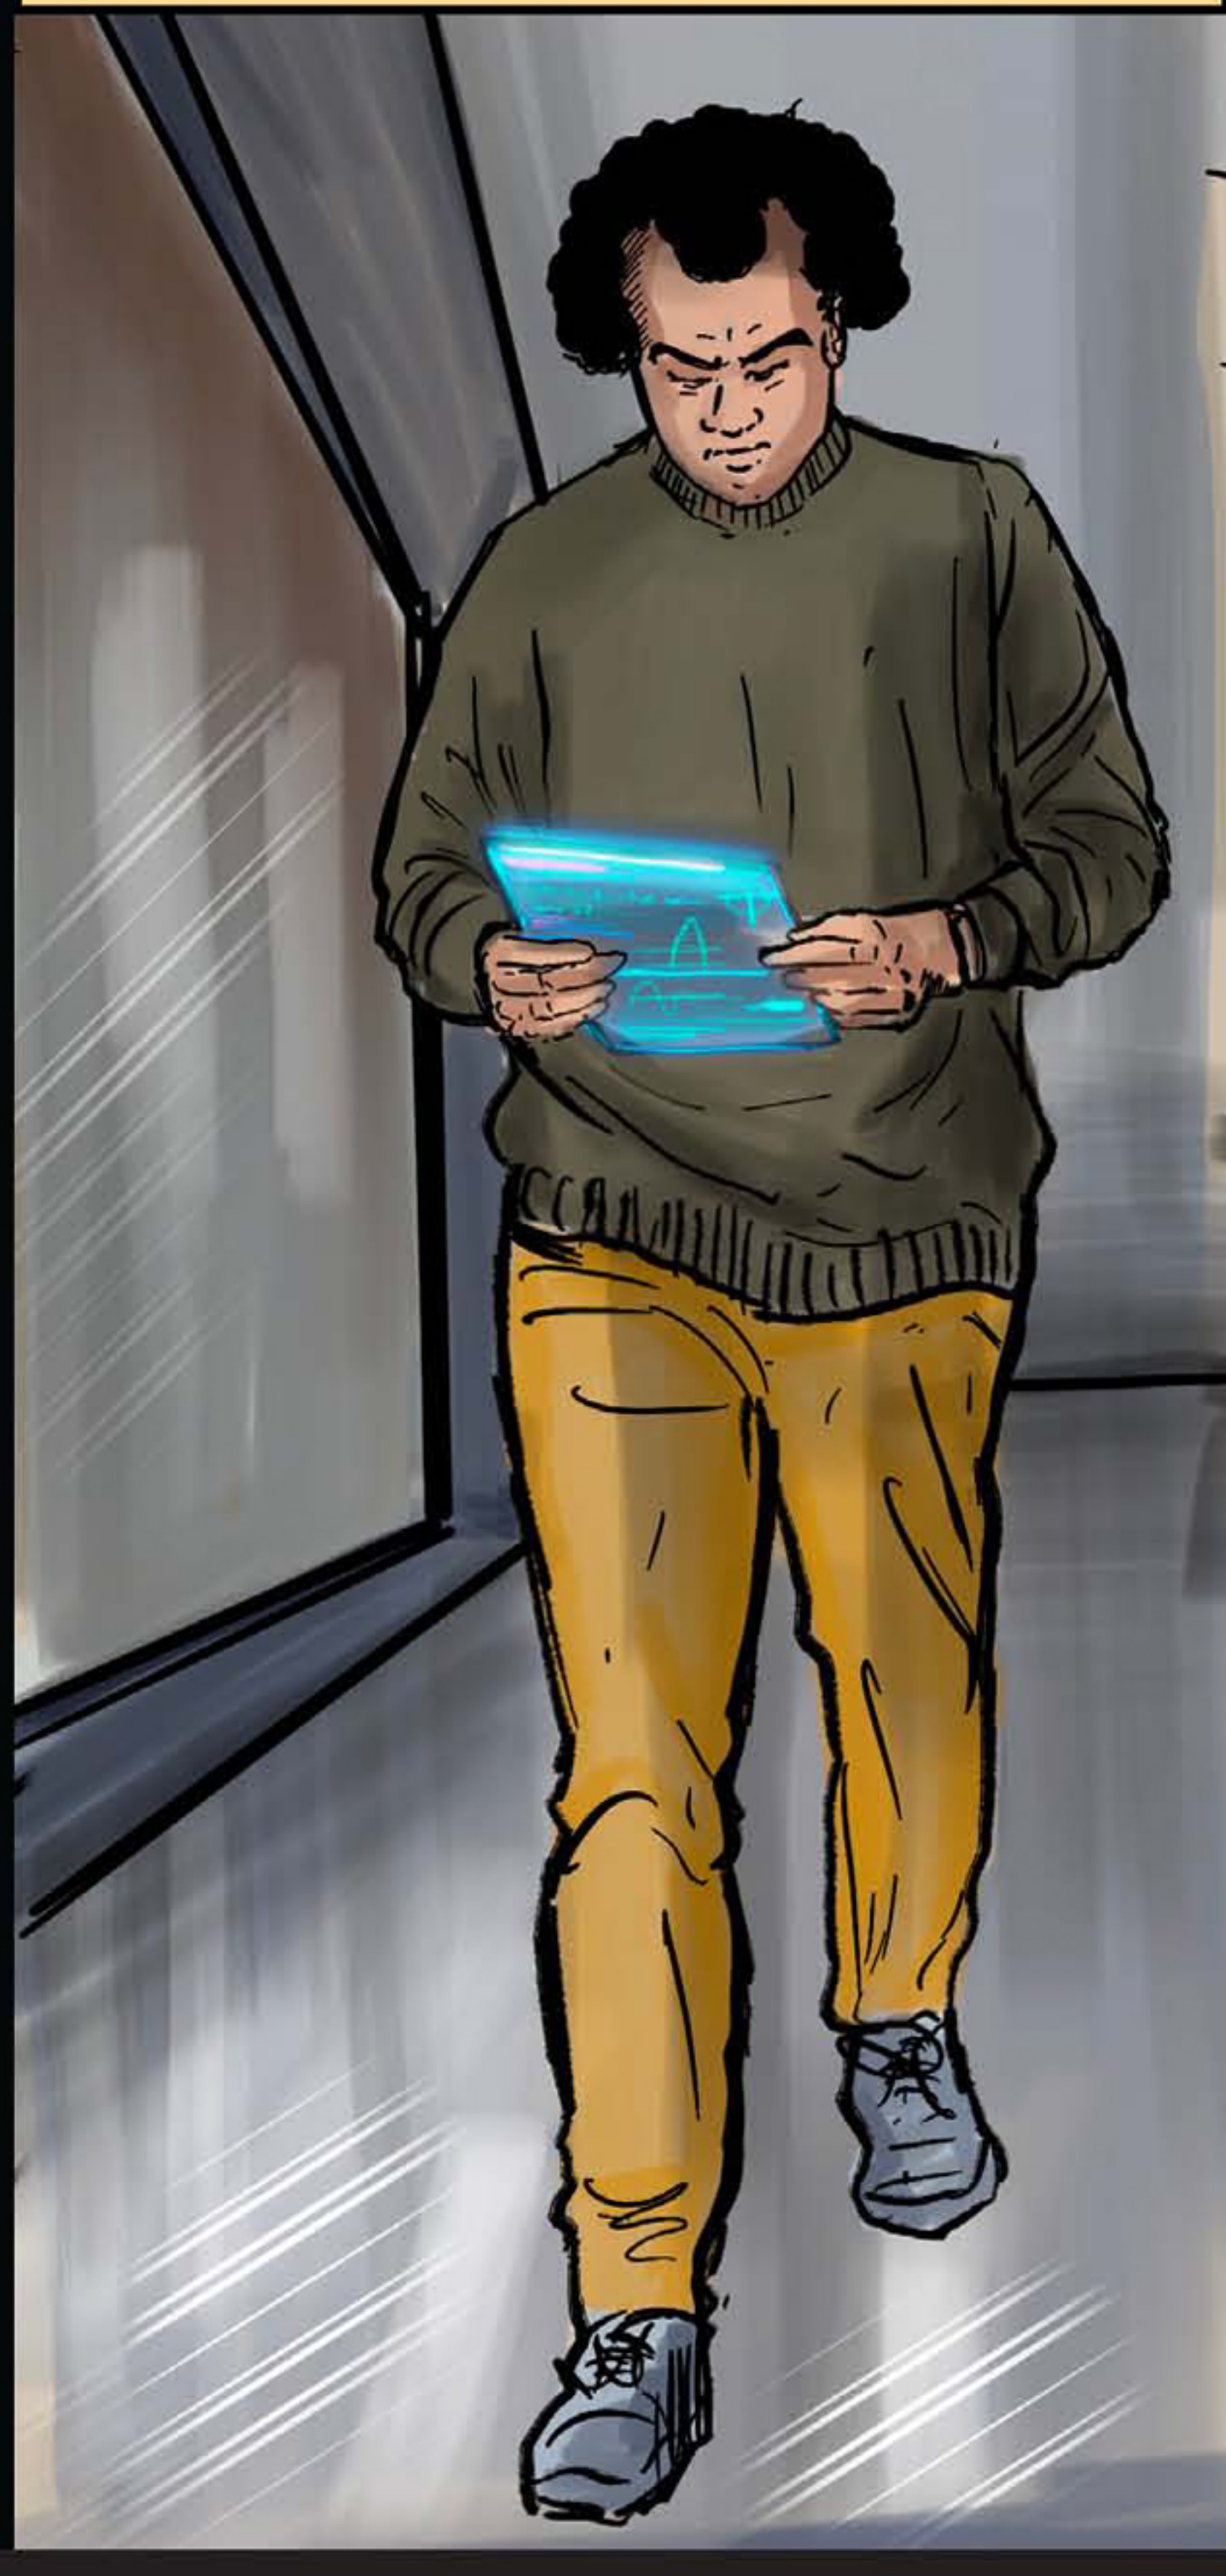

Hmm..... Yes you are right?

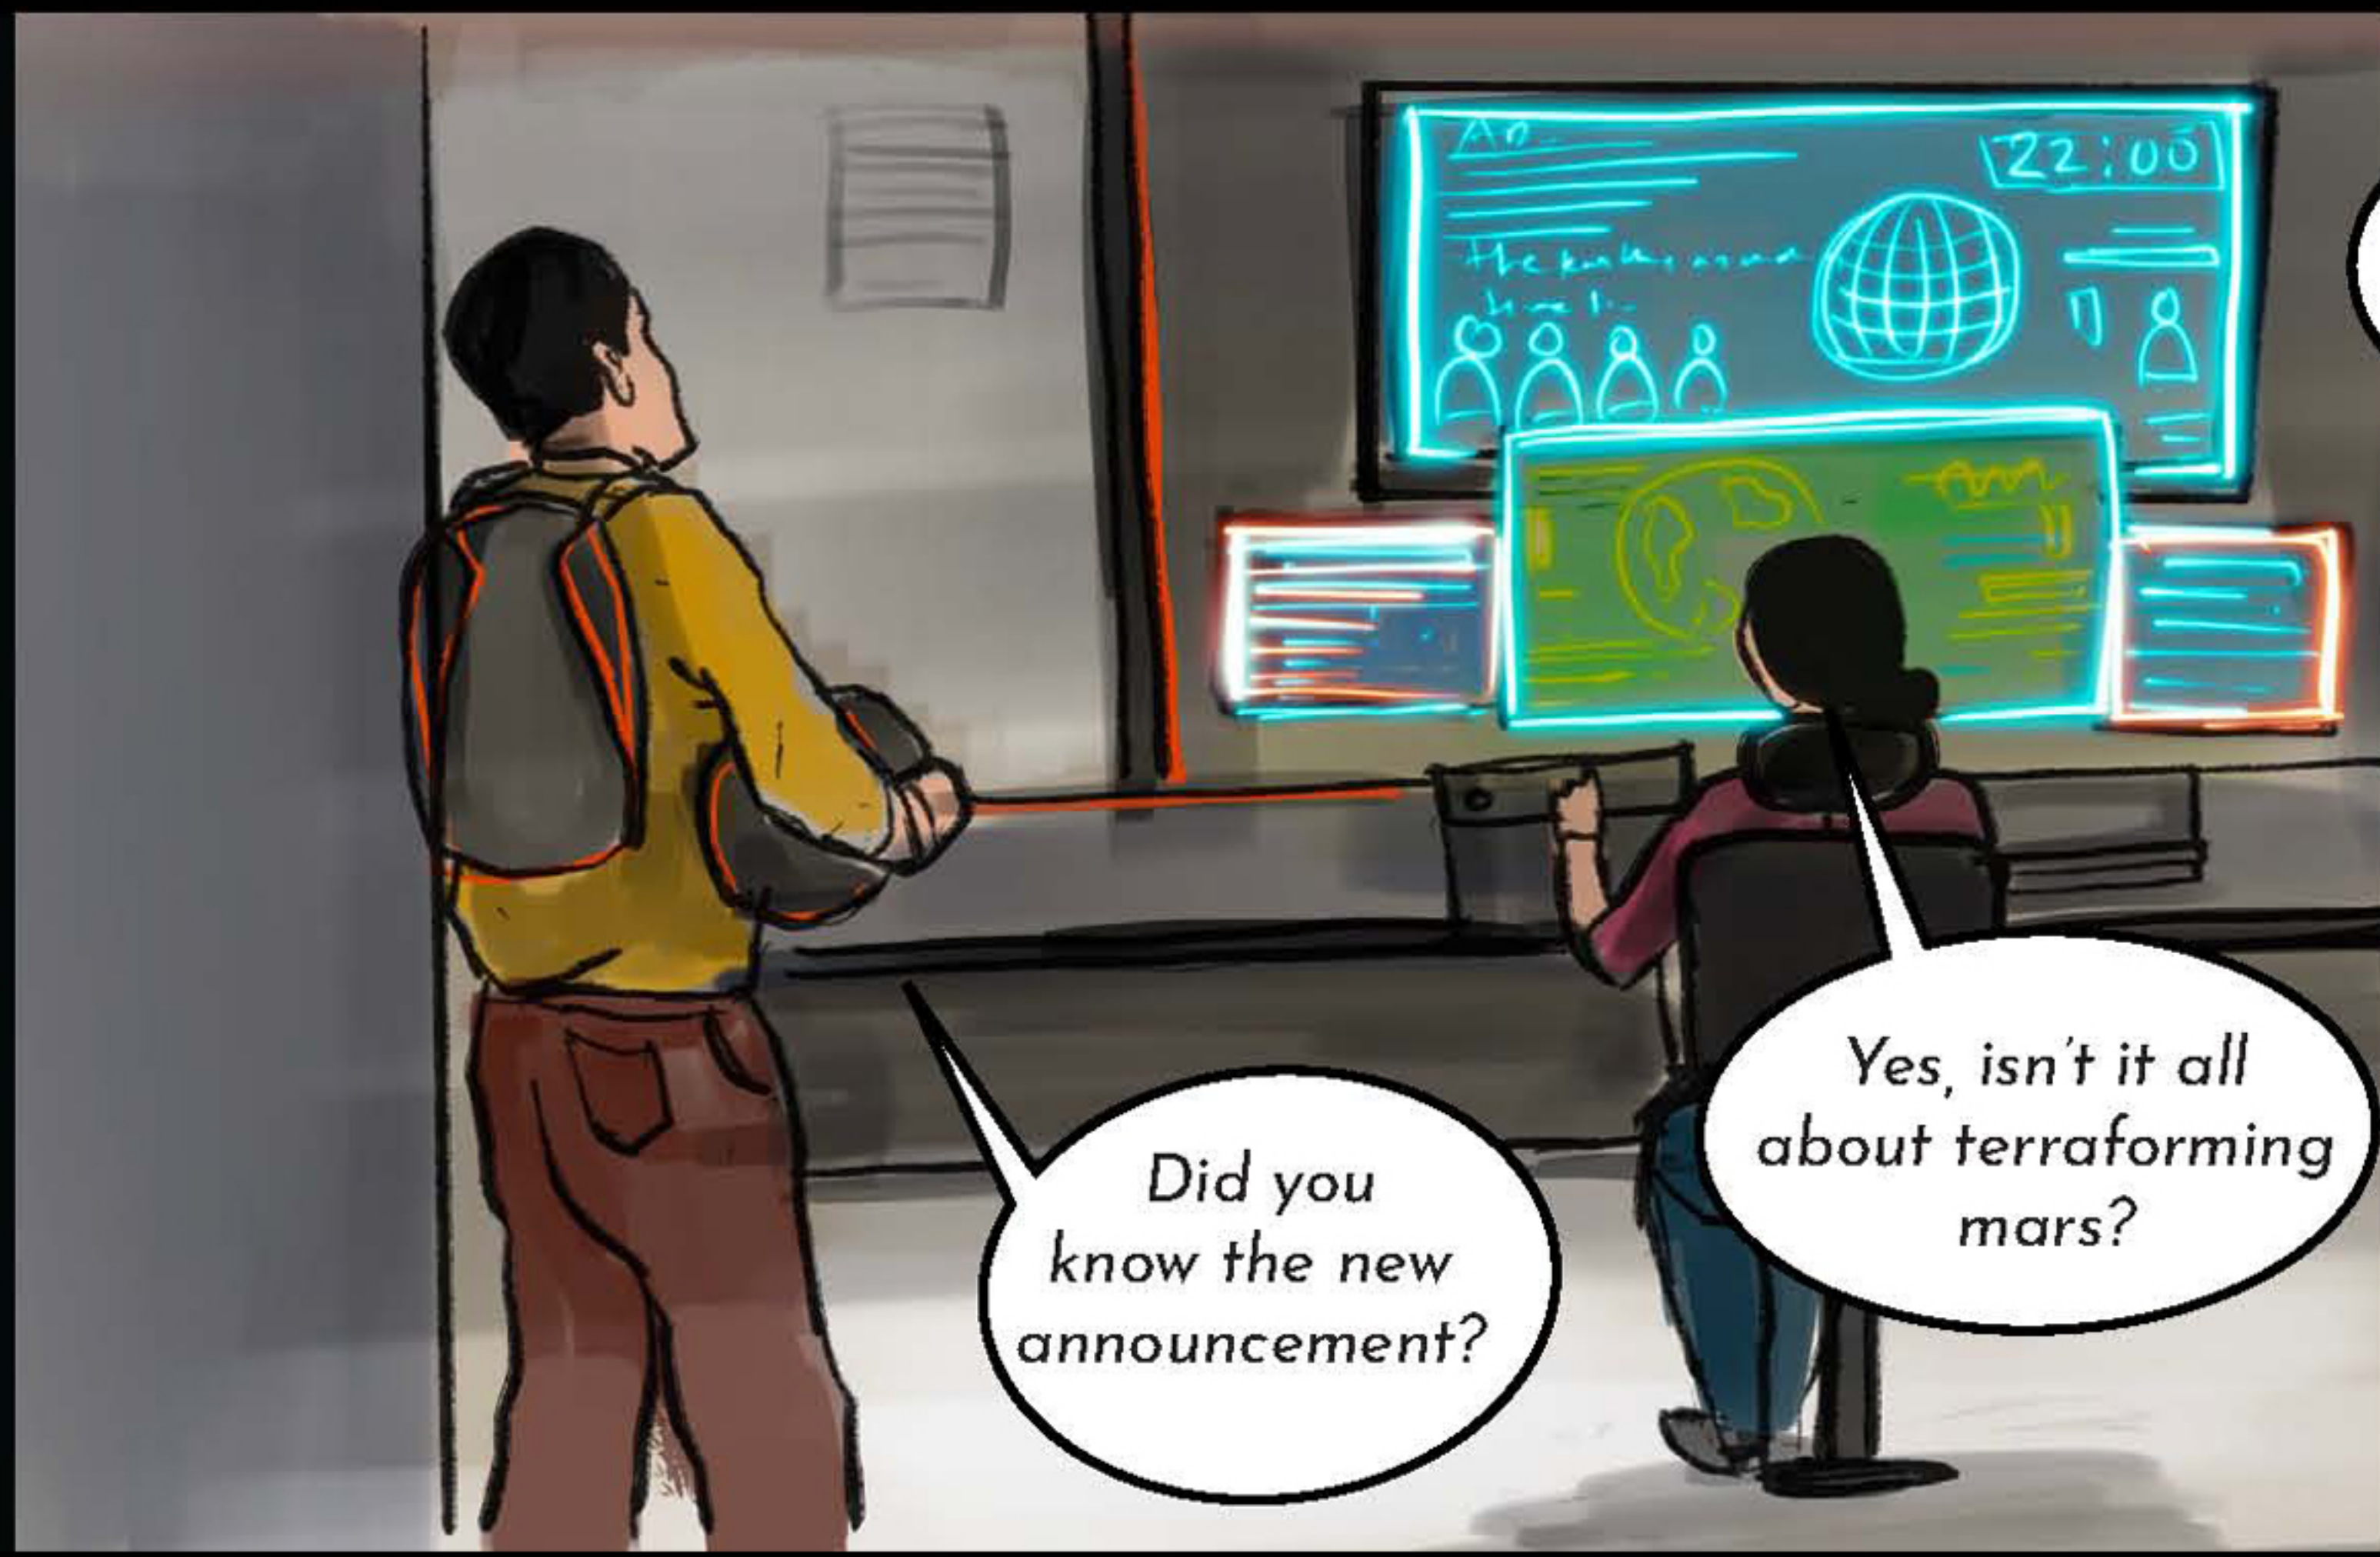

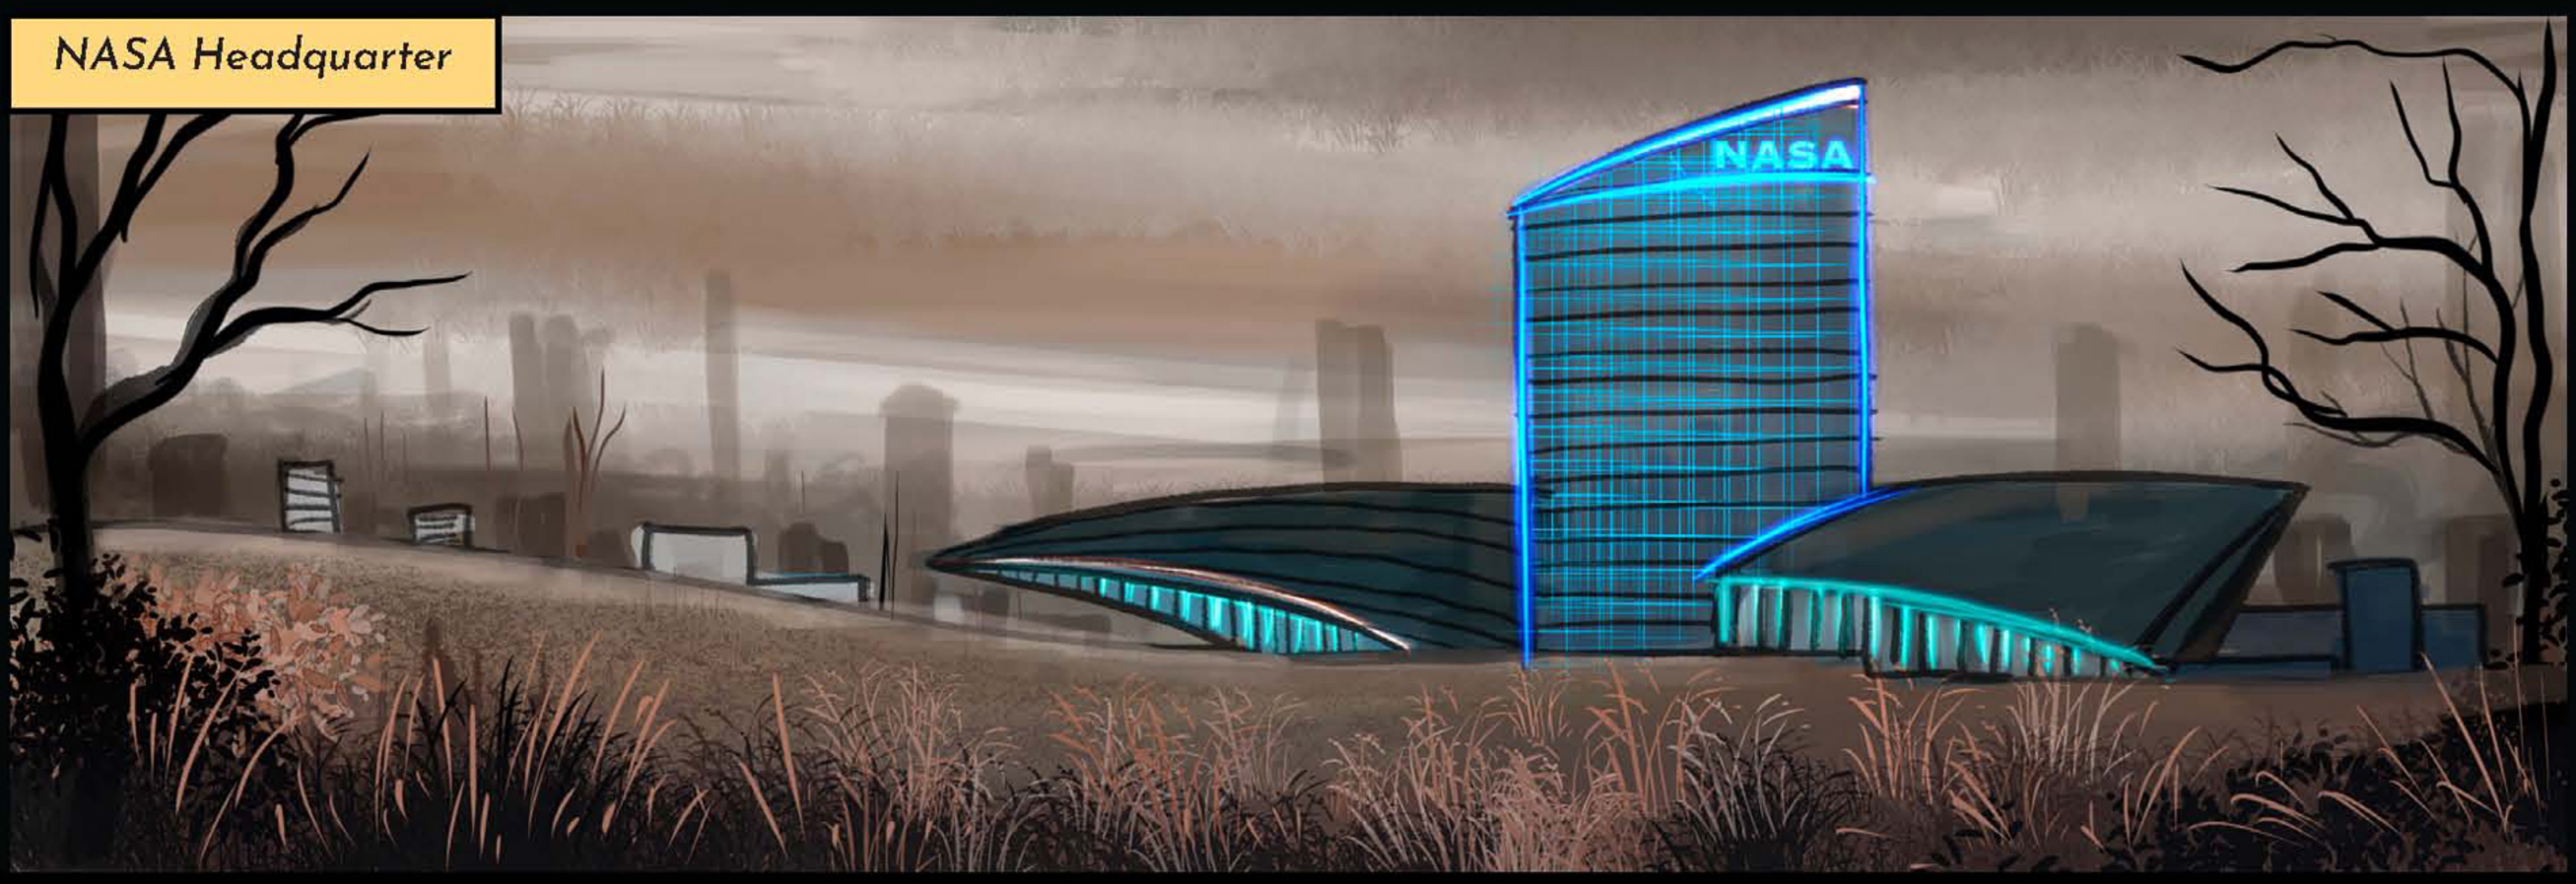

Okay, listen, everyone, we will conduct a Mars exploration mission. We need 20 people for the trip to Mars.?

A man named Dr Marco entered the lab.

NASA Headquarter

Did you know the new announcement?

Yes, isn't it all about terraforming mars?

These days I am working only on that mission, Ben.

Ohh nice.

Bootcamp headquarter

That's good. Inform the team that we have a meeting regarding the upcoming mission.

So everyone arrived right. We have to discuss the upcoming mission.

Look, this person isn't; he looks like he will kill us if we don't sign the paper? Haha aha...

Not that funny. Hey, listen carefully. He is telling about the mission.

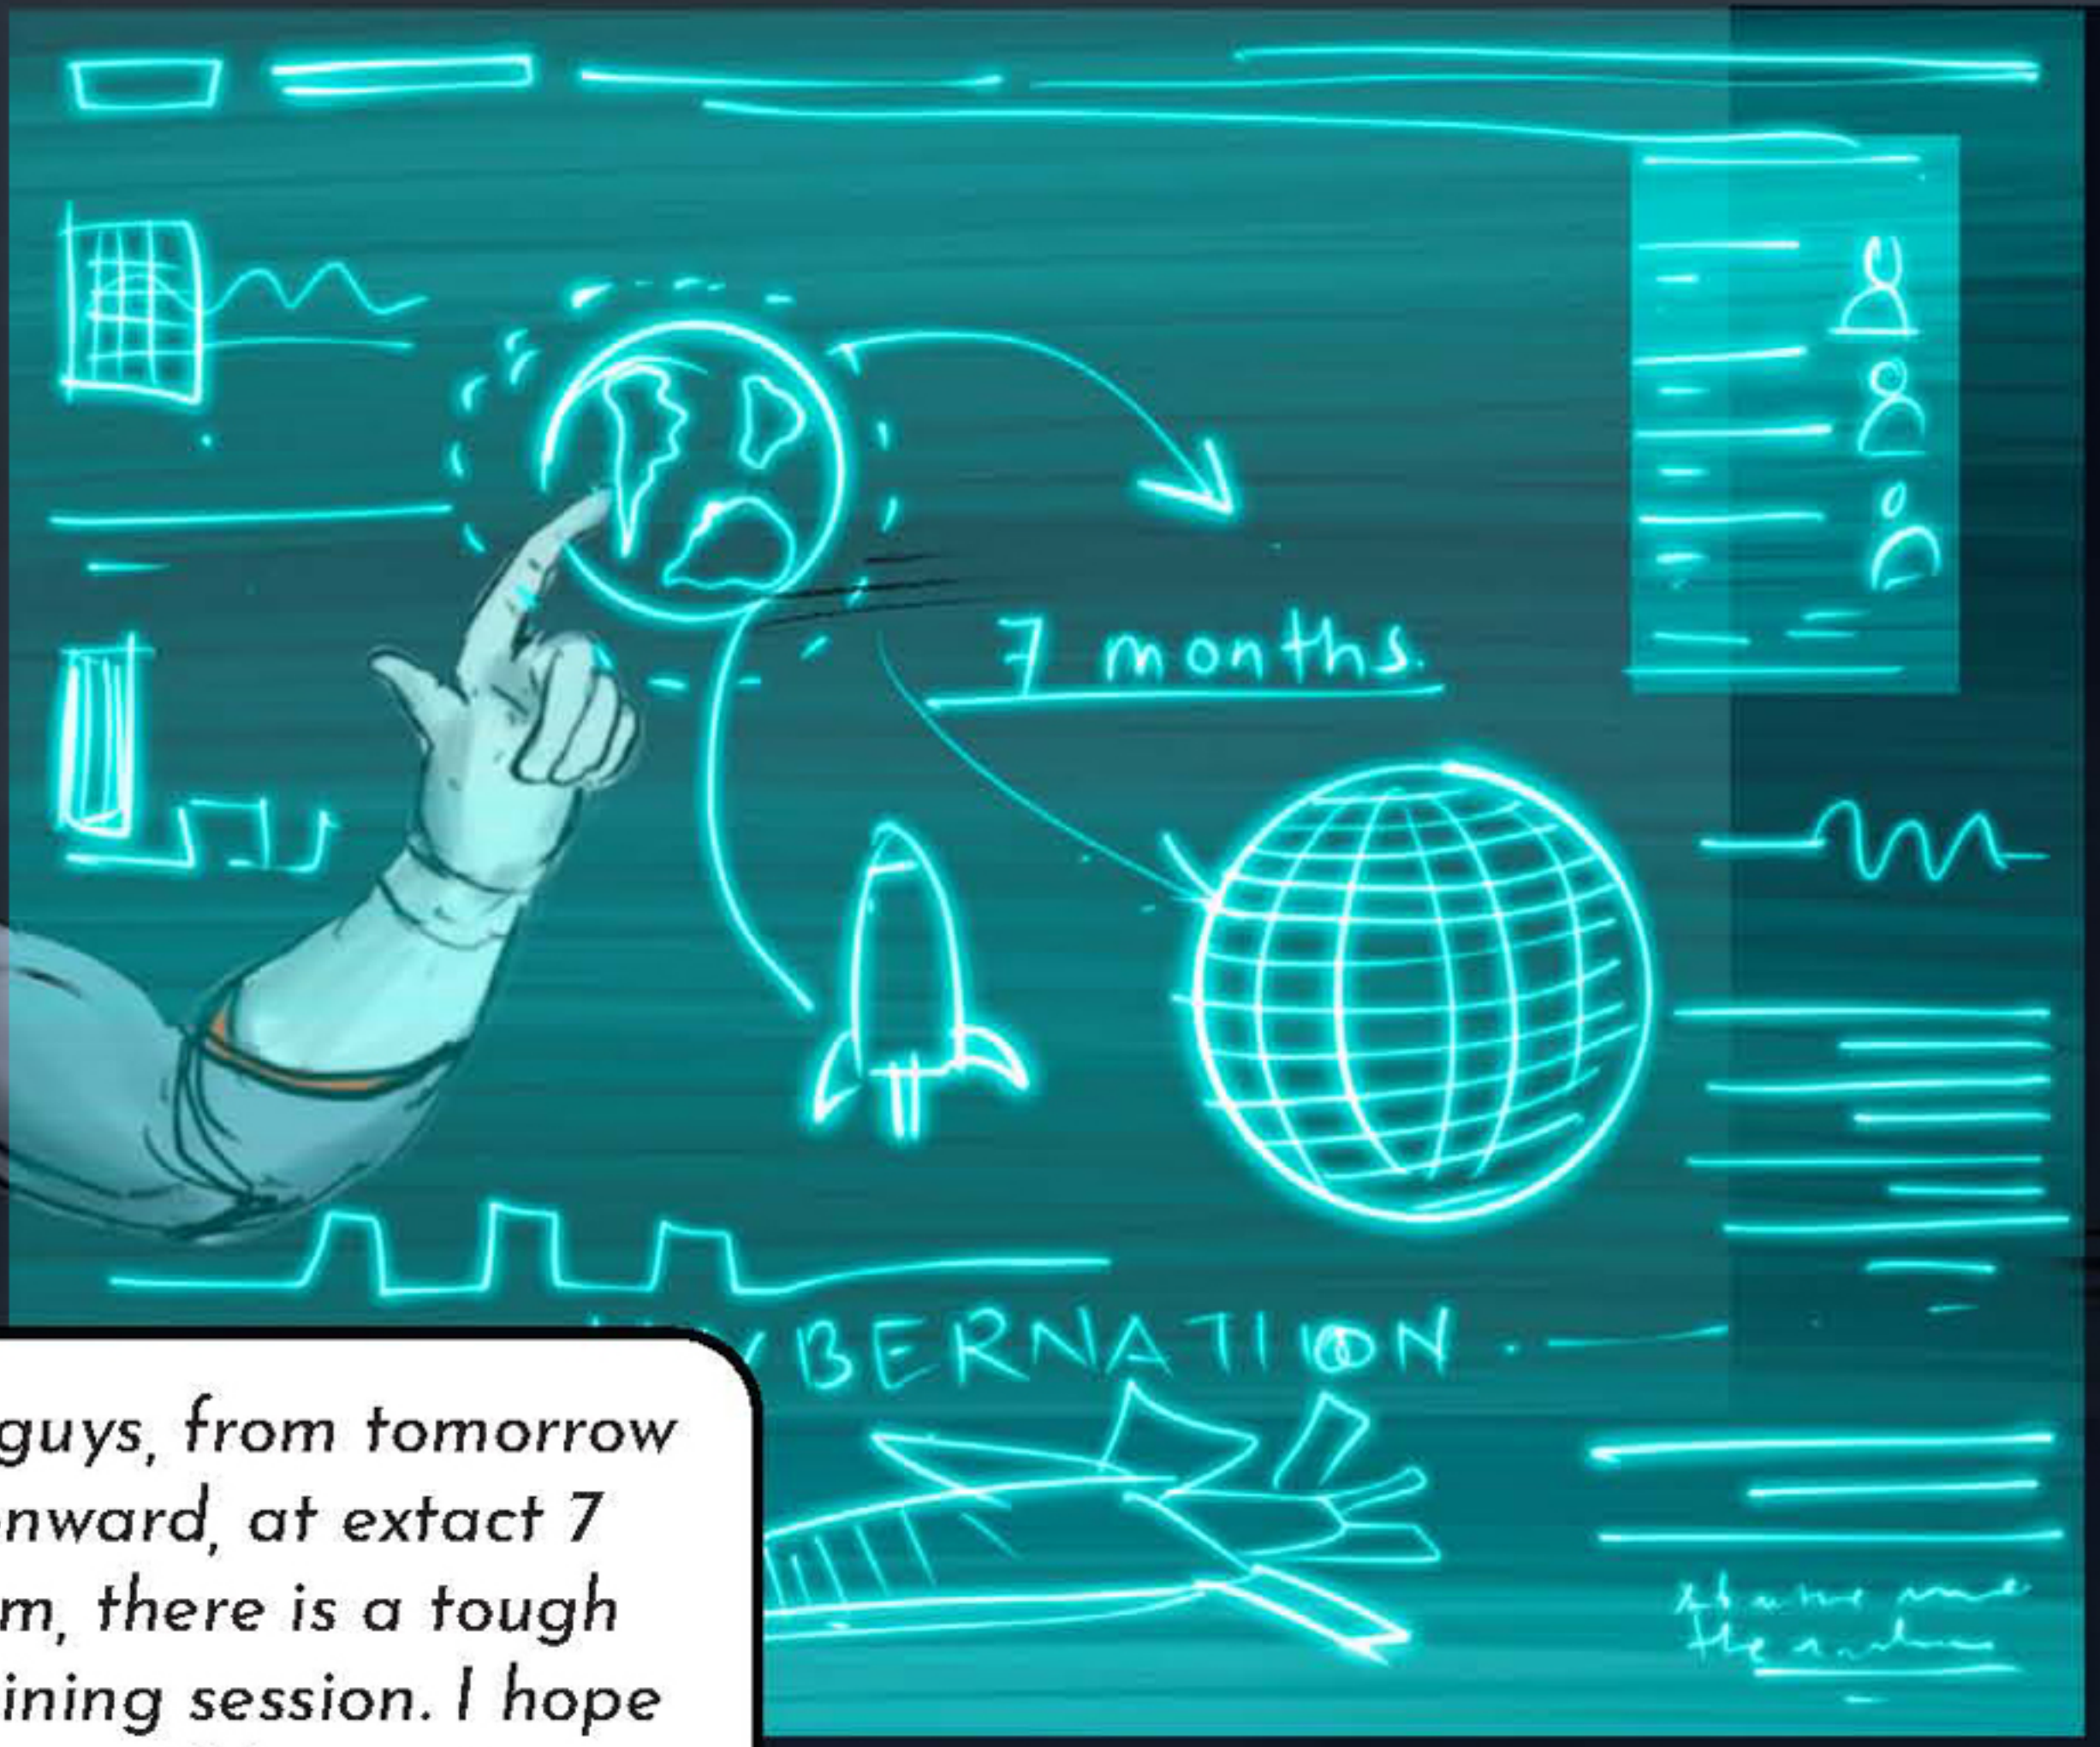

Hello everyone
I am Bryan.

I will lead the upcoming mission.

These are buildings that our robot has constructed.
And you guys
will live there for the Mars exploration programme.

So guys, from tomorrow
onward, at exact 7
Am, there is a tough training session. I hope you will be on time

Bryan shows all details about the mission.

The next day crew member reached the training station.

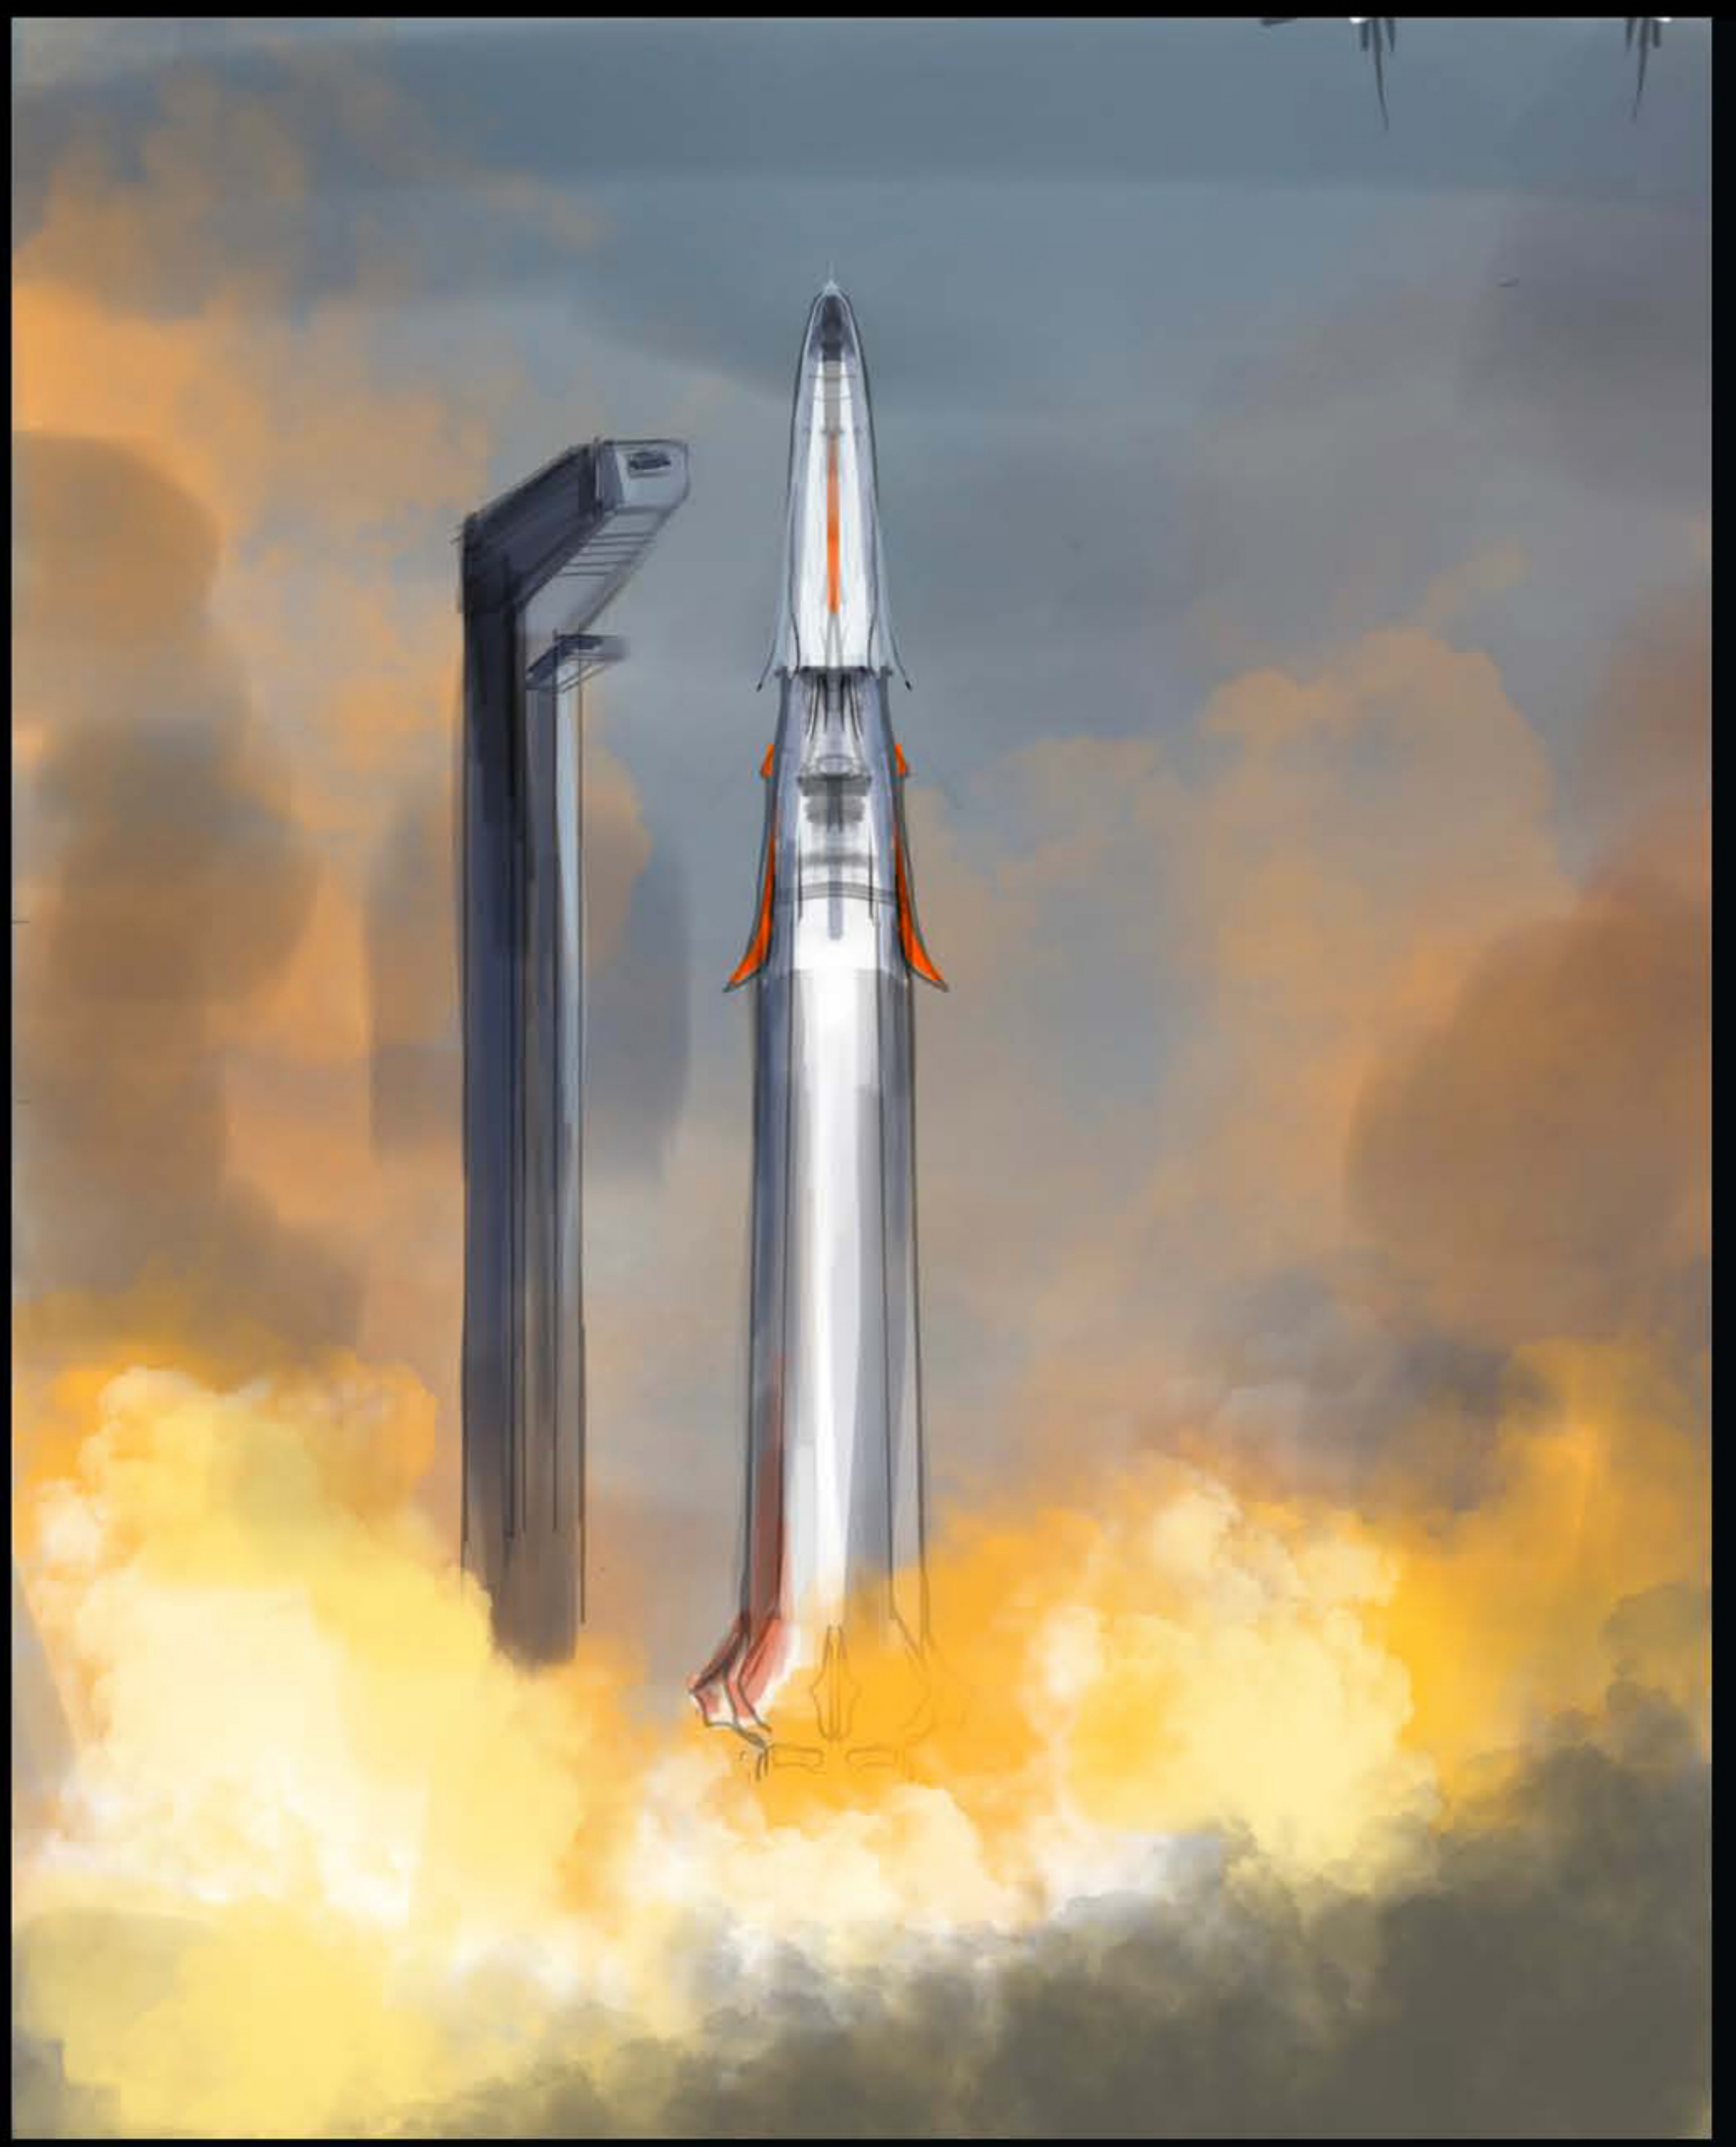

After three months of the training programme.

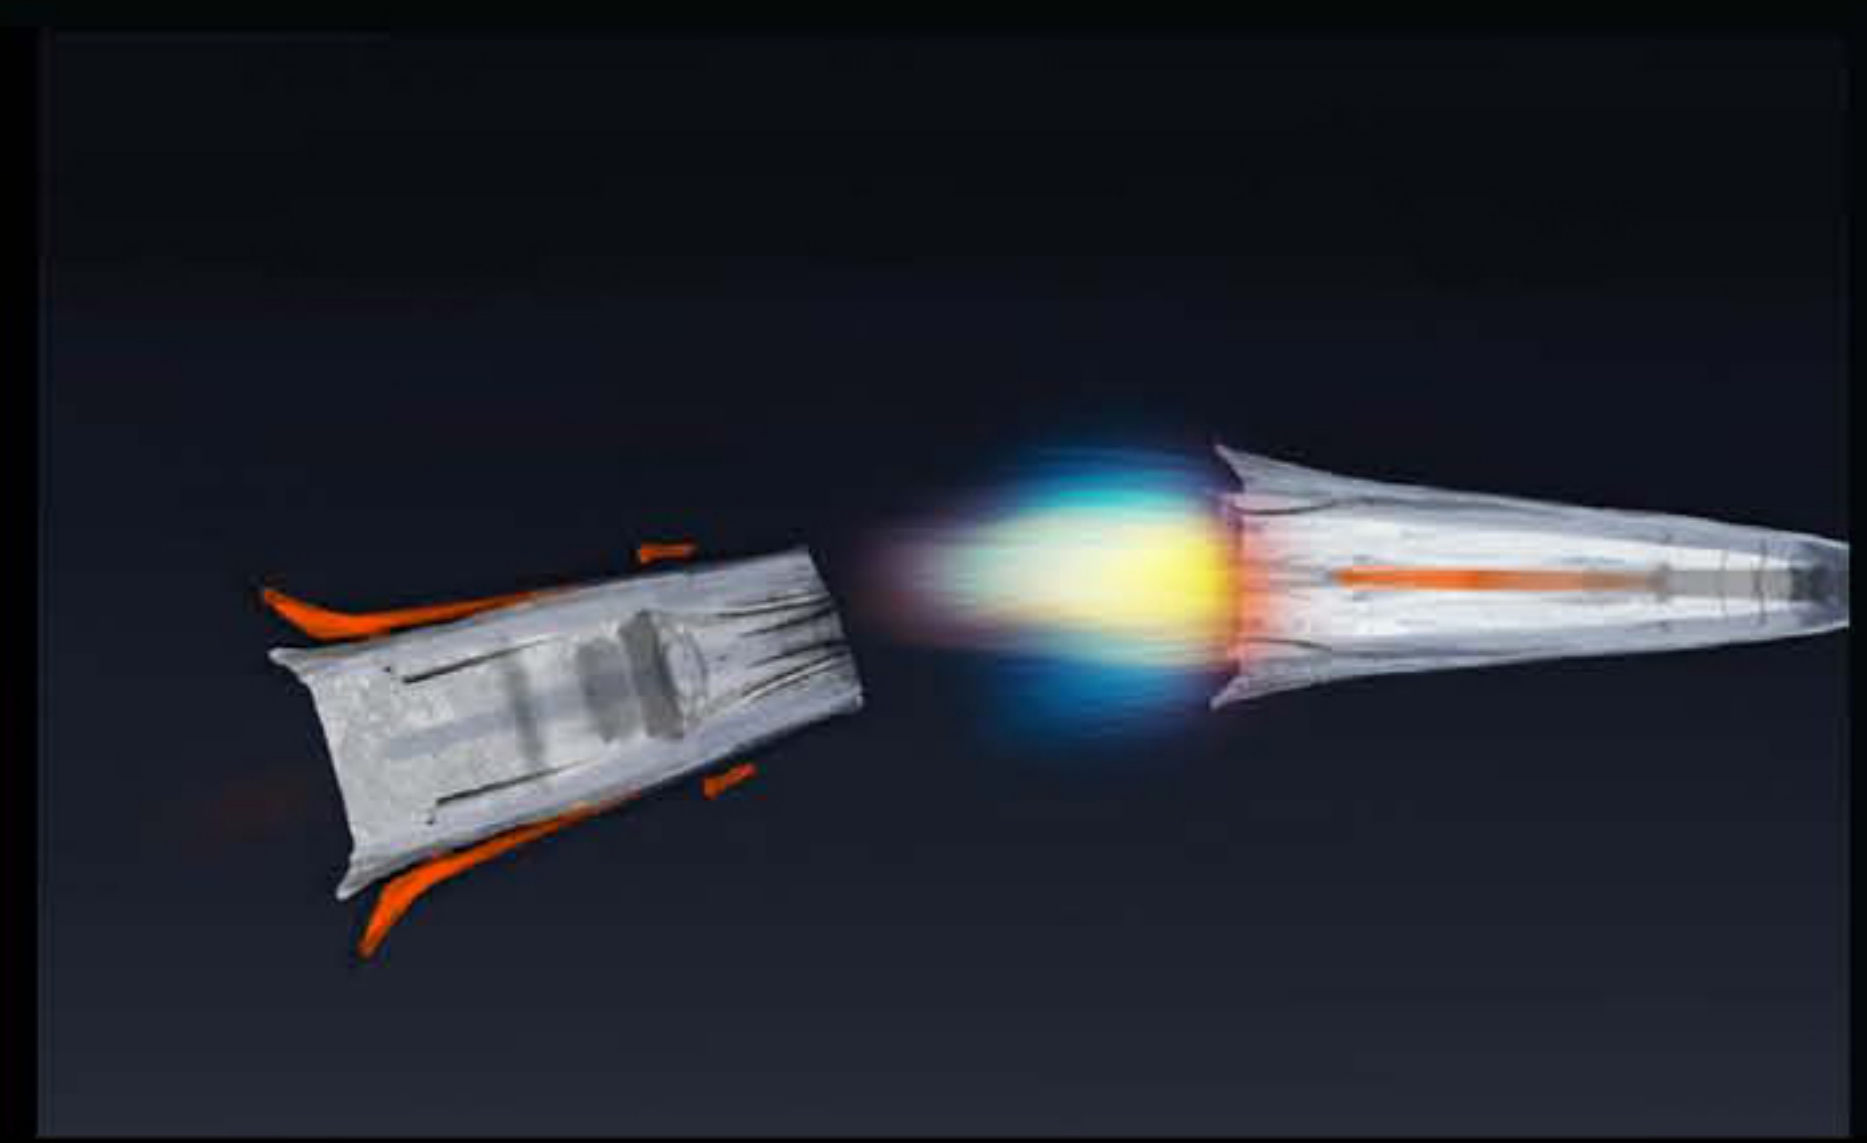

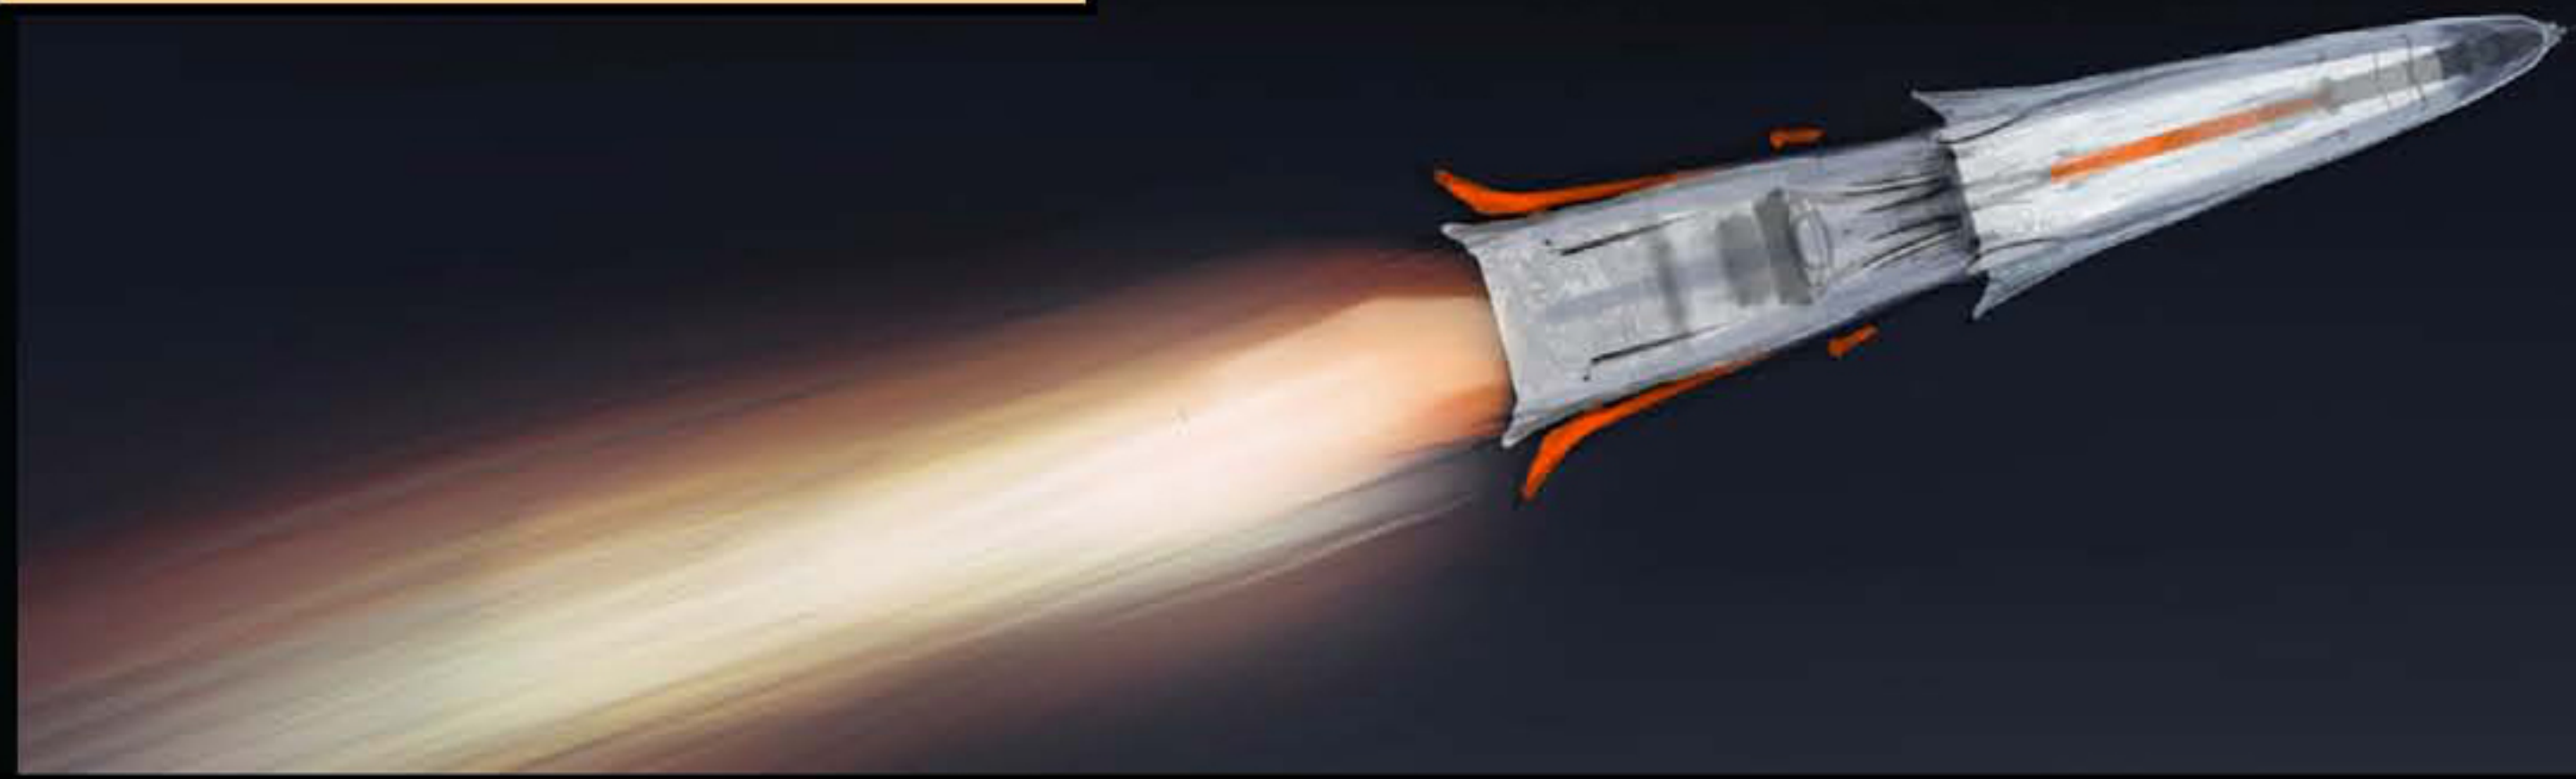

The spaceship is ready to launch.

Each member of 20 people is walking on the bridge (the bridge that connects the station to the spaceship).

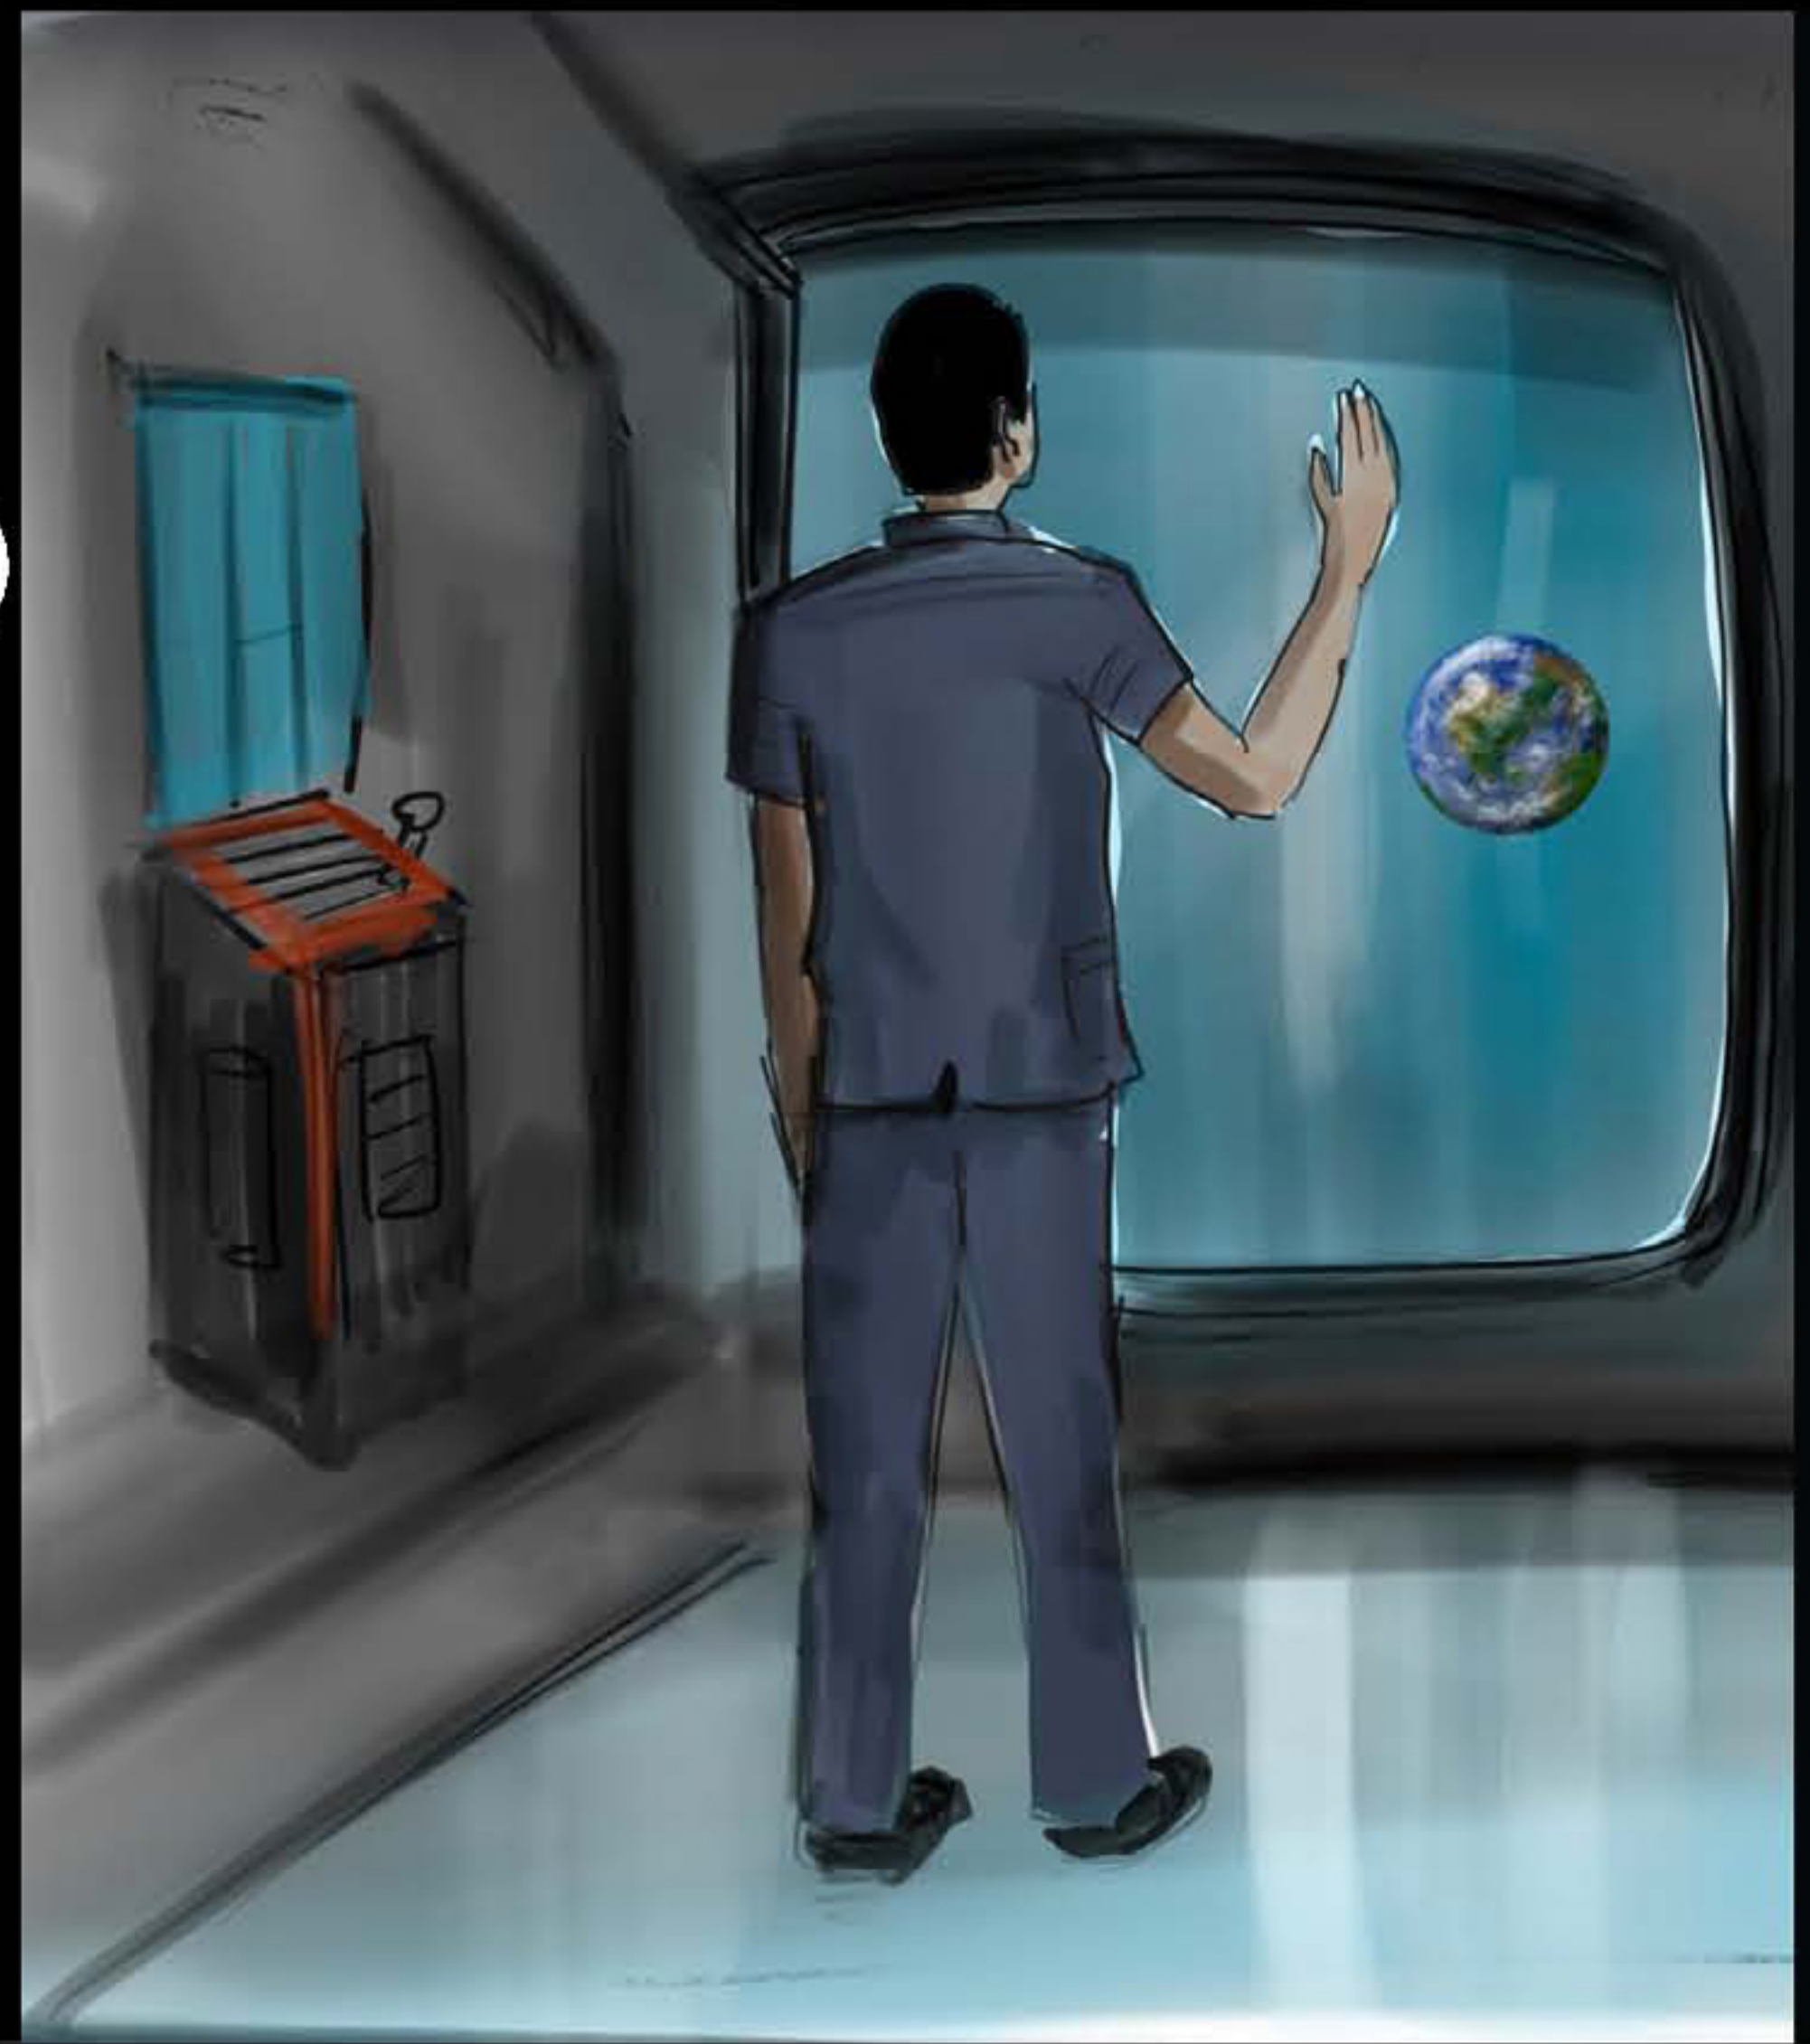

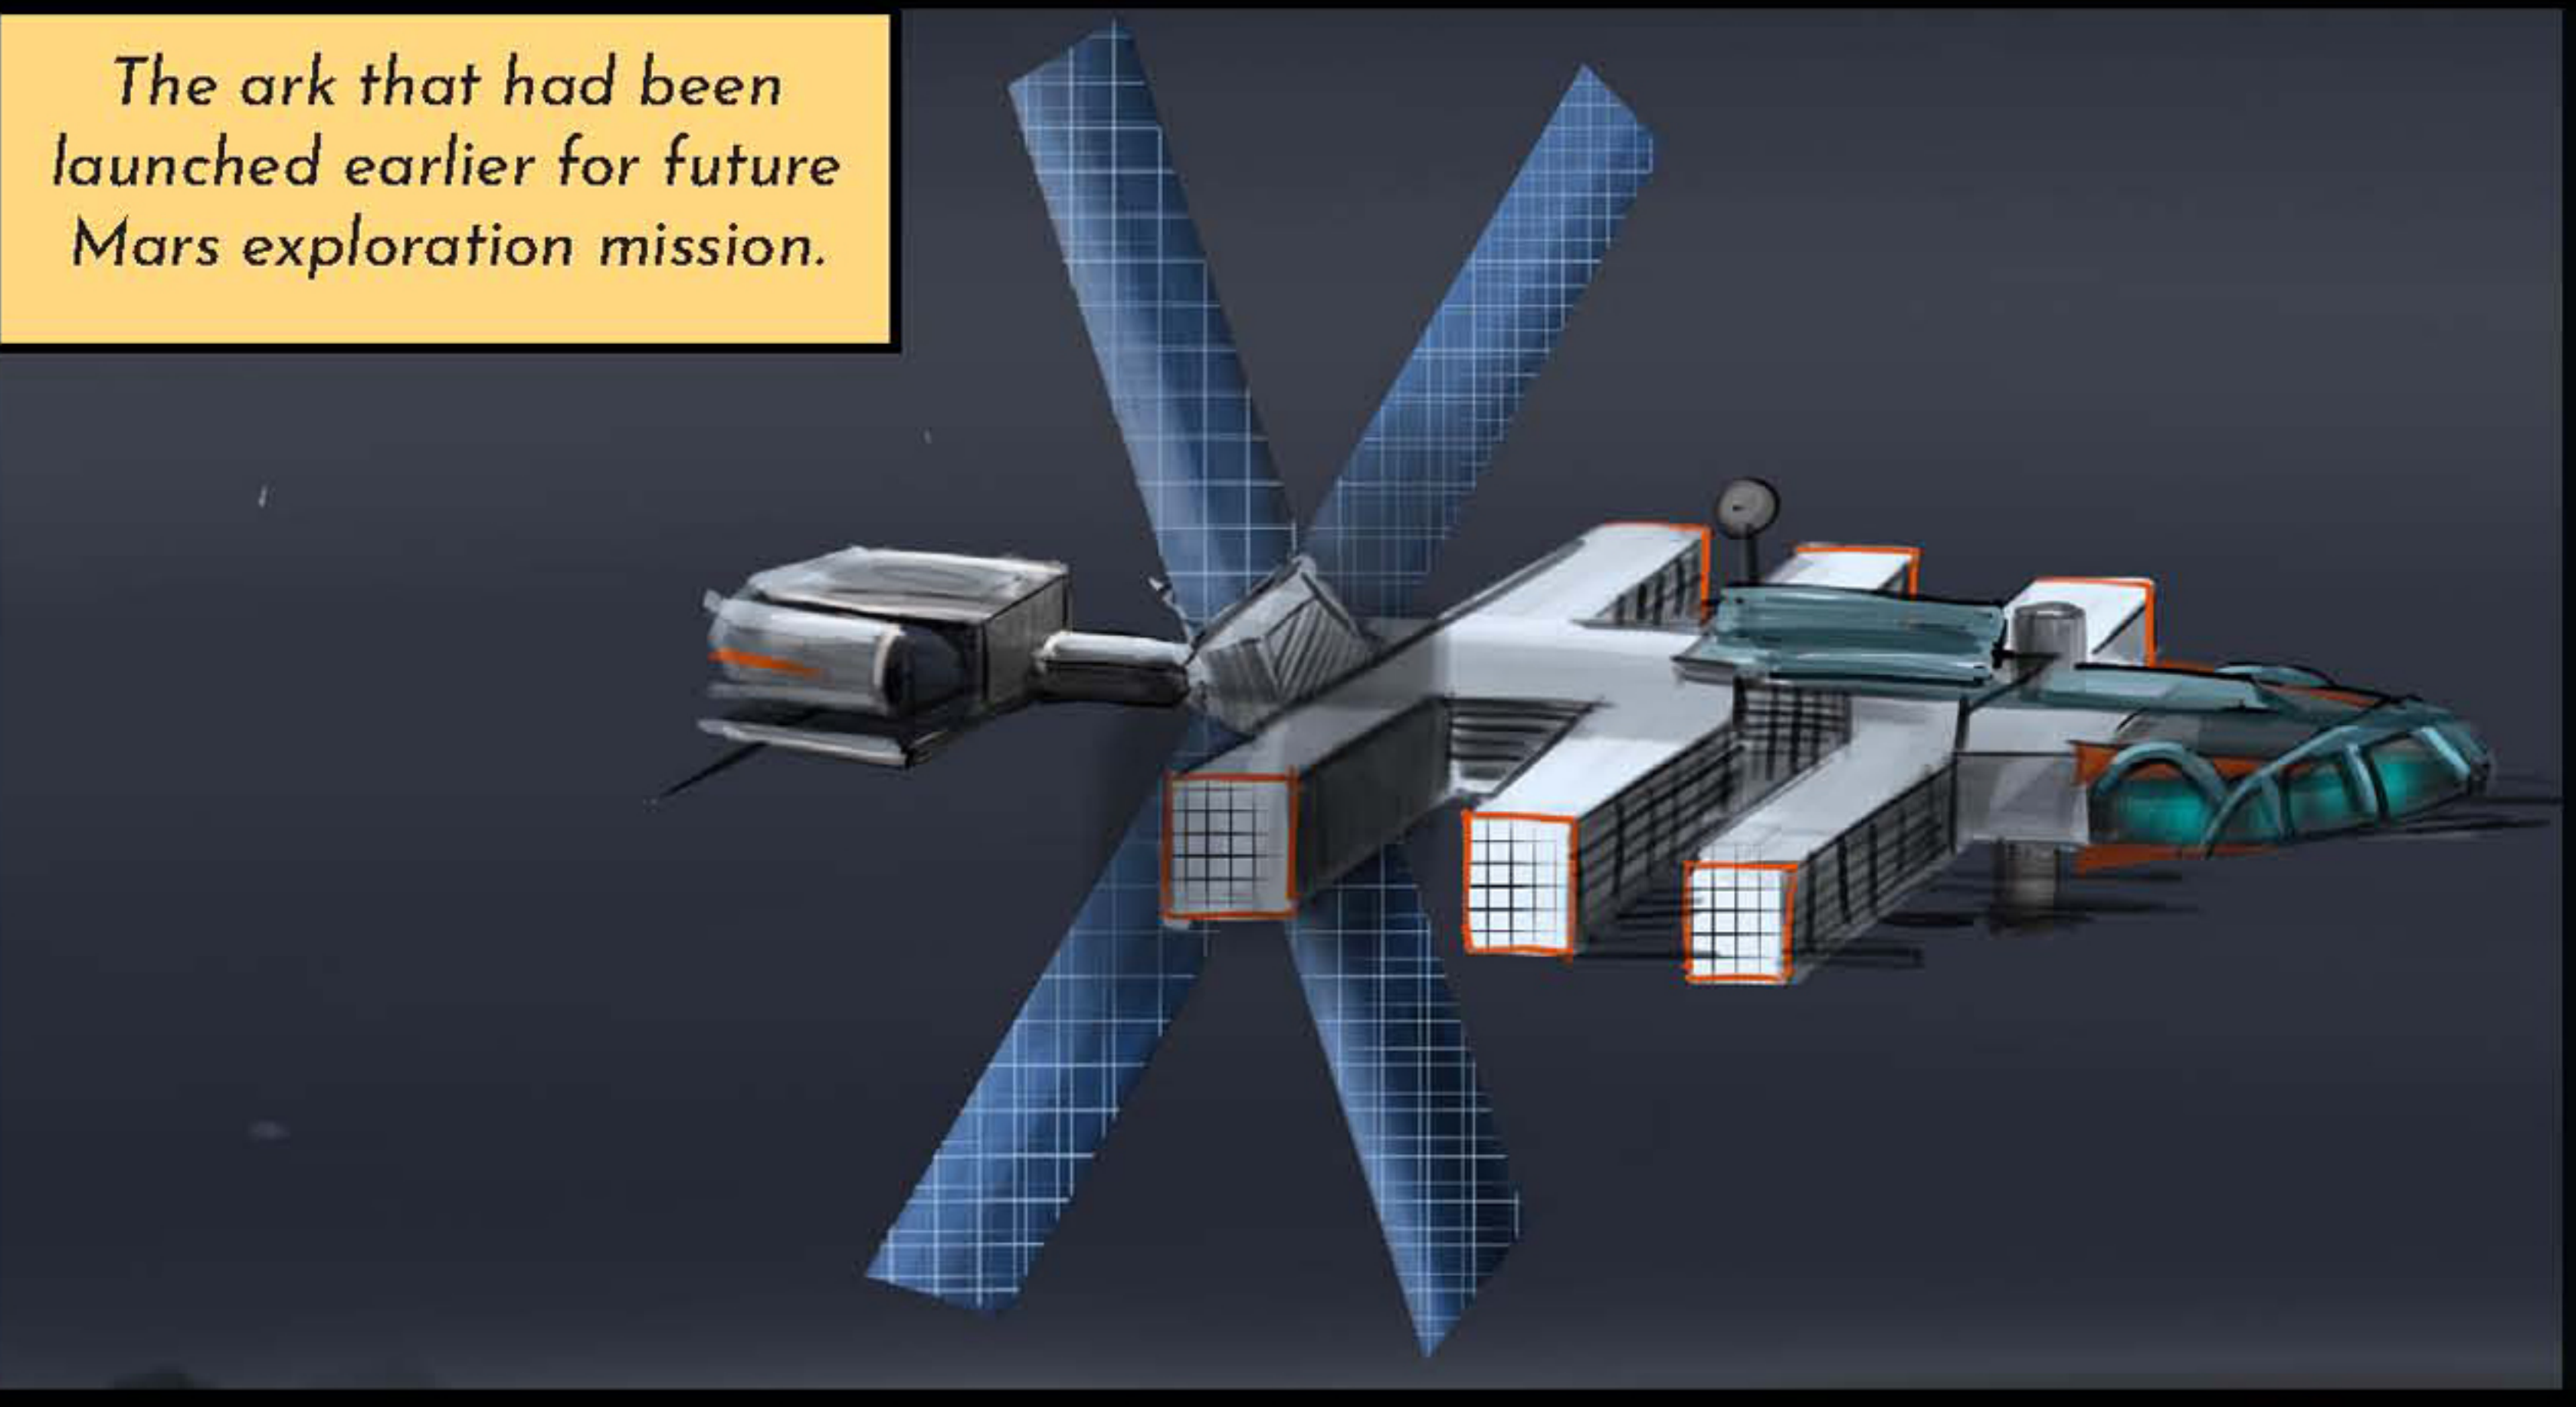

Now spaceship is changing its ignition section one by one.

Final spacecraft lands on space ark.

The ark that had been launched earlier for future Mars exploration mission.

People are playing card game.

So we are going to go to the hibernation state. Please get back to your respective chamber.

What is wrong with this guy! can't we have more time before that boring hibernation.

Anyway, I will take a chance to sleep for long periods.

This is the list of people who will go first in a hibernation state. Lara, you will take incharge of that.

People are going in respective hibernation state.

It seems like you knew already all the connection of that hibernation.

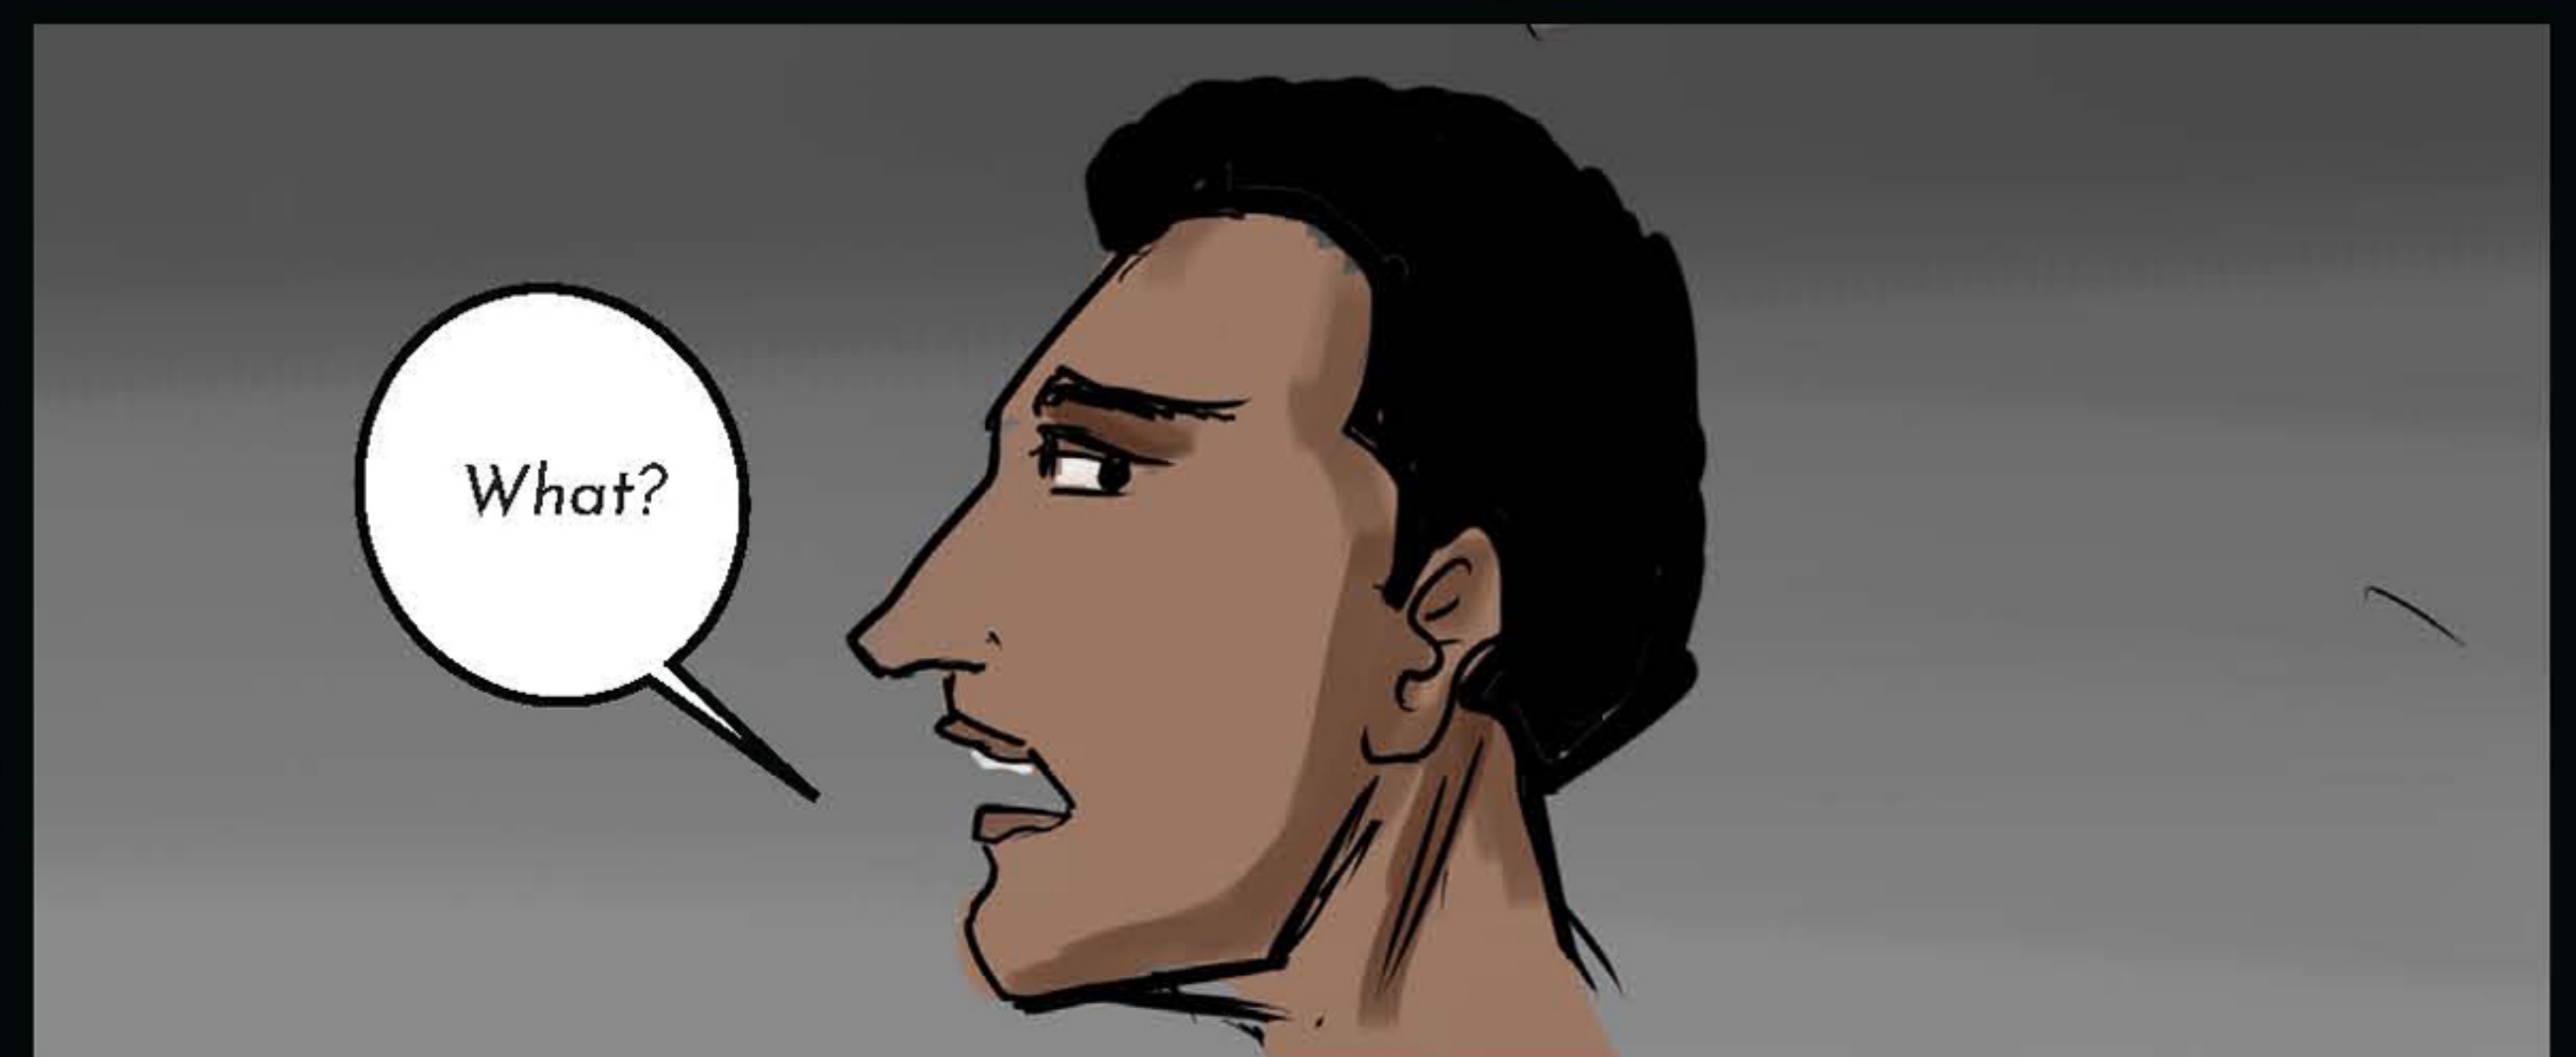

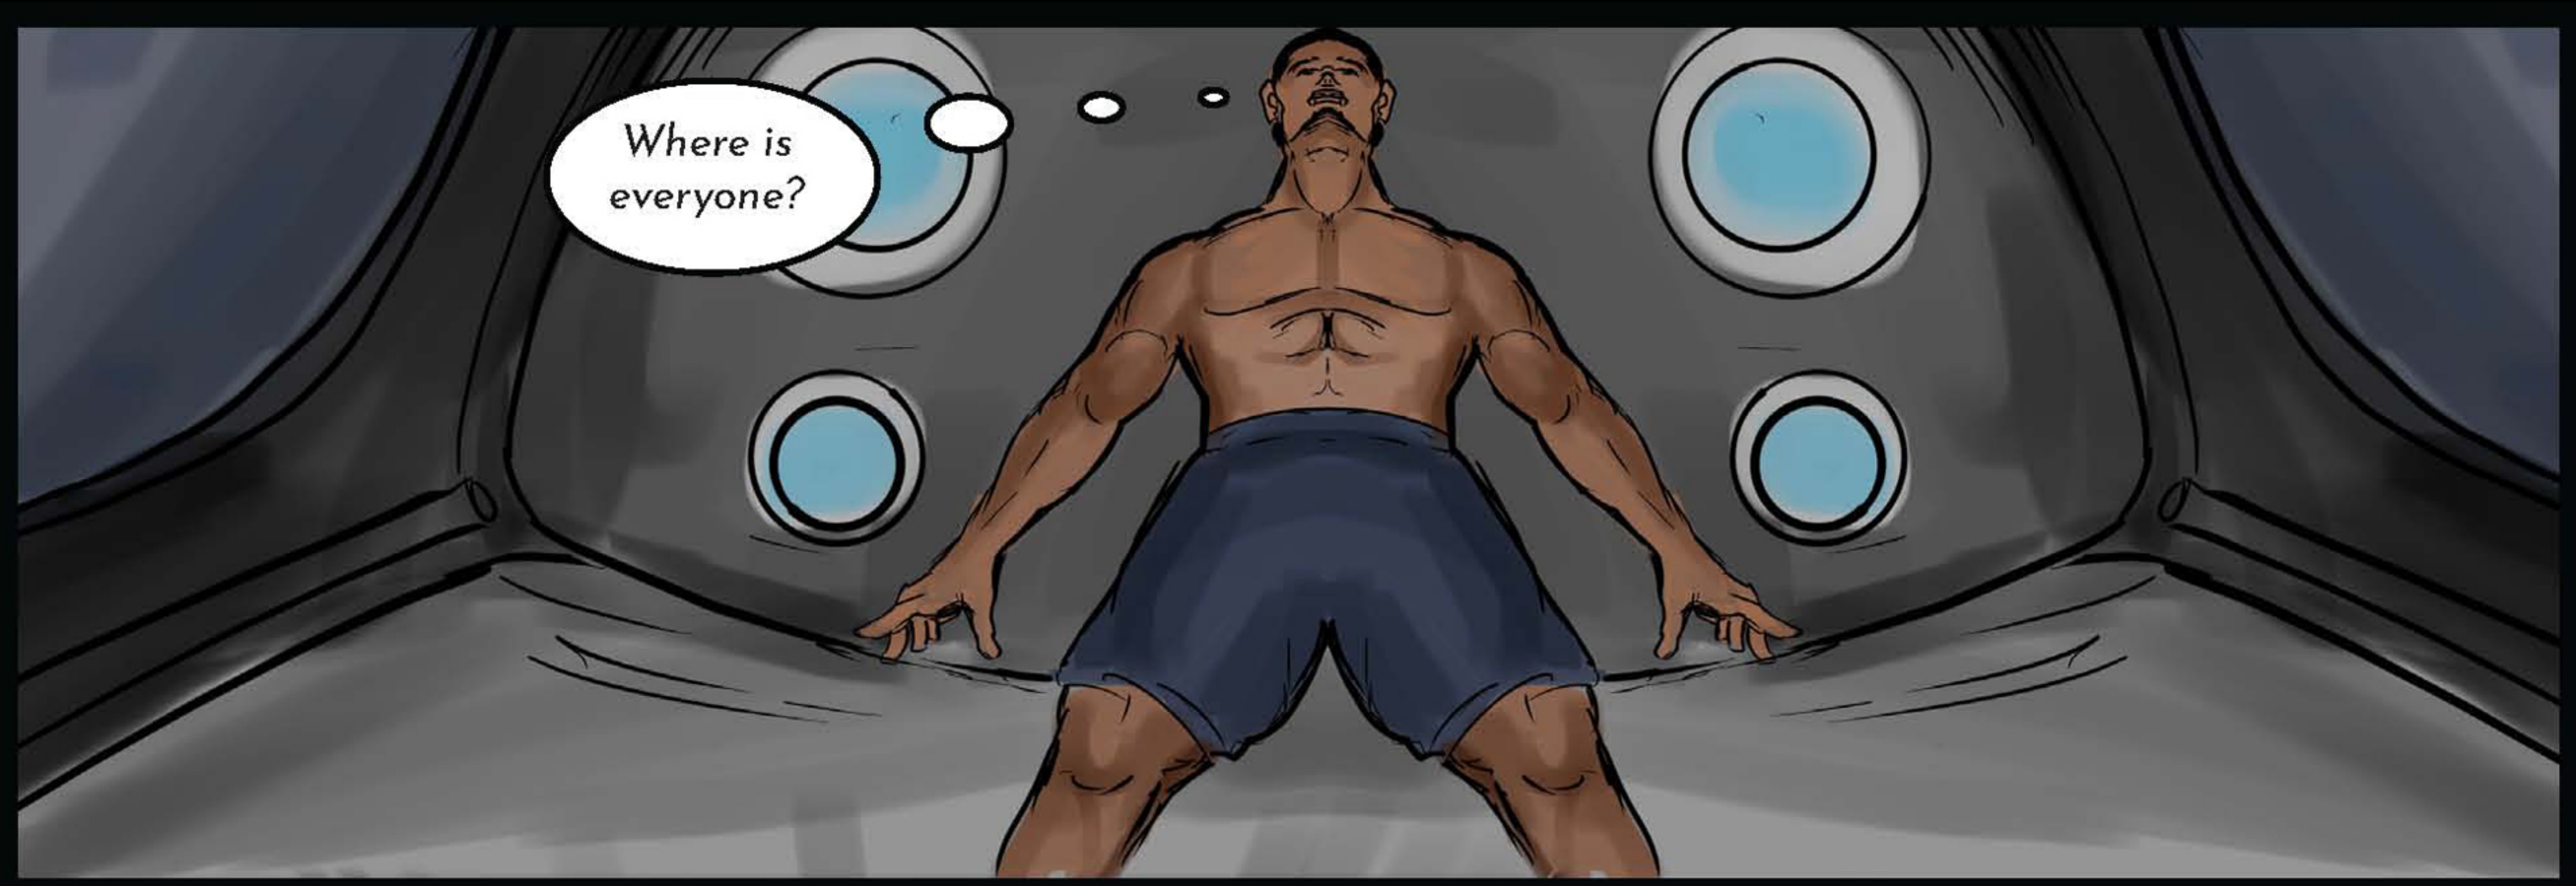

Yeah... i guess so.

One week later

What is that sound?

Something happened there I have to check.

BEEP BEEP

Some part of space ark is destroyed due to asteroid attack.

Sir, Section 12 got some serious system error due to an asteroid attack

Yeah we are okay.

Are you guys all right?

Where is Bryan? I couldn't find him.

Look over there, That's Bryan.

lock this section from your side.

I have to look at section 12

You and I both know that it's one way round.

And if I won't make that, take over the mission.

There must be another way, Mr Bryan

BHAM

He is going to detaching that connection from that side so that it won't affect the final chamber.

There must be another way, Mr
Bryan

Hey anna, show me the details for the system error.

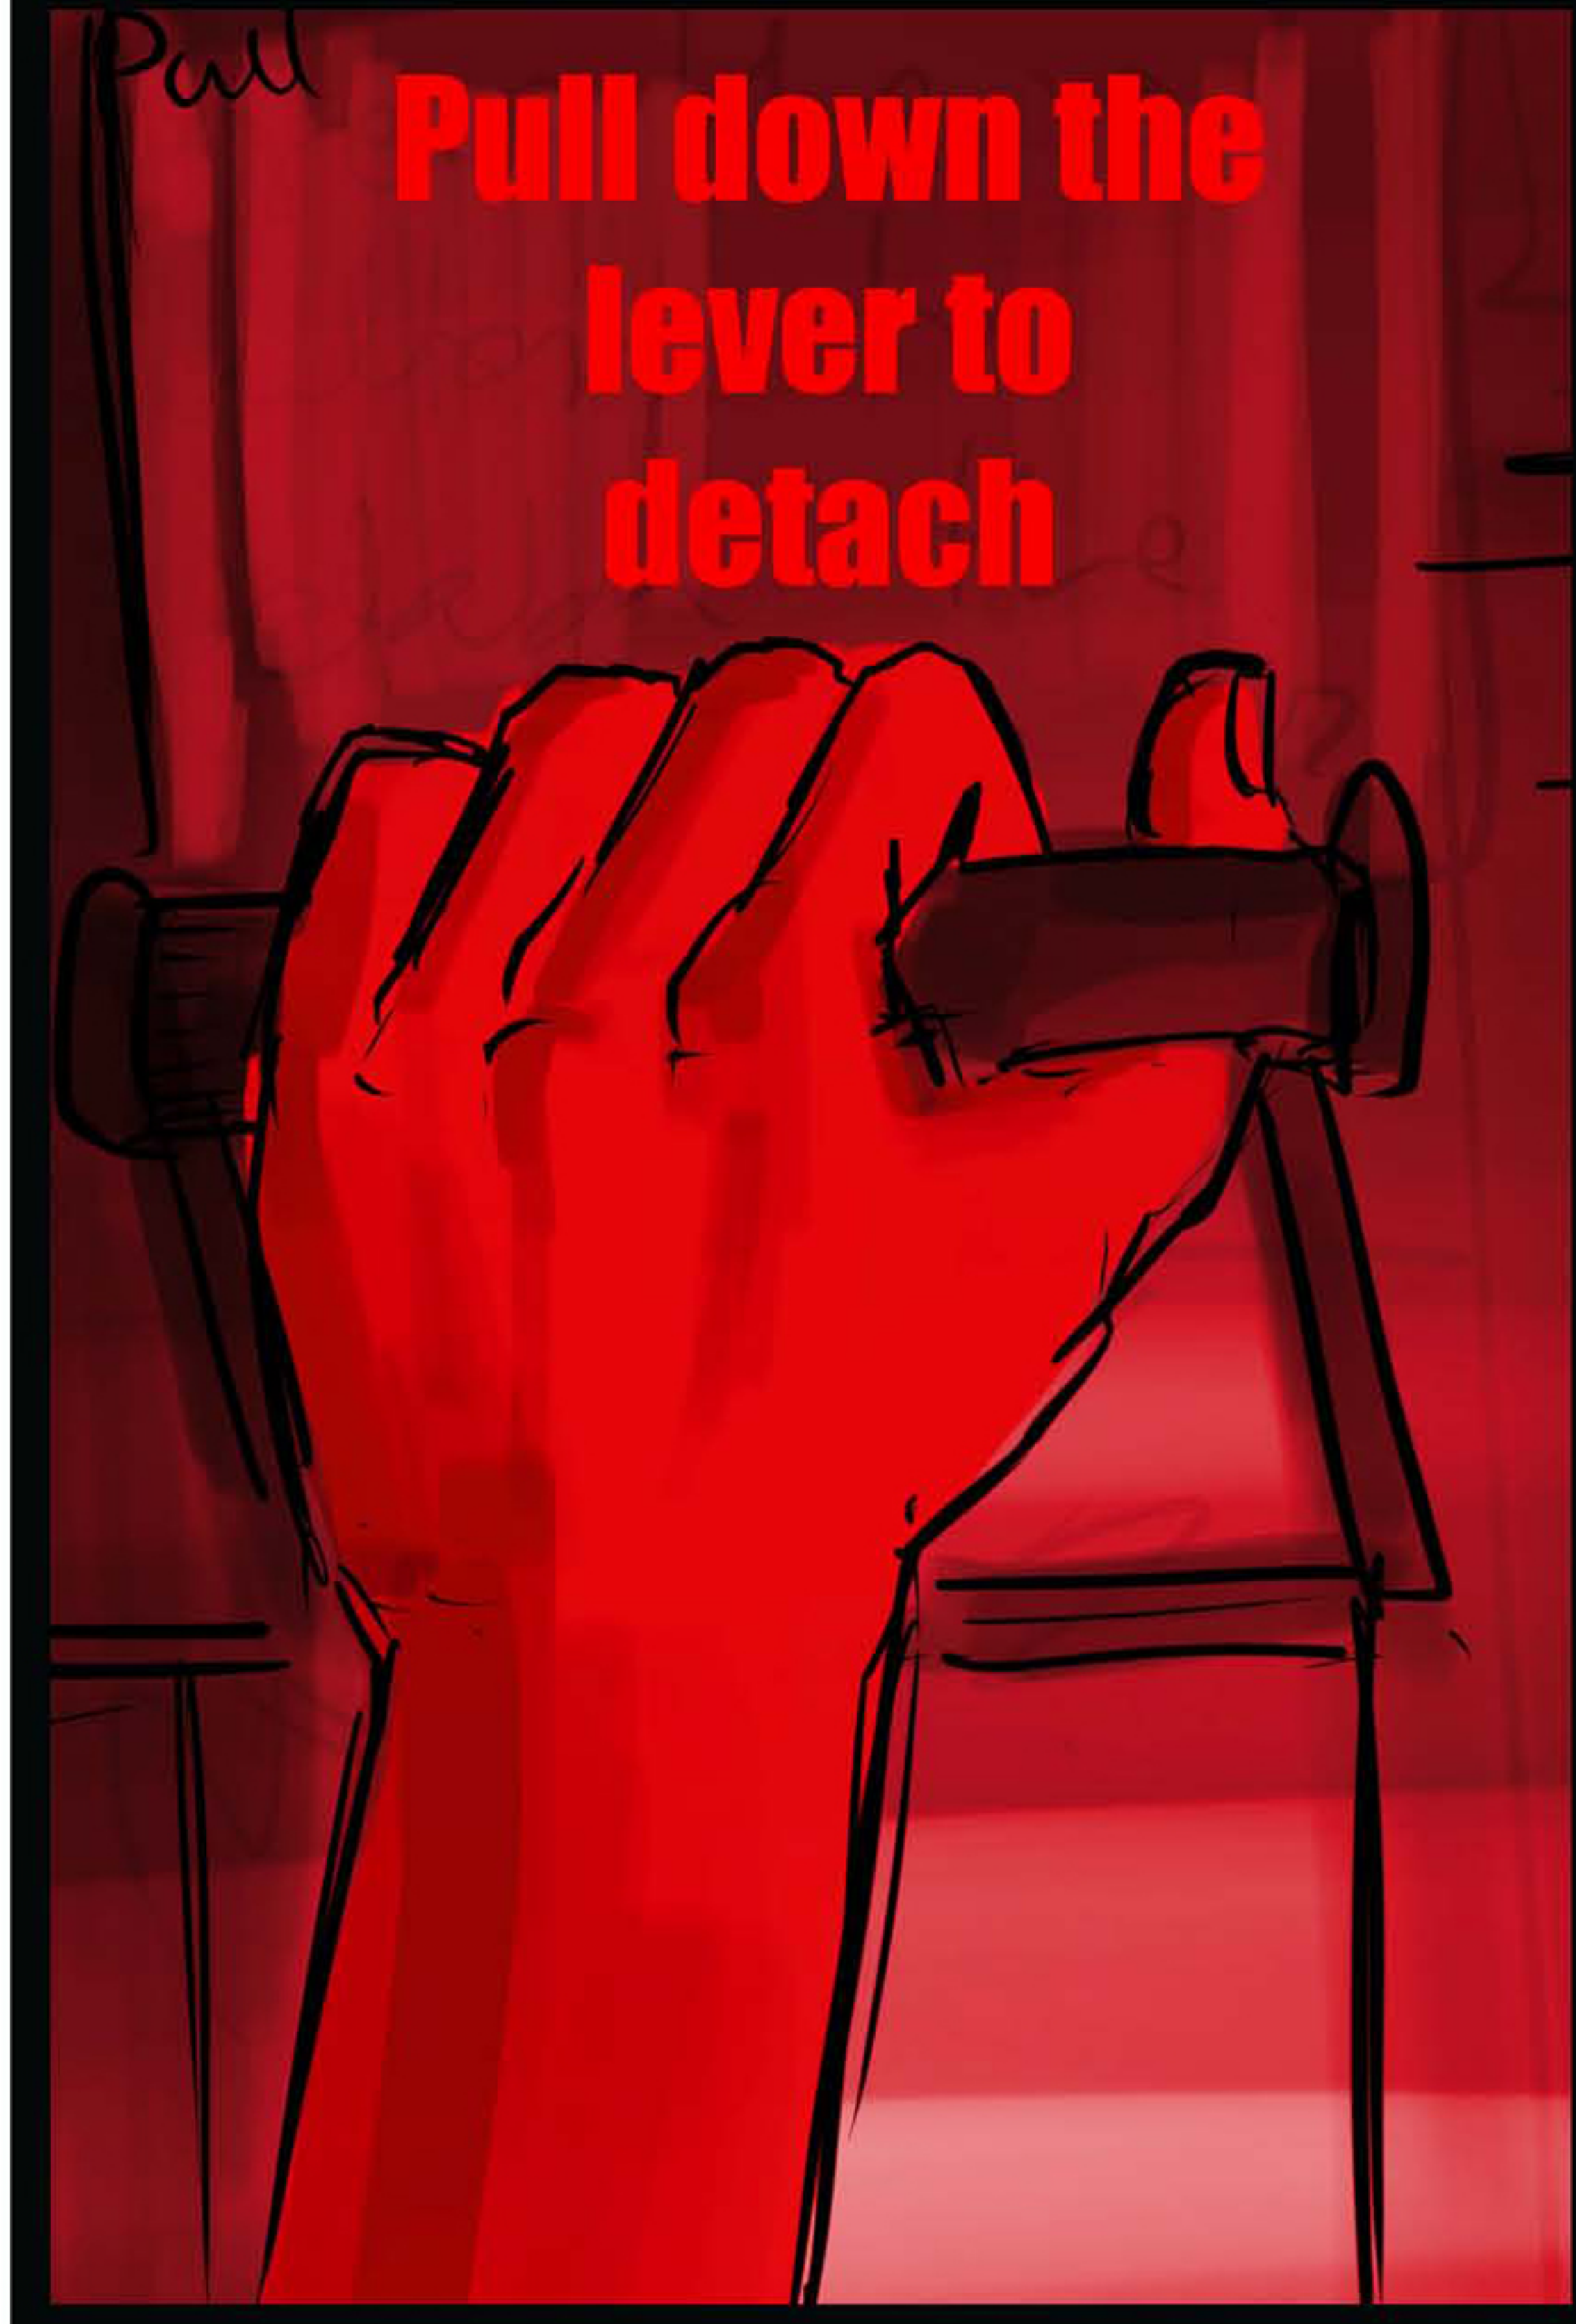

It is critical damage. Fetal error. Evacuate the chamber. System source code not found.

Hey Anna, can you detach the chamber from the main shaft.

Anna, can you...

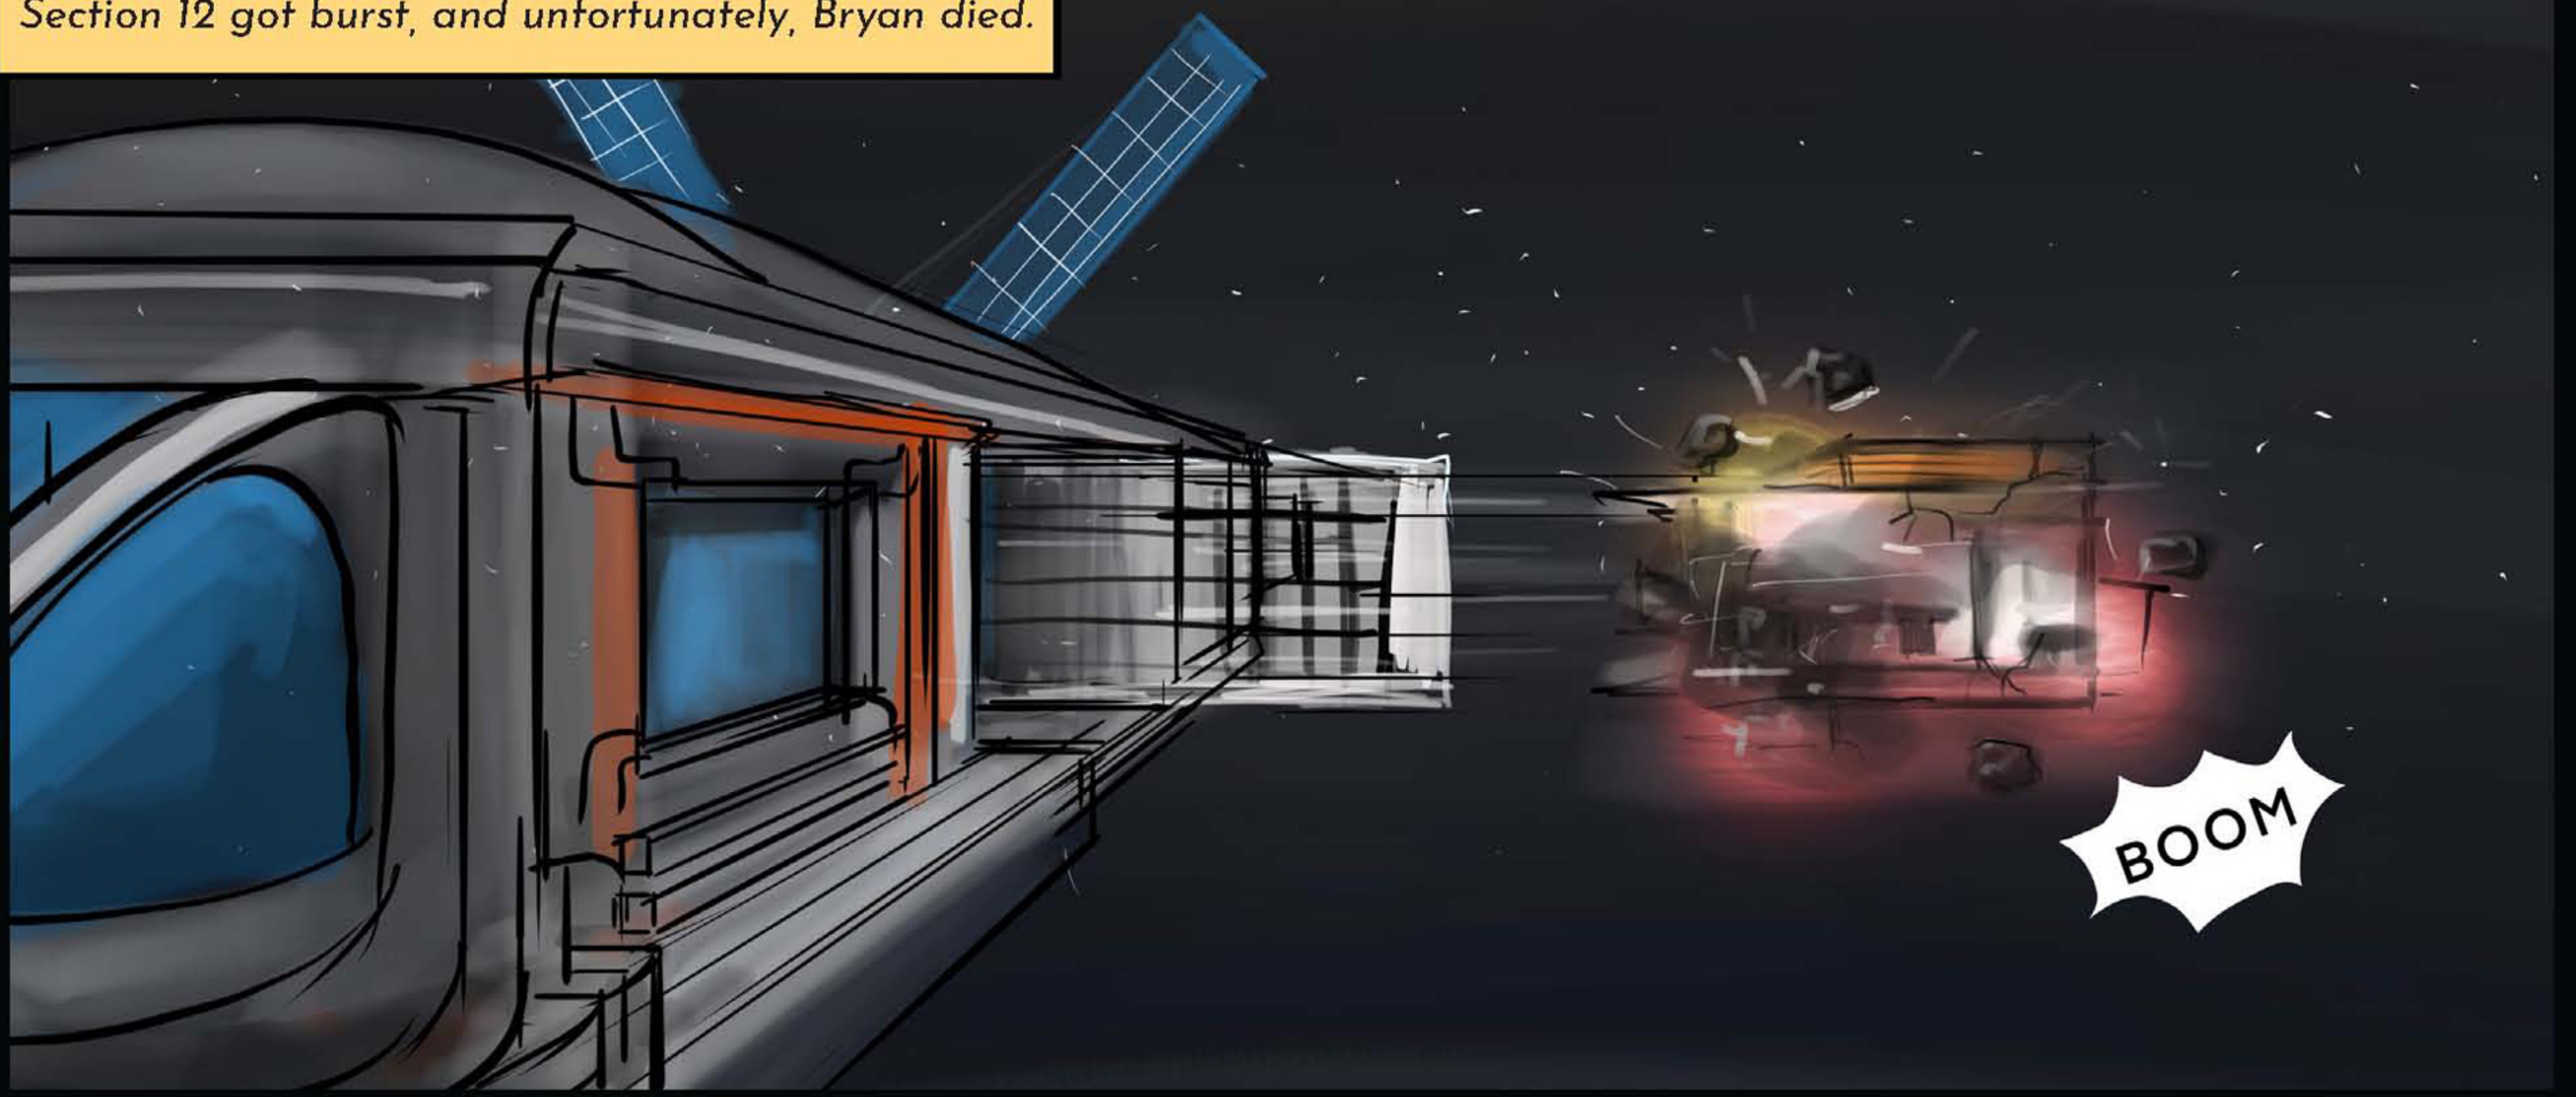

Please proceed with the secret code.

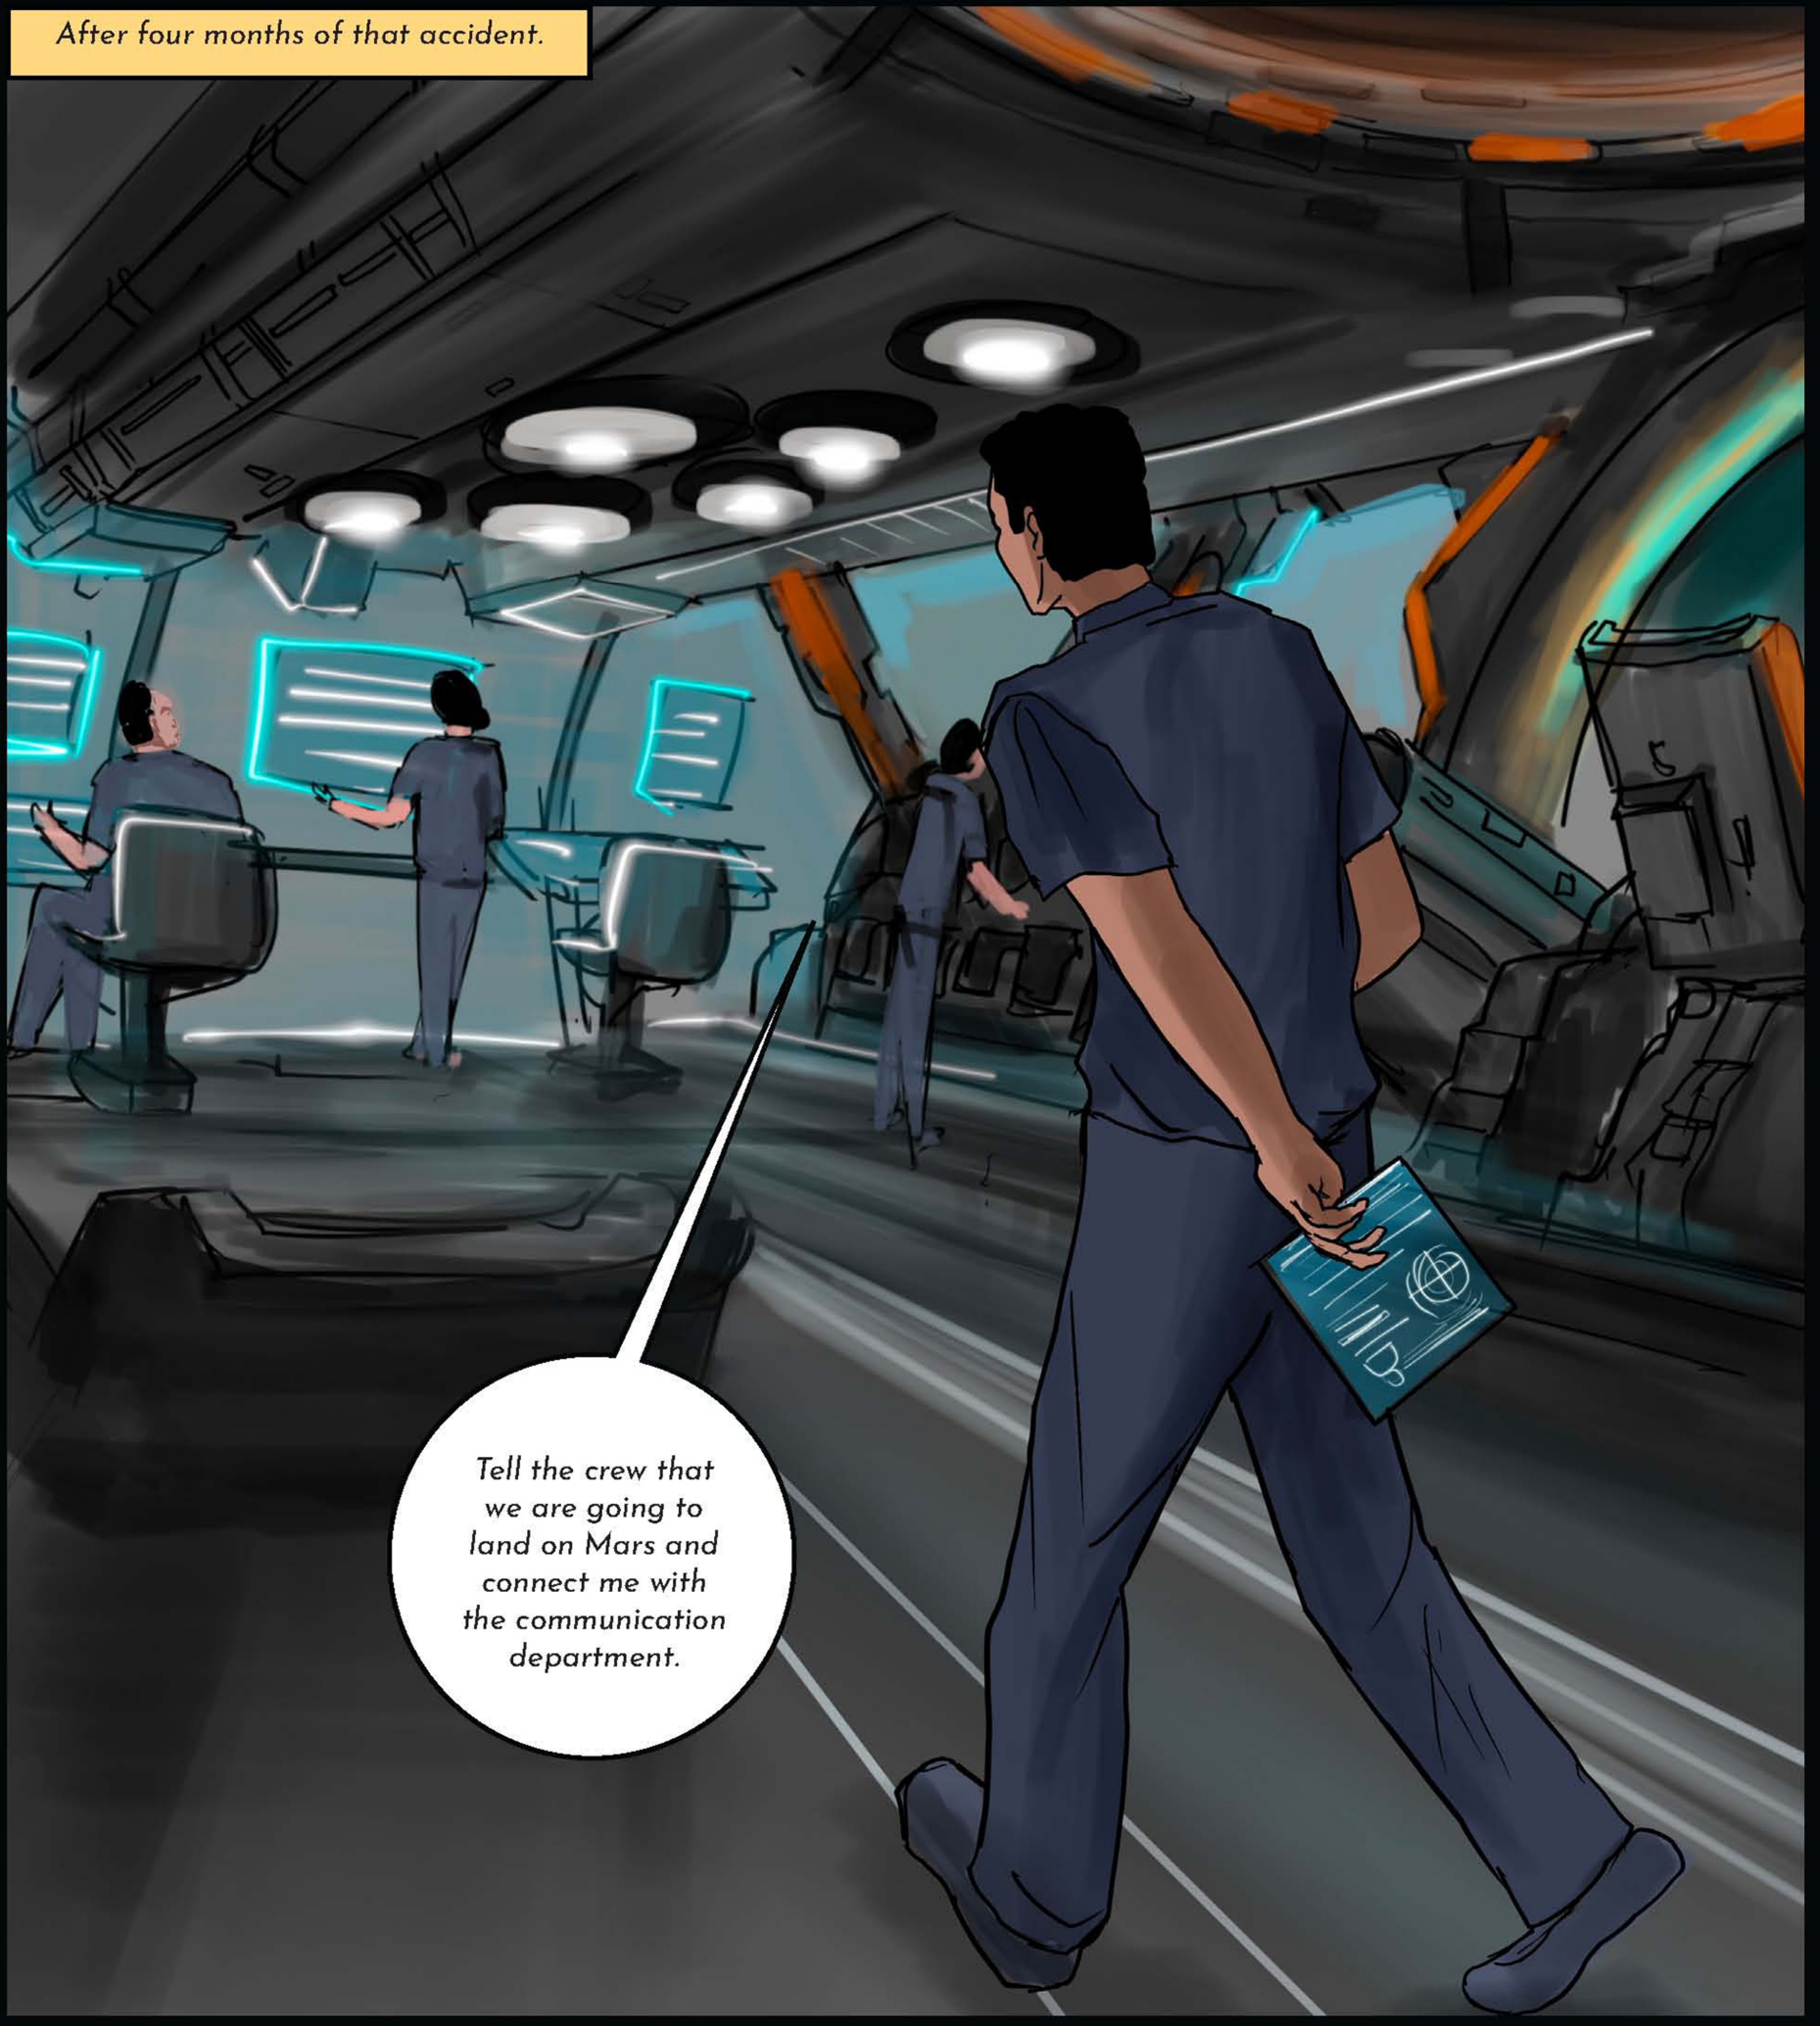

Pull down the lever to detach

Lever to detach

Section 12 got burst, and unfortunately, Bryan died.

After four months of that accident.

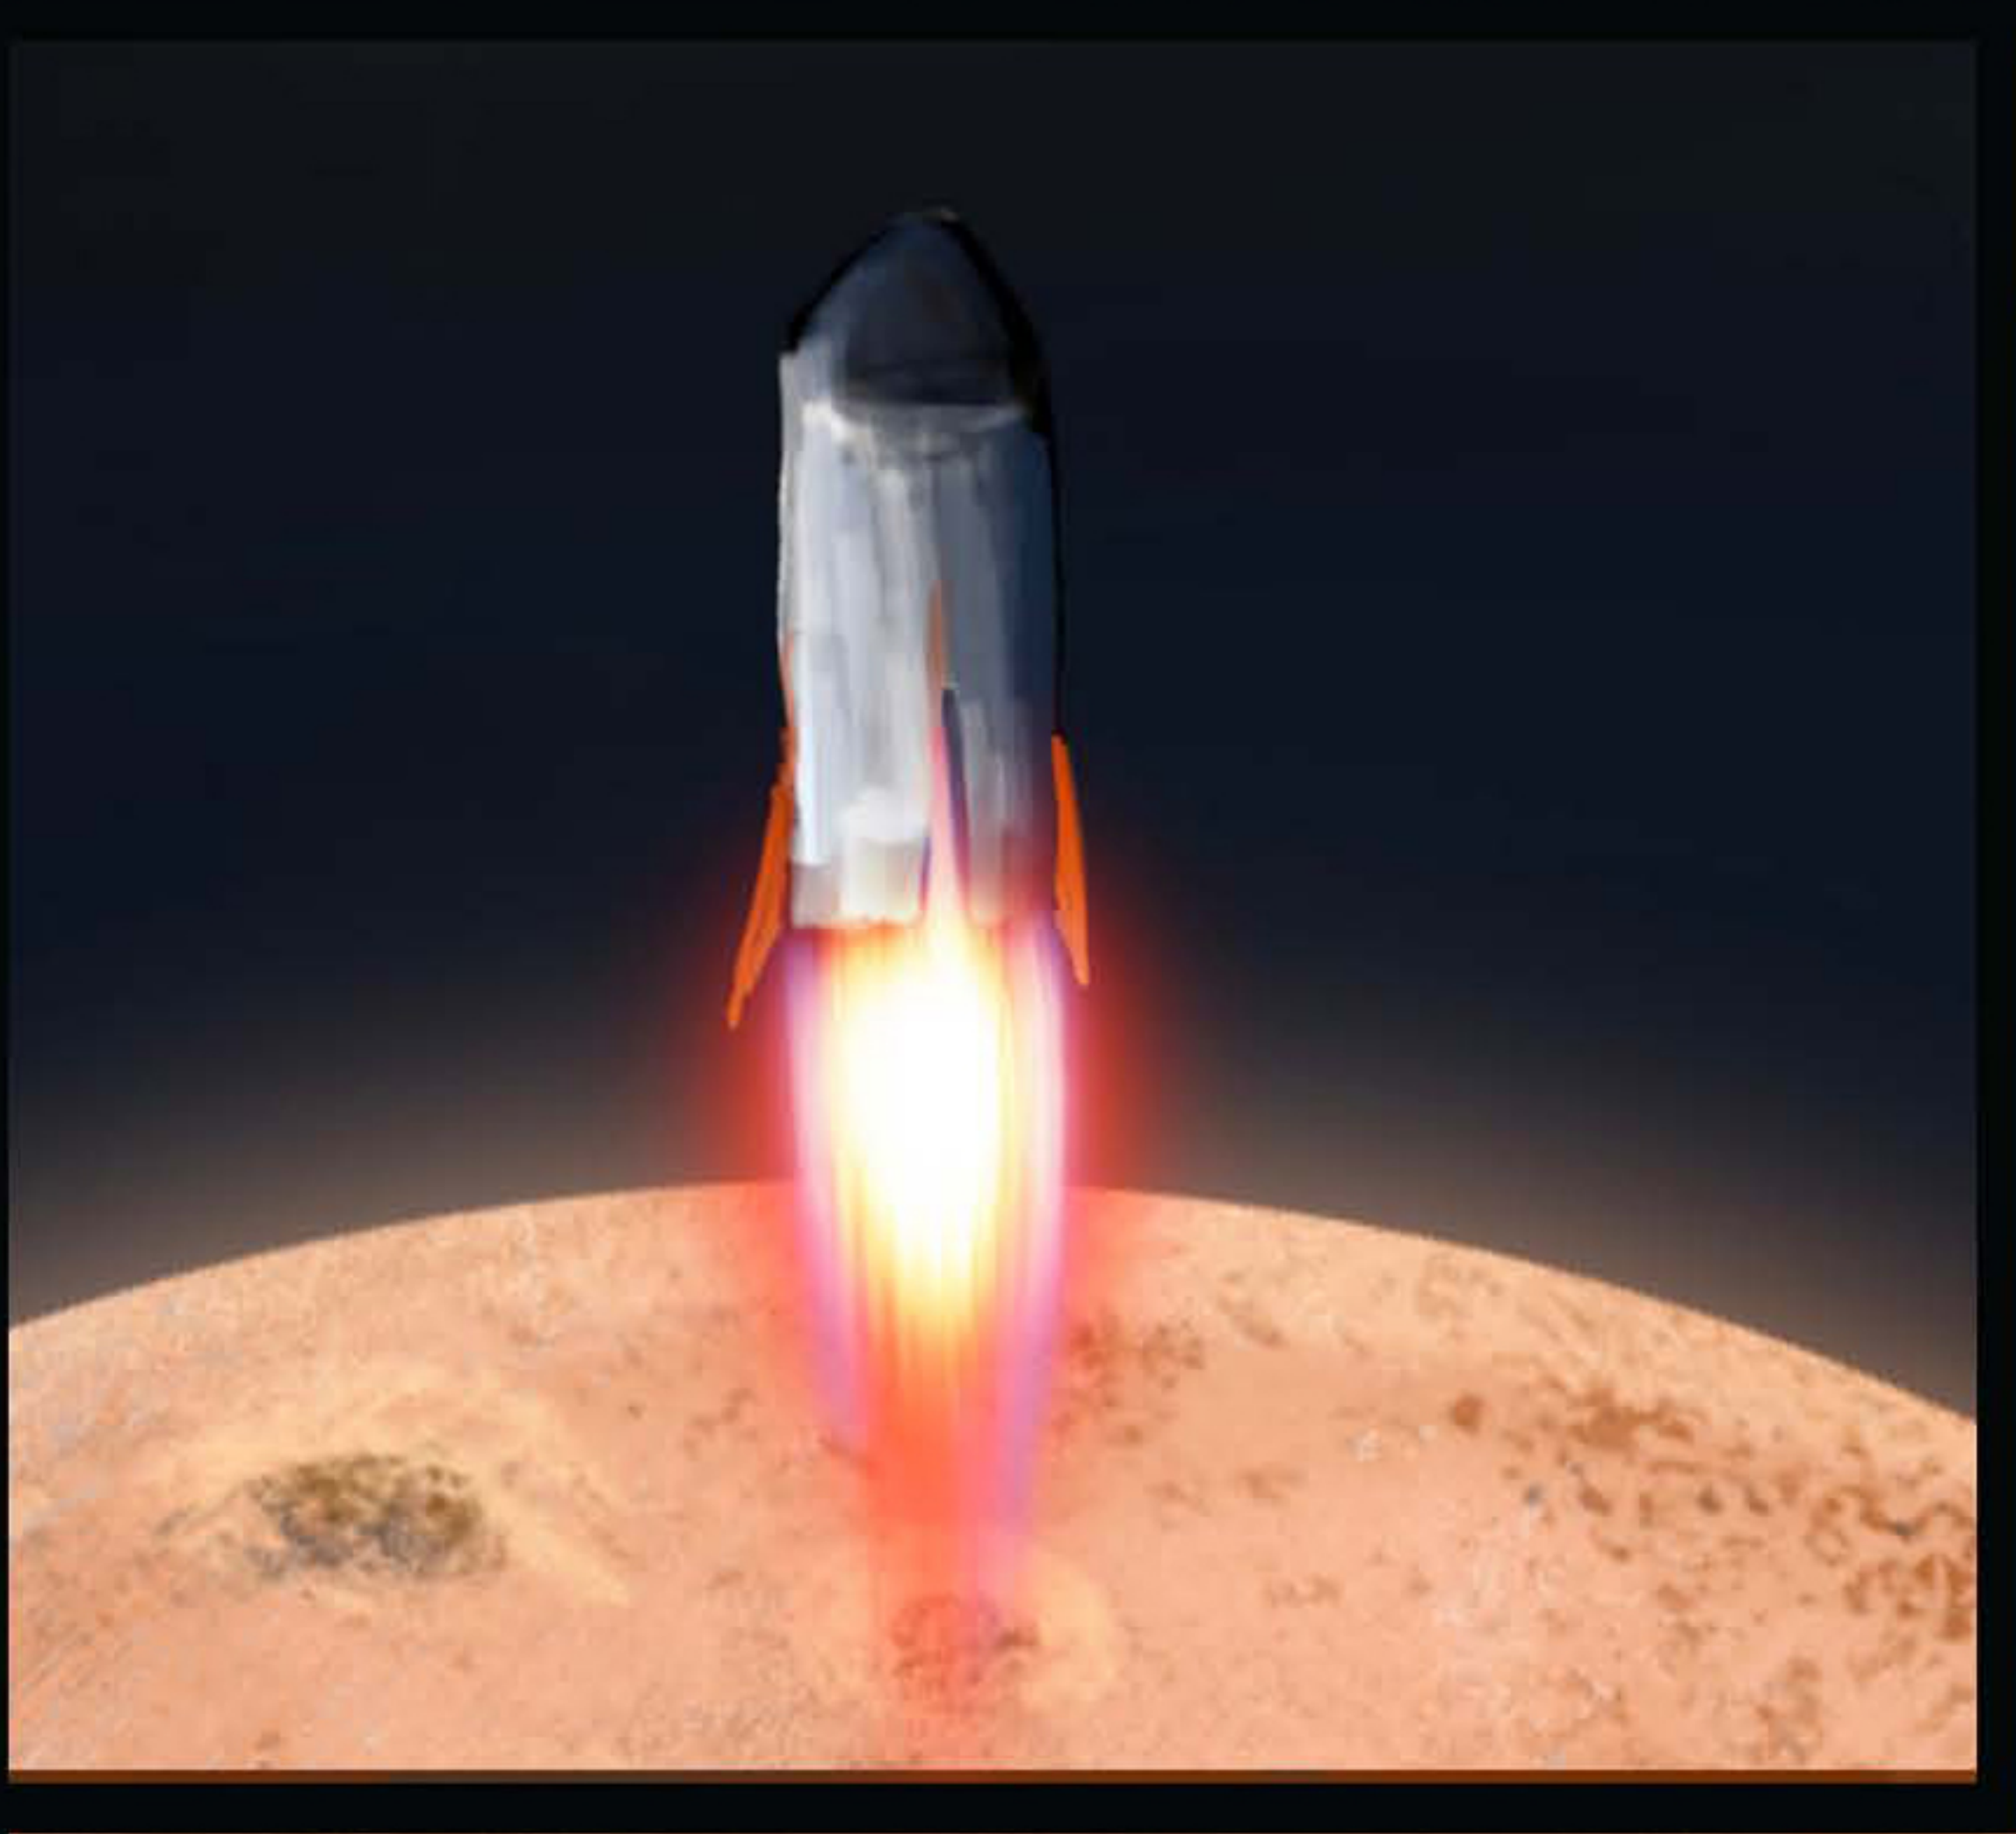

Tell the crew that we are going to land on Mars and connect me with the communication department.

Spacecraft is detached from the space ark and is ready to land on Mars.

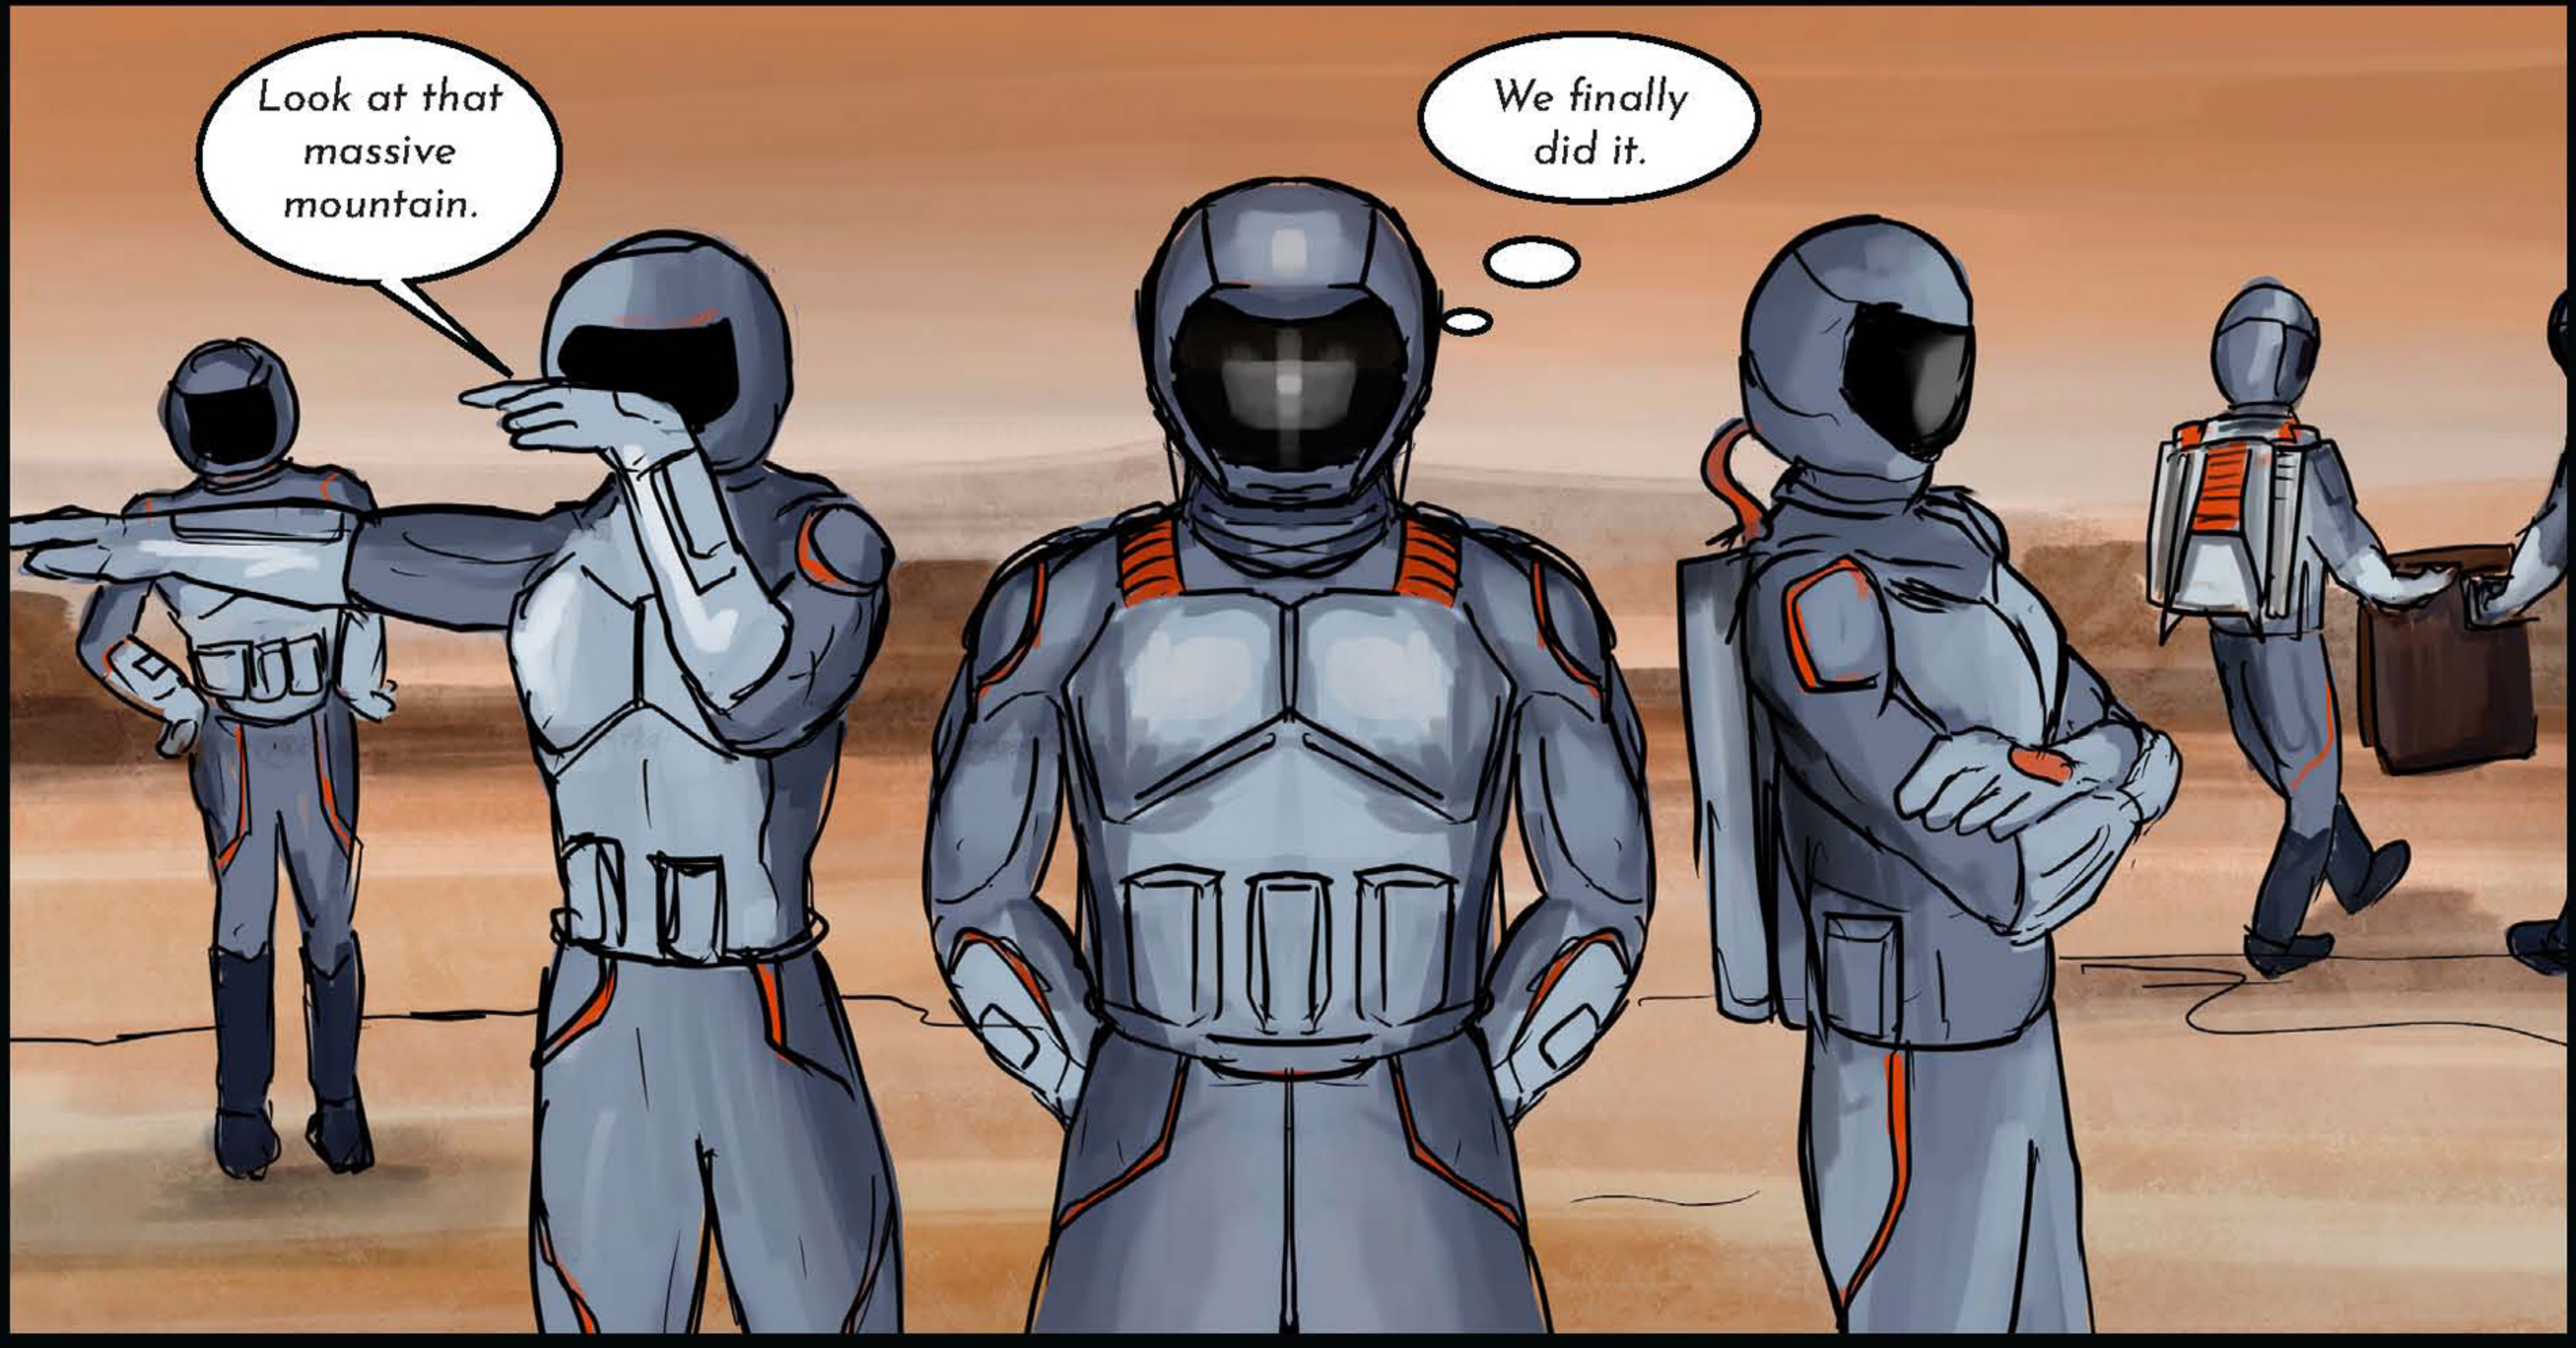

Spacecraft successfully land on Mars, Where robots are constructing the buildings.

People are coming out from the spacecraft.

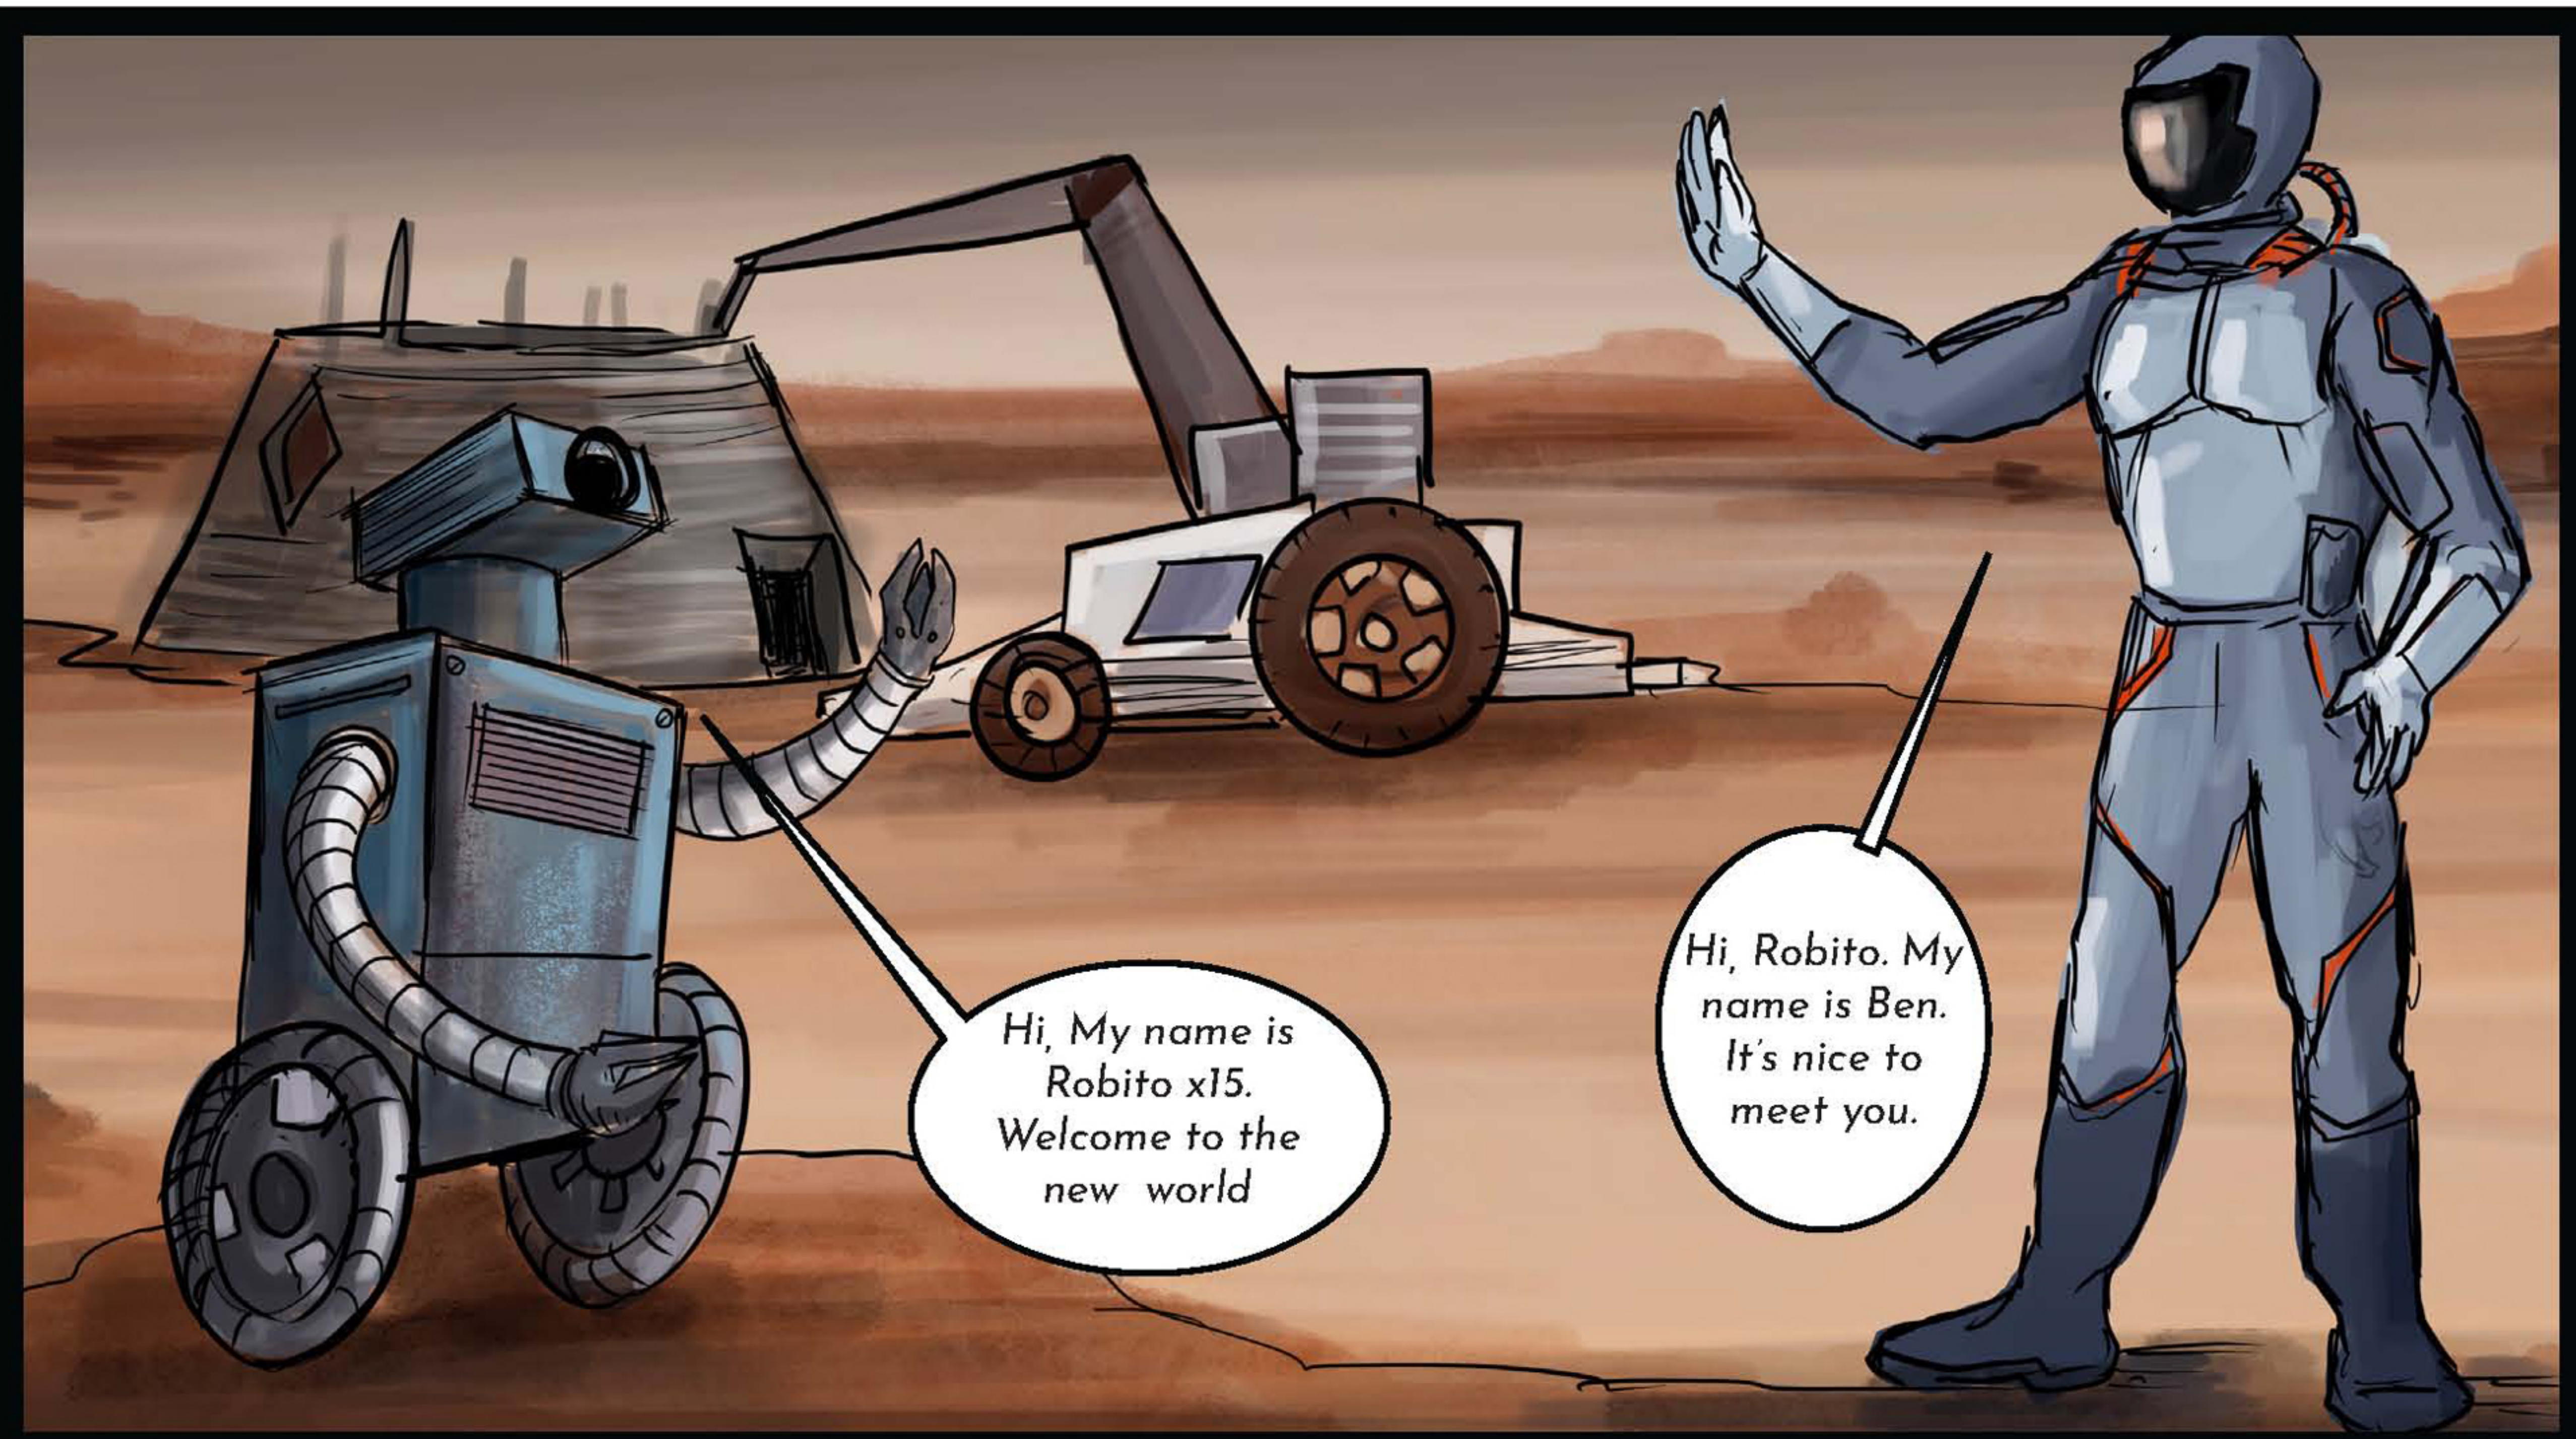

Look over here!

Look at that massive mountain.

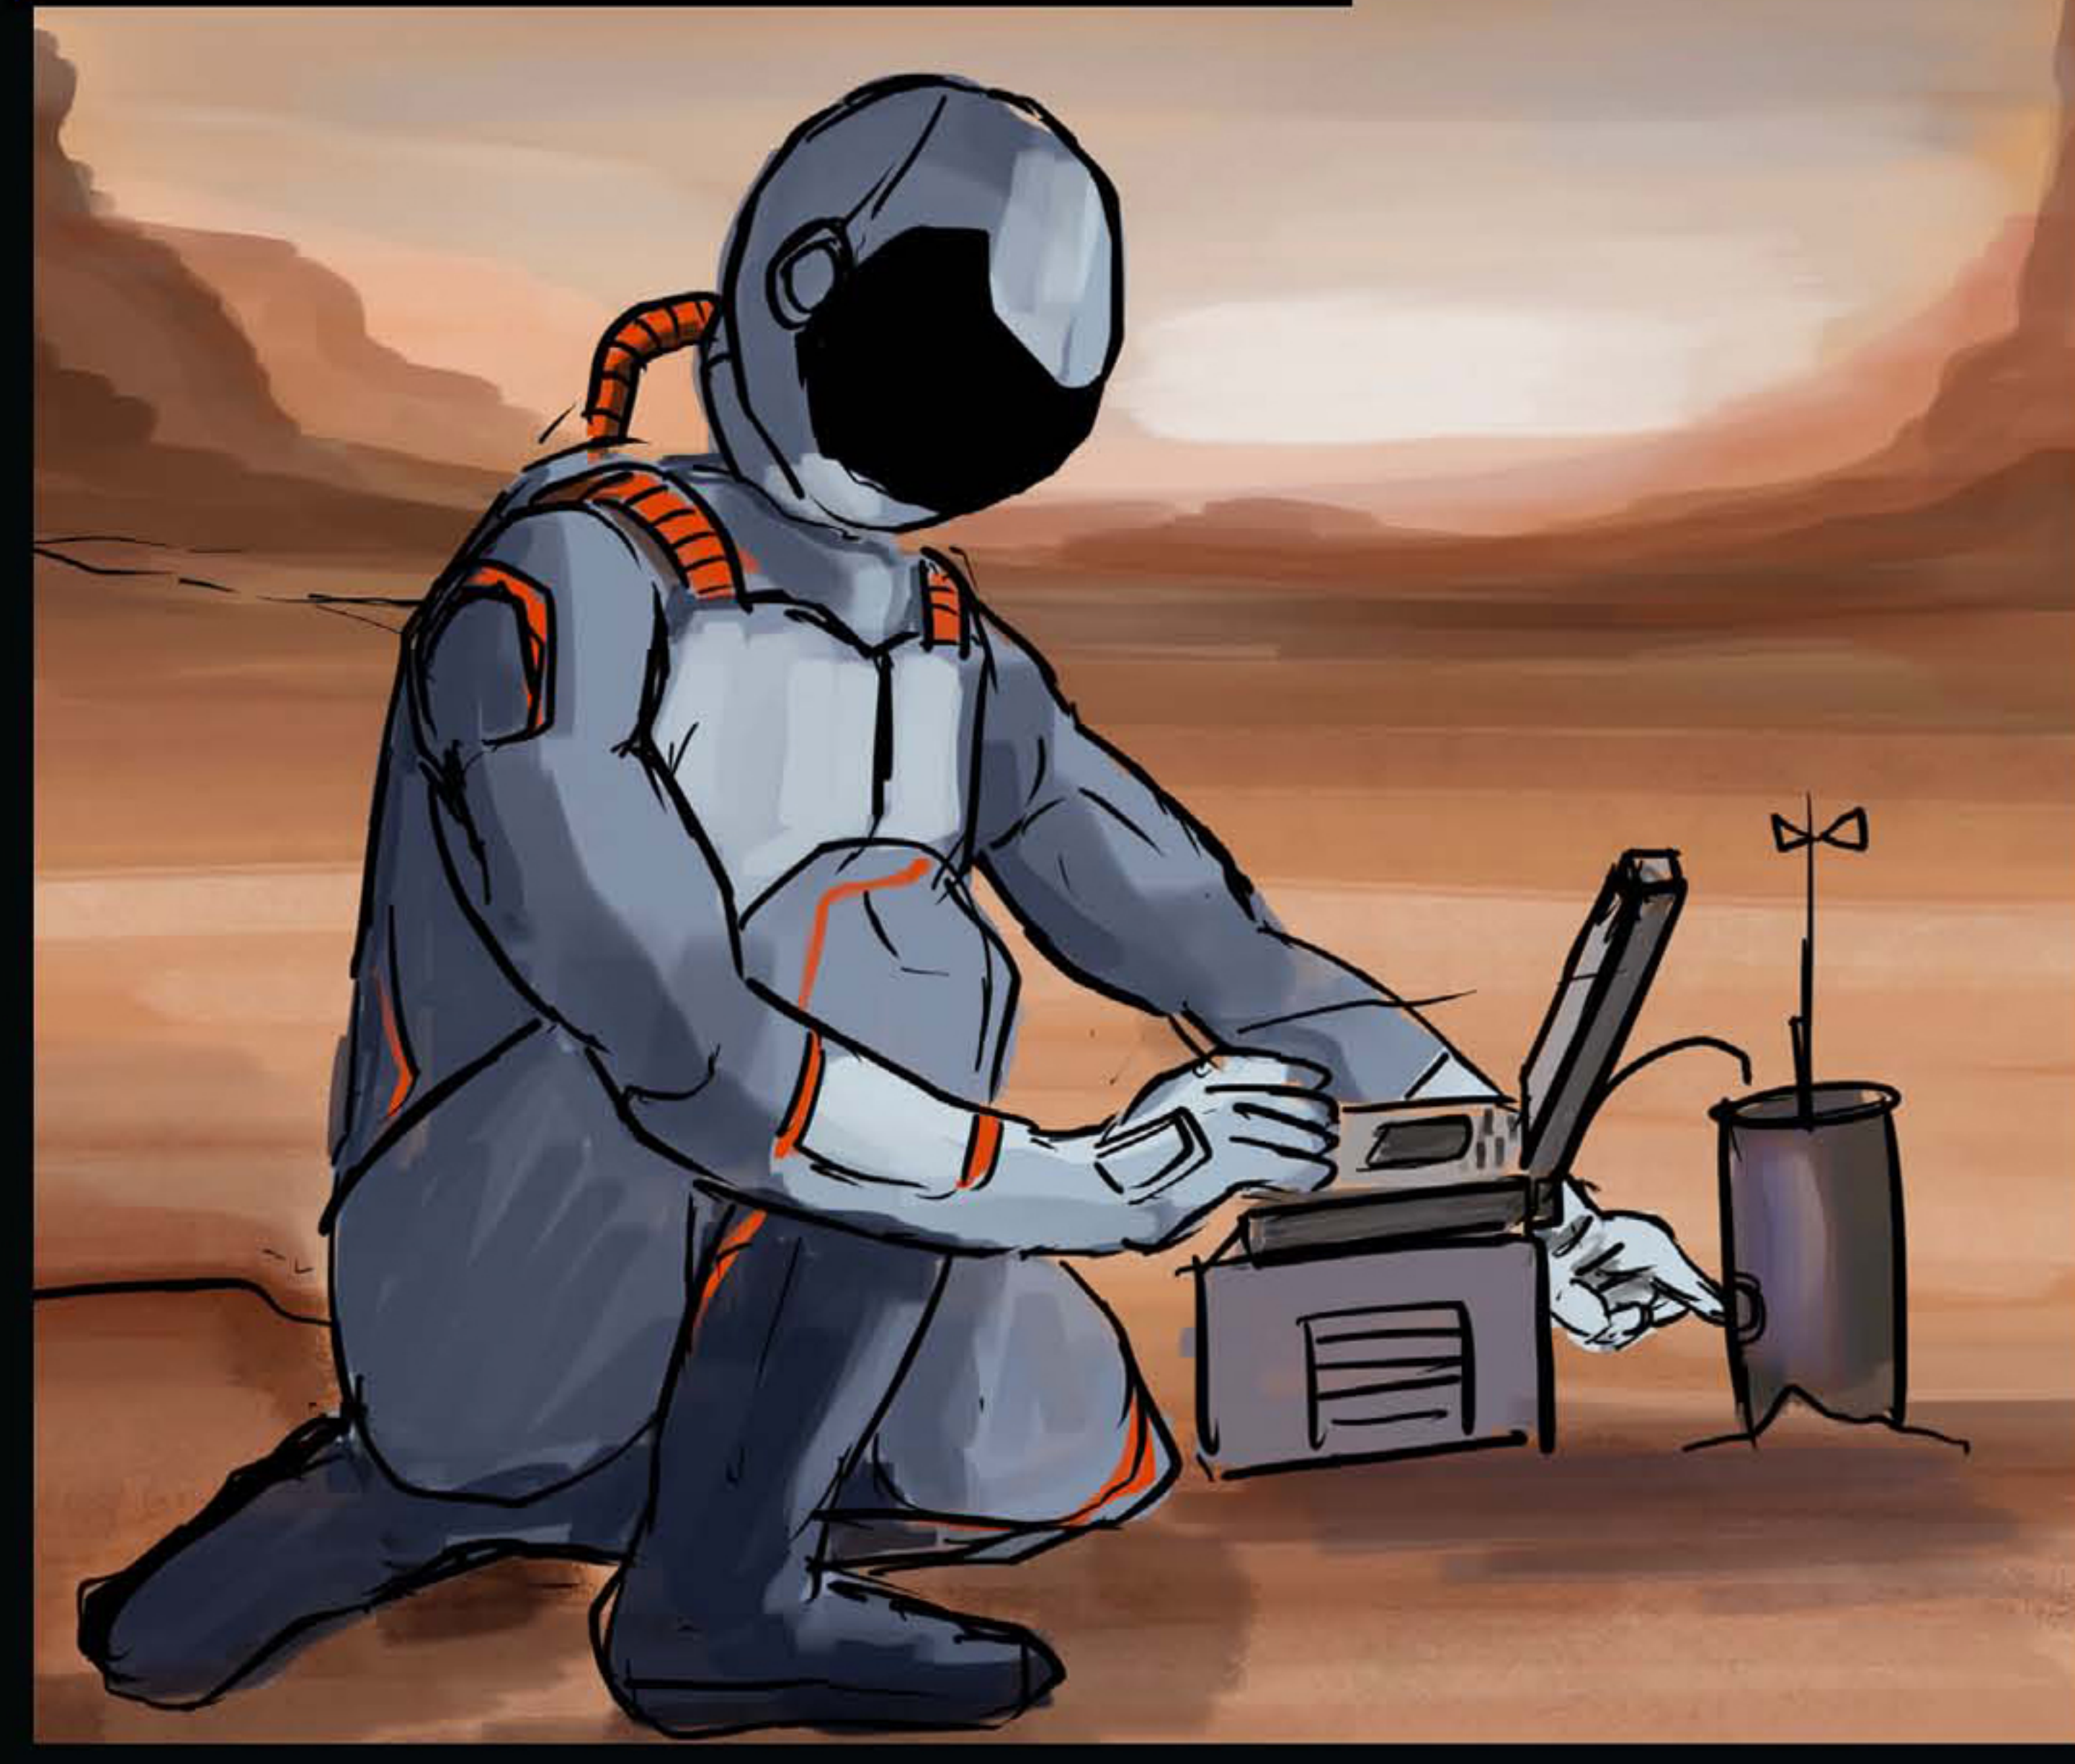

We finally did it.

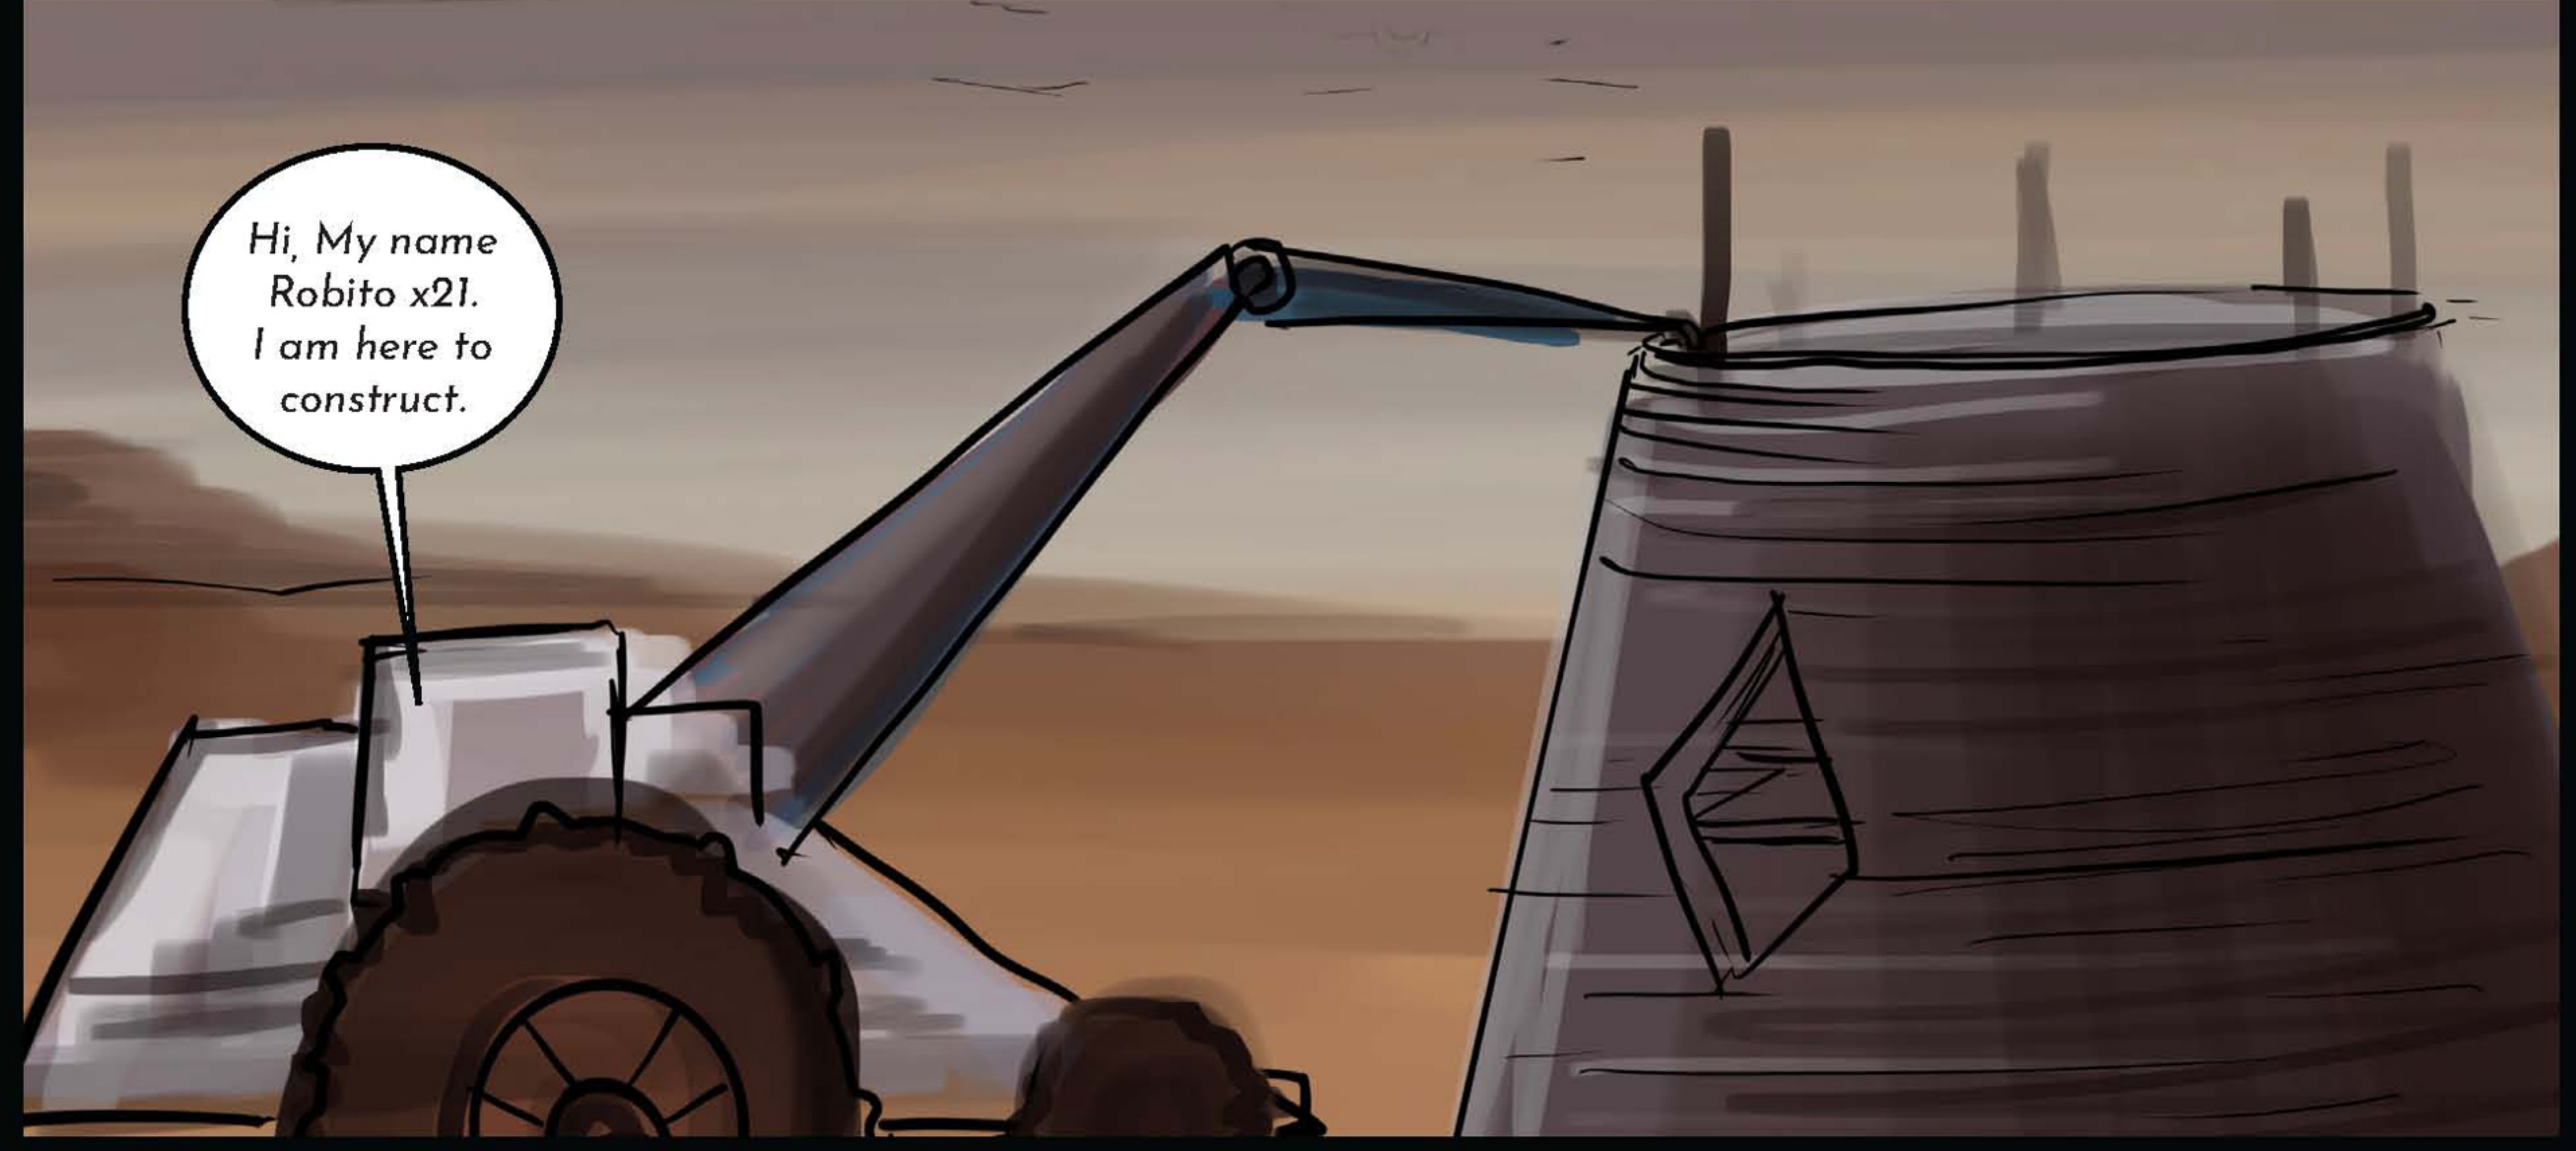

Hi, My name is Robito x15. Welcome to the new world

Hi, Robito. My name is Ben. It's nice to meet you.

Some people are checking soil and taking sample of it.

Come over here. See how Robot is constructing the building.

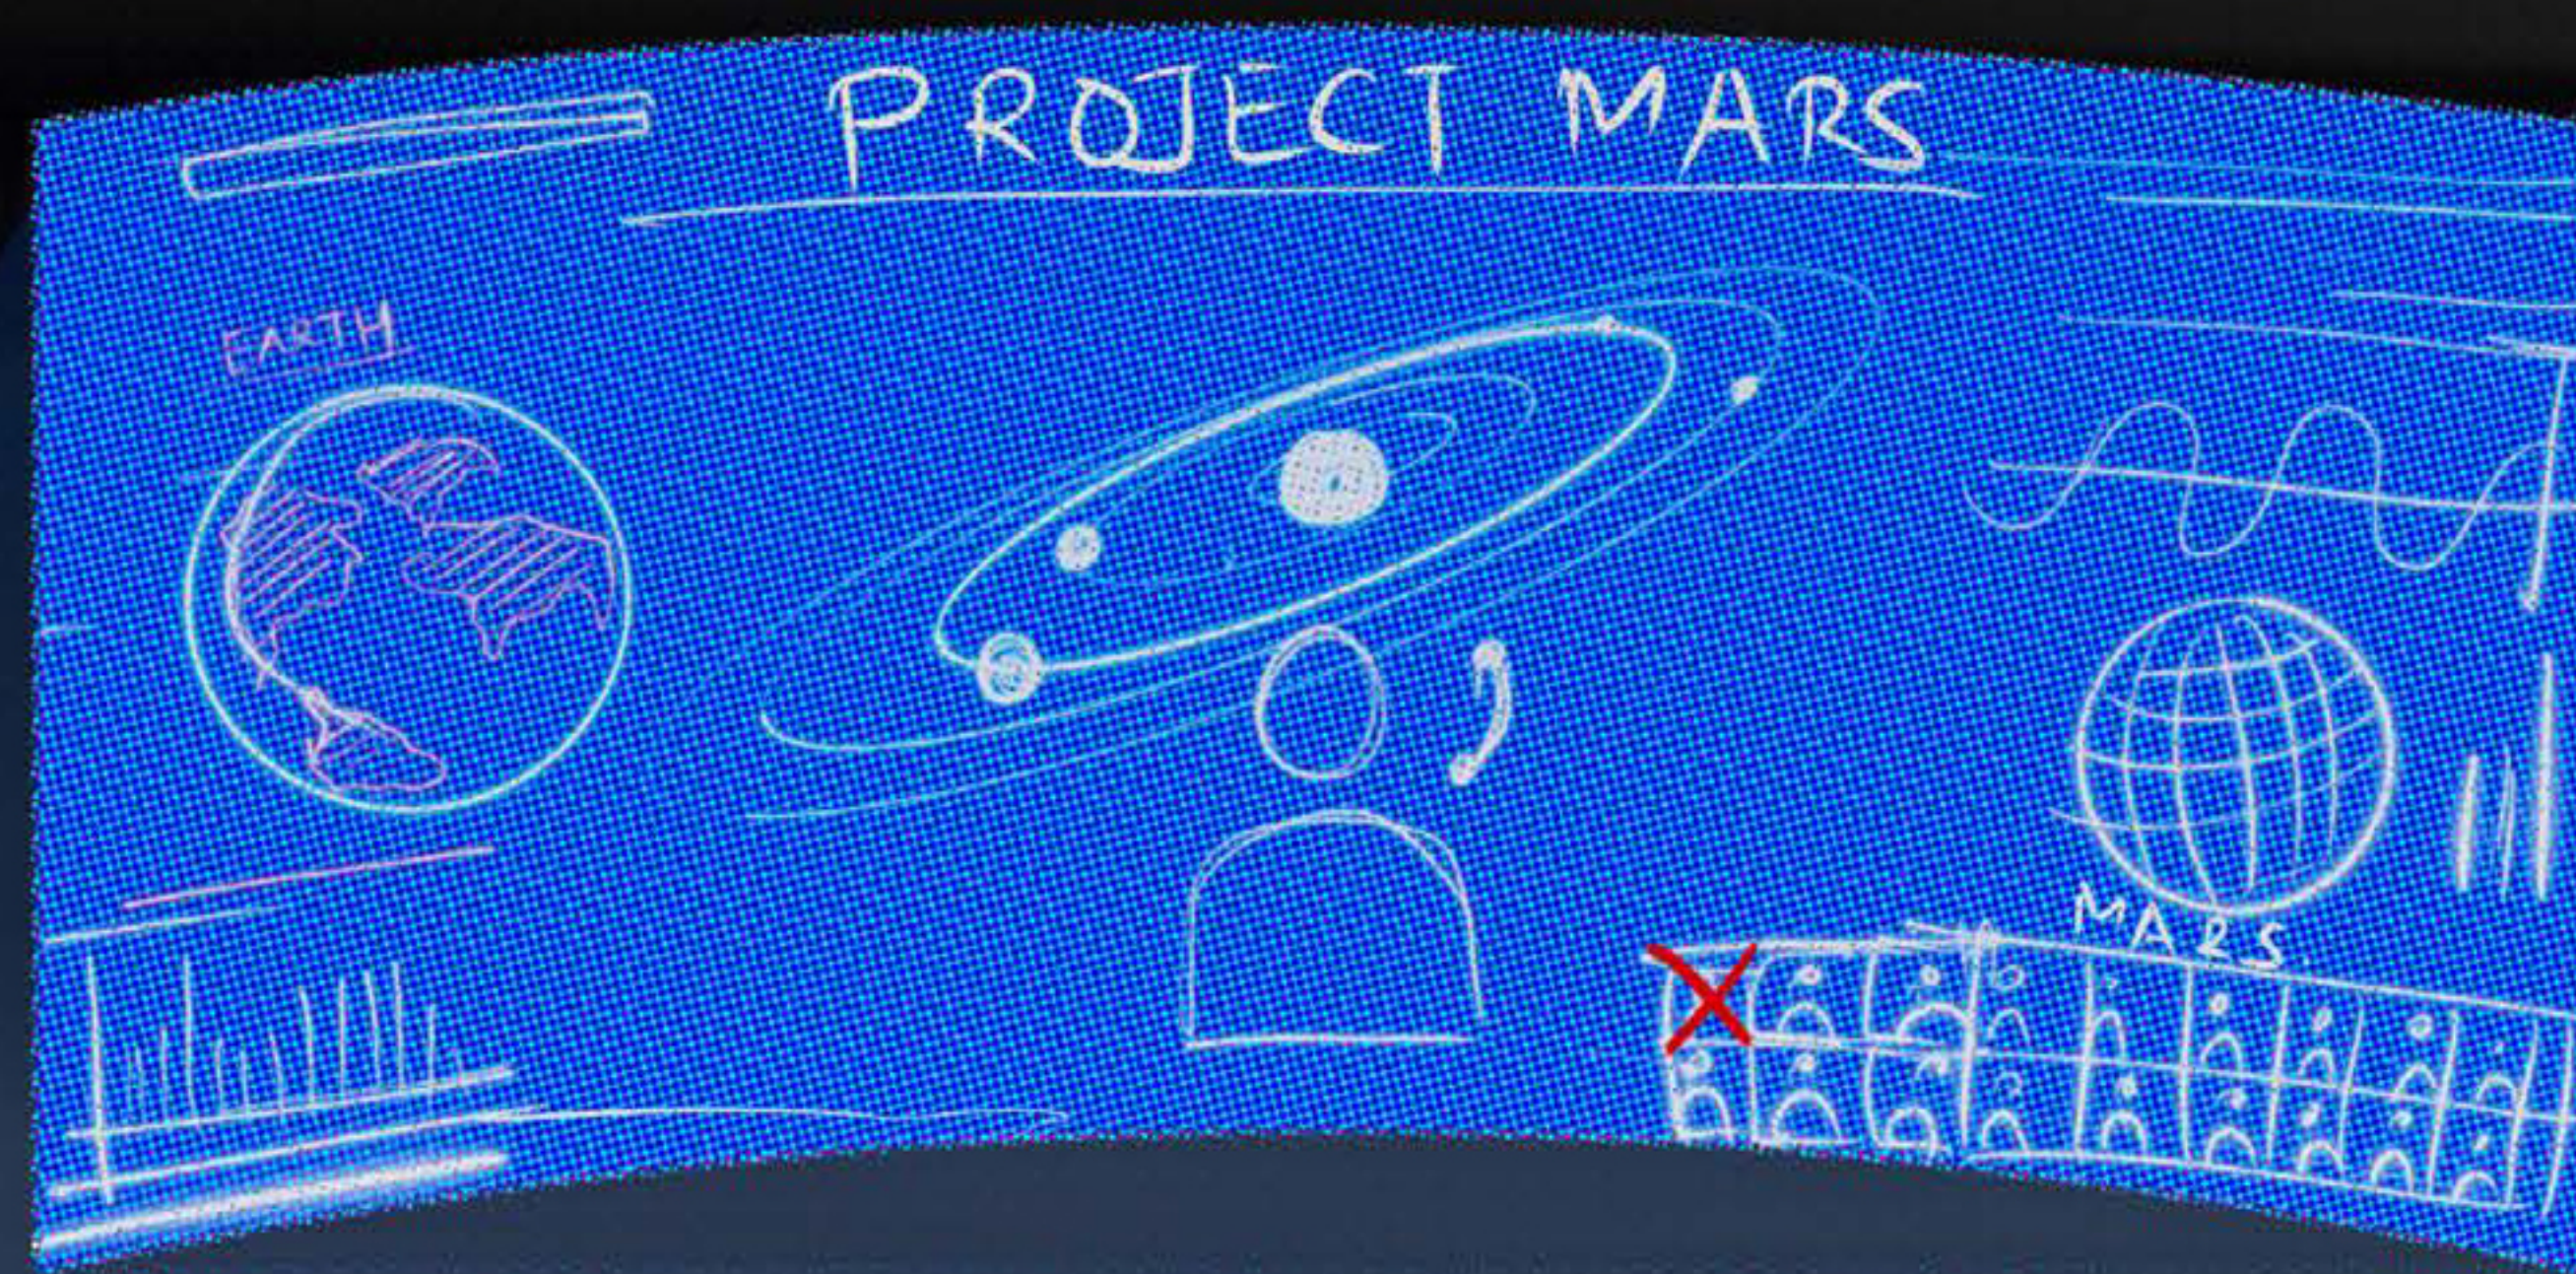

Hi, My name Robito x21. I am here to construct.

Lara and Ben sending update and data.

Sir, we got trouble on the way to Mars. Due to orbit discontinuity, our ship got attacked by the asteroid.

And....hmmm.. and we lost Bryan. He sacrificed himself on this mission.

That's our big lose

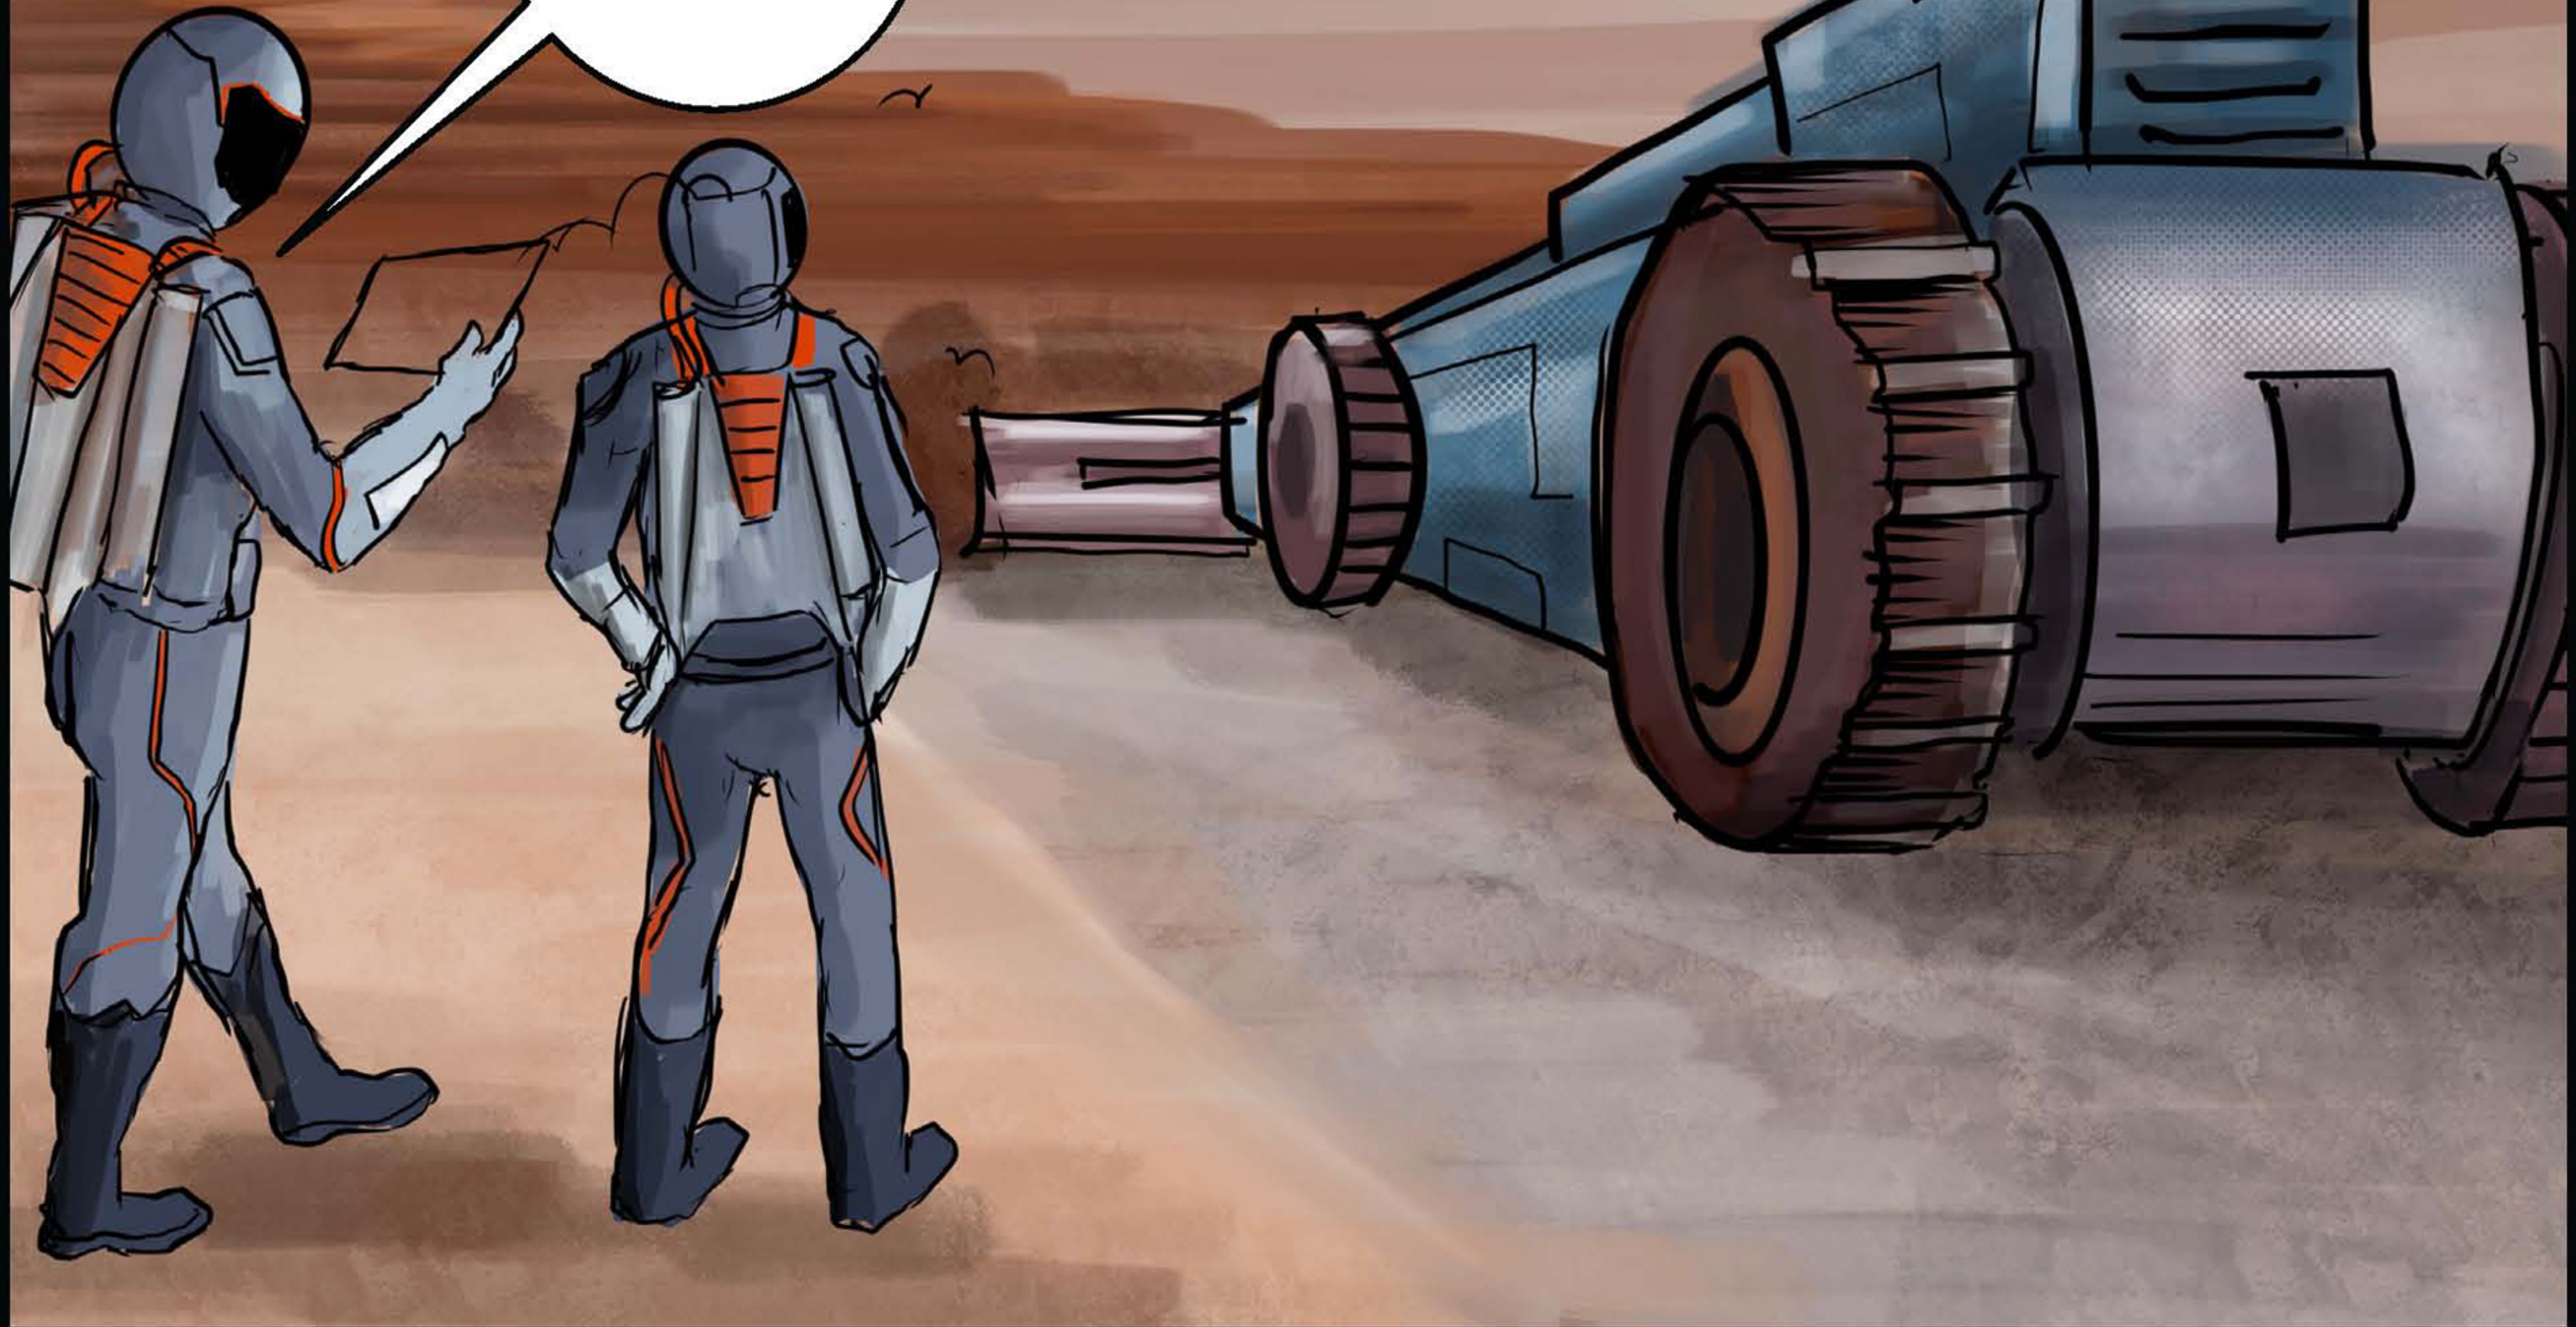

NASA conference room, Earth.

At around 4:30 am central standard time, our space got disconnected by orbit due to an Asteroid attack and one of our capsules, number section 12, got destroyed. Where our team leader Bryan took some action. Unfortunately, He had no choice, but he had to cut off section 12 to stop the major accident, and in the way, he got killed. Sorry for the loss. Commander Ben took charge, and the rest of the team landed successfully on Mars. Thank you.

People are monitoring the road construction.

After this, we have to look for conference road.

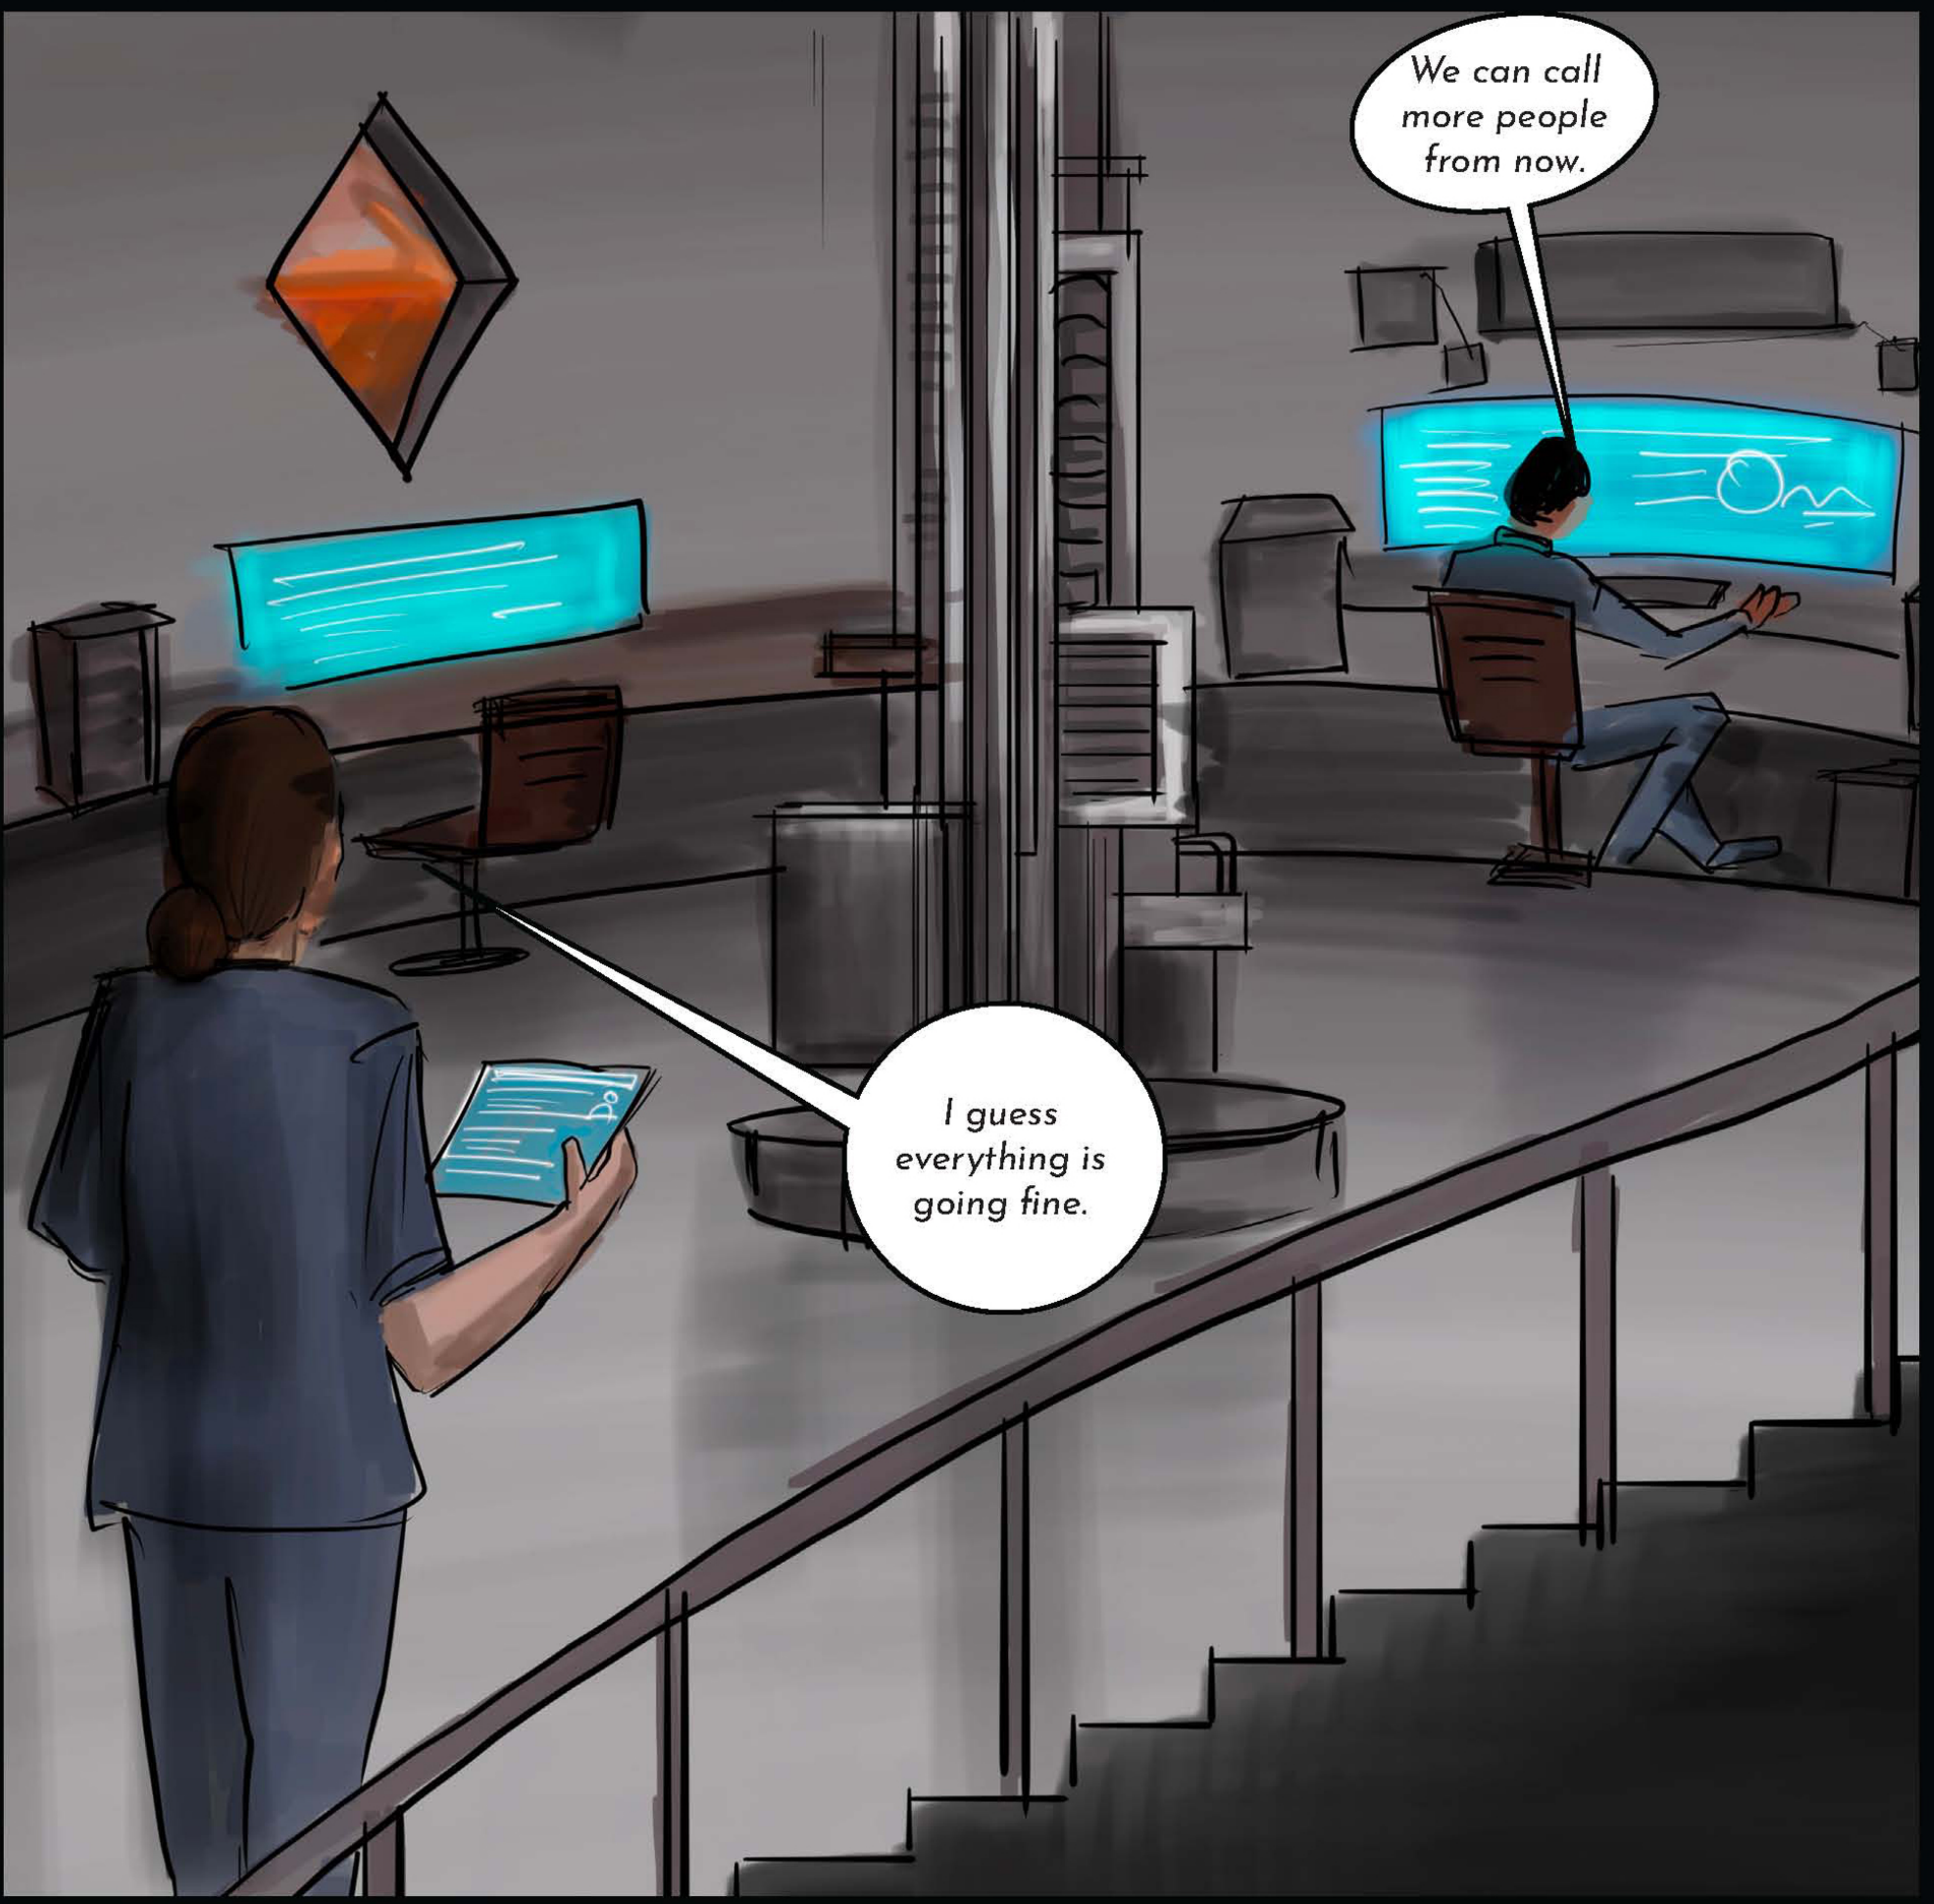

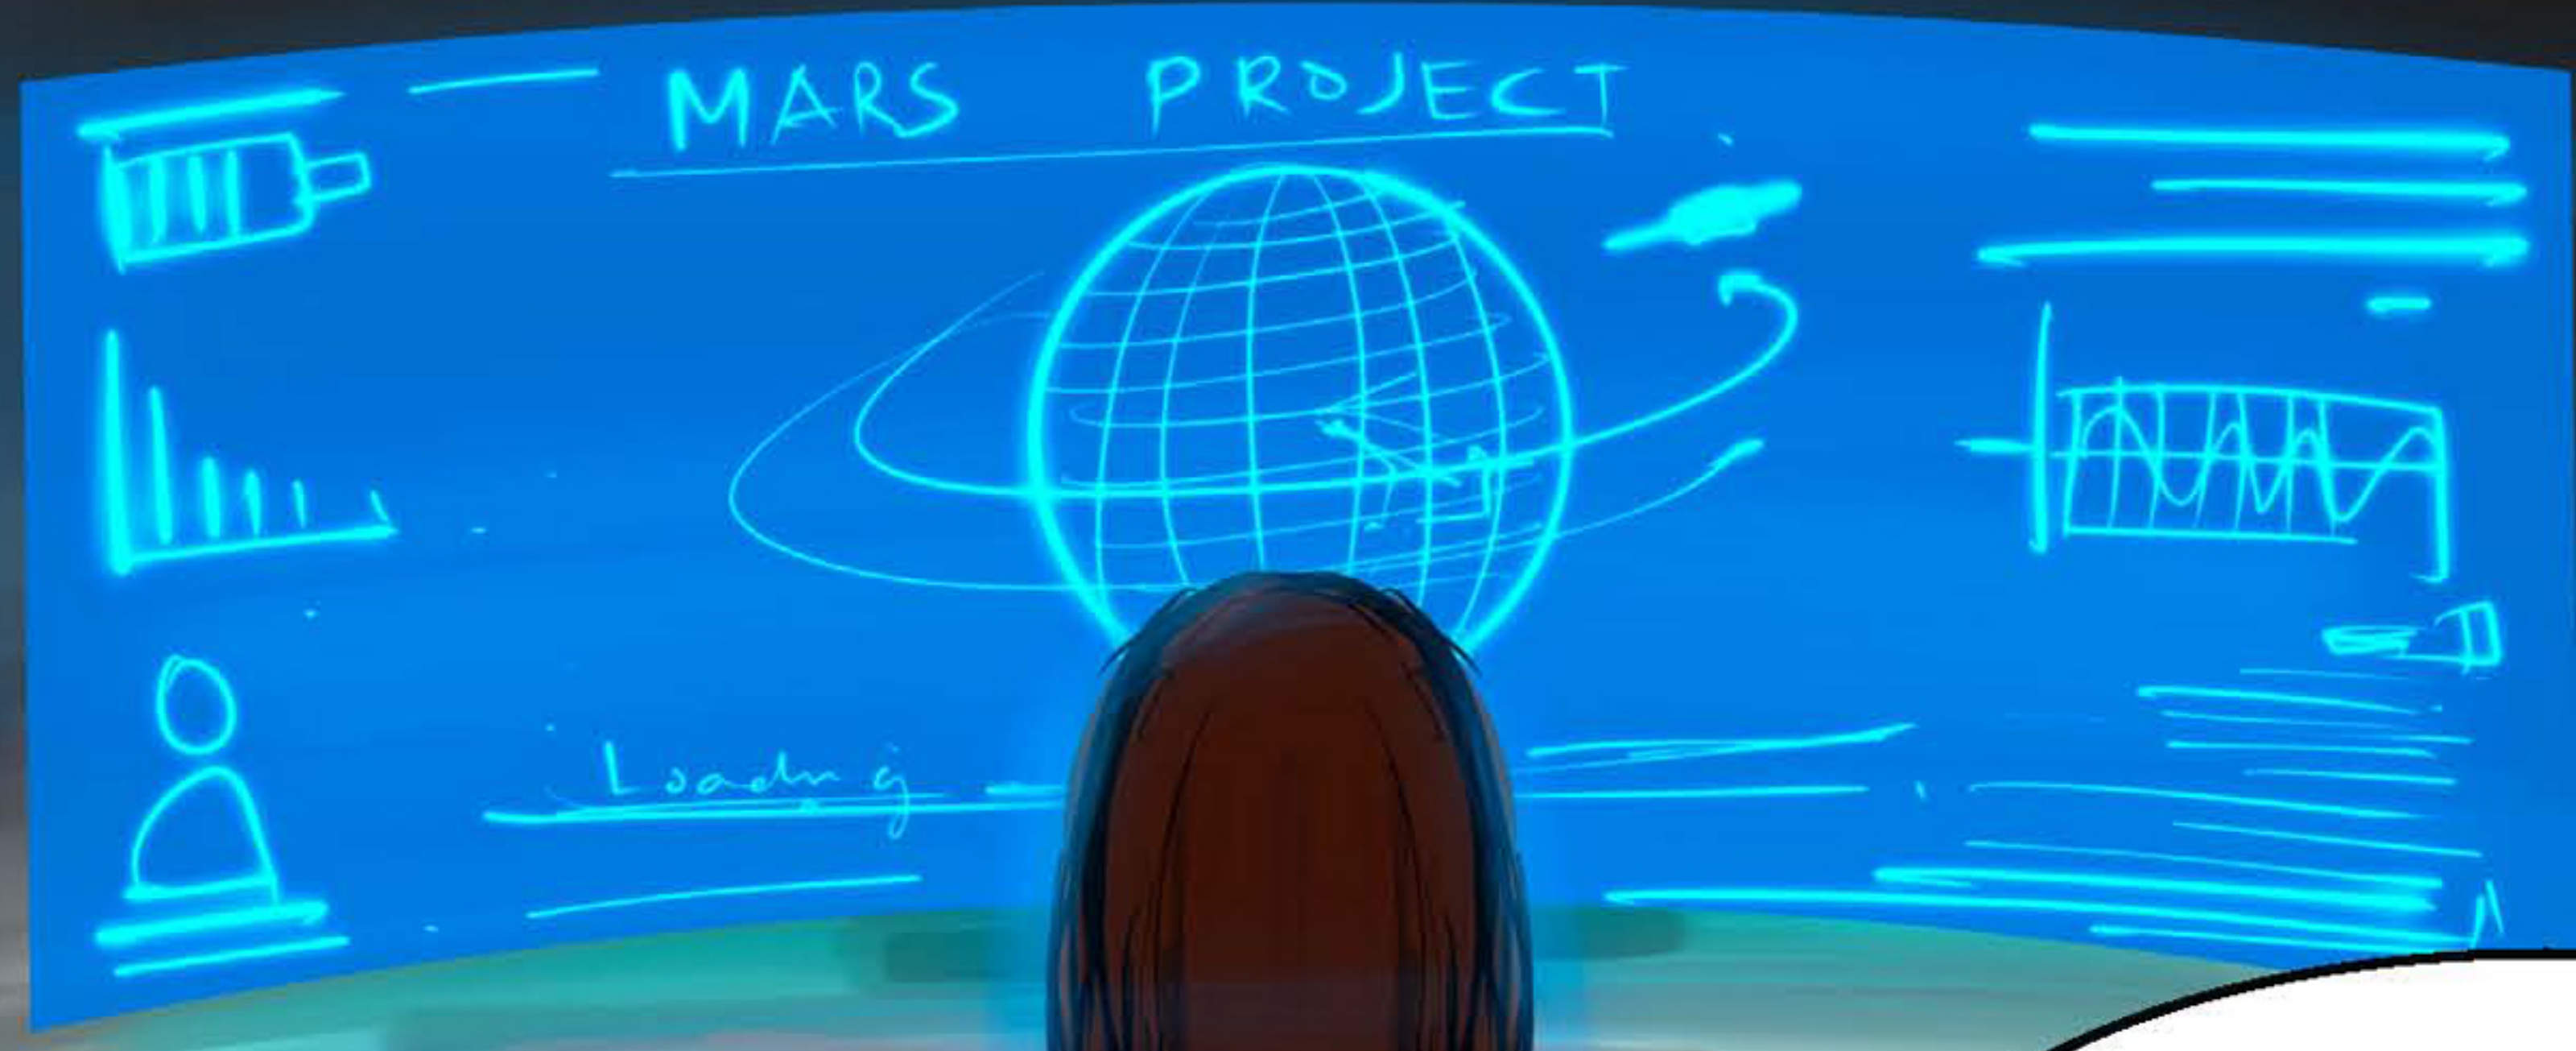

Sir, we are producing rich quality of vegetables and this week we will have spinach also.

Show me the progress of plantation Guys.

One month later.

Sir, these are the Data of the human survival mission on Mars. We can now evacuate people from Earth.

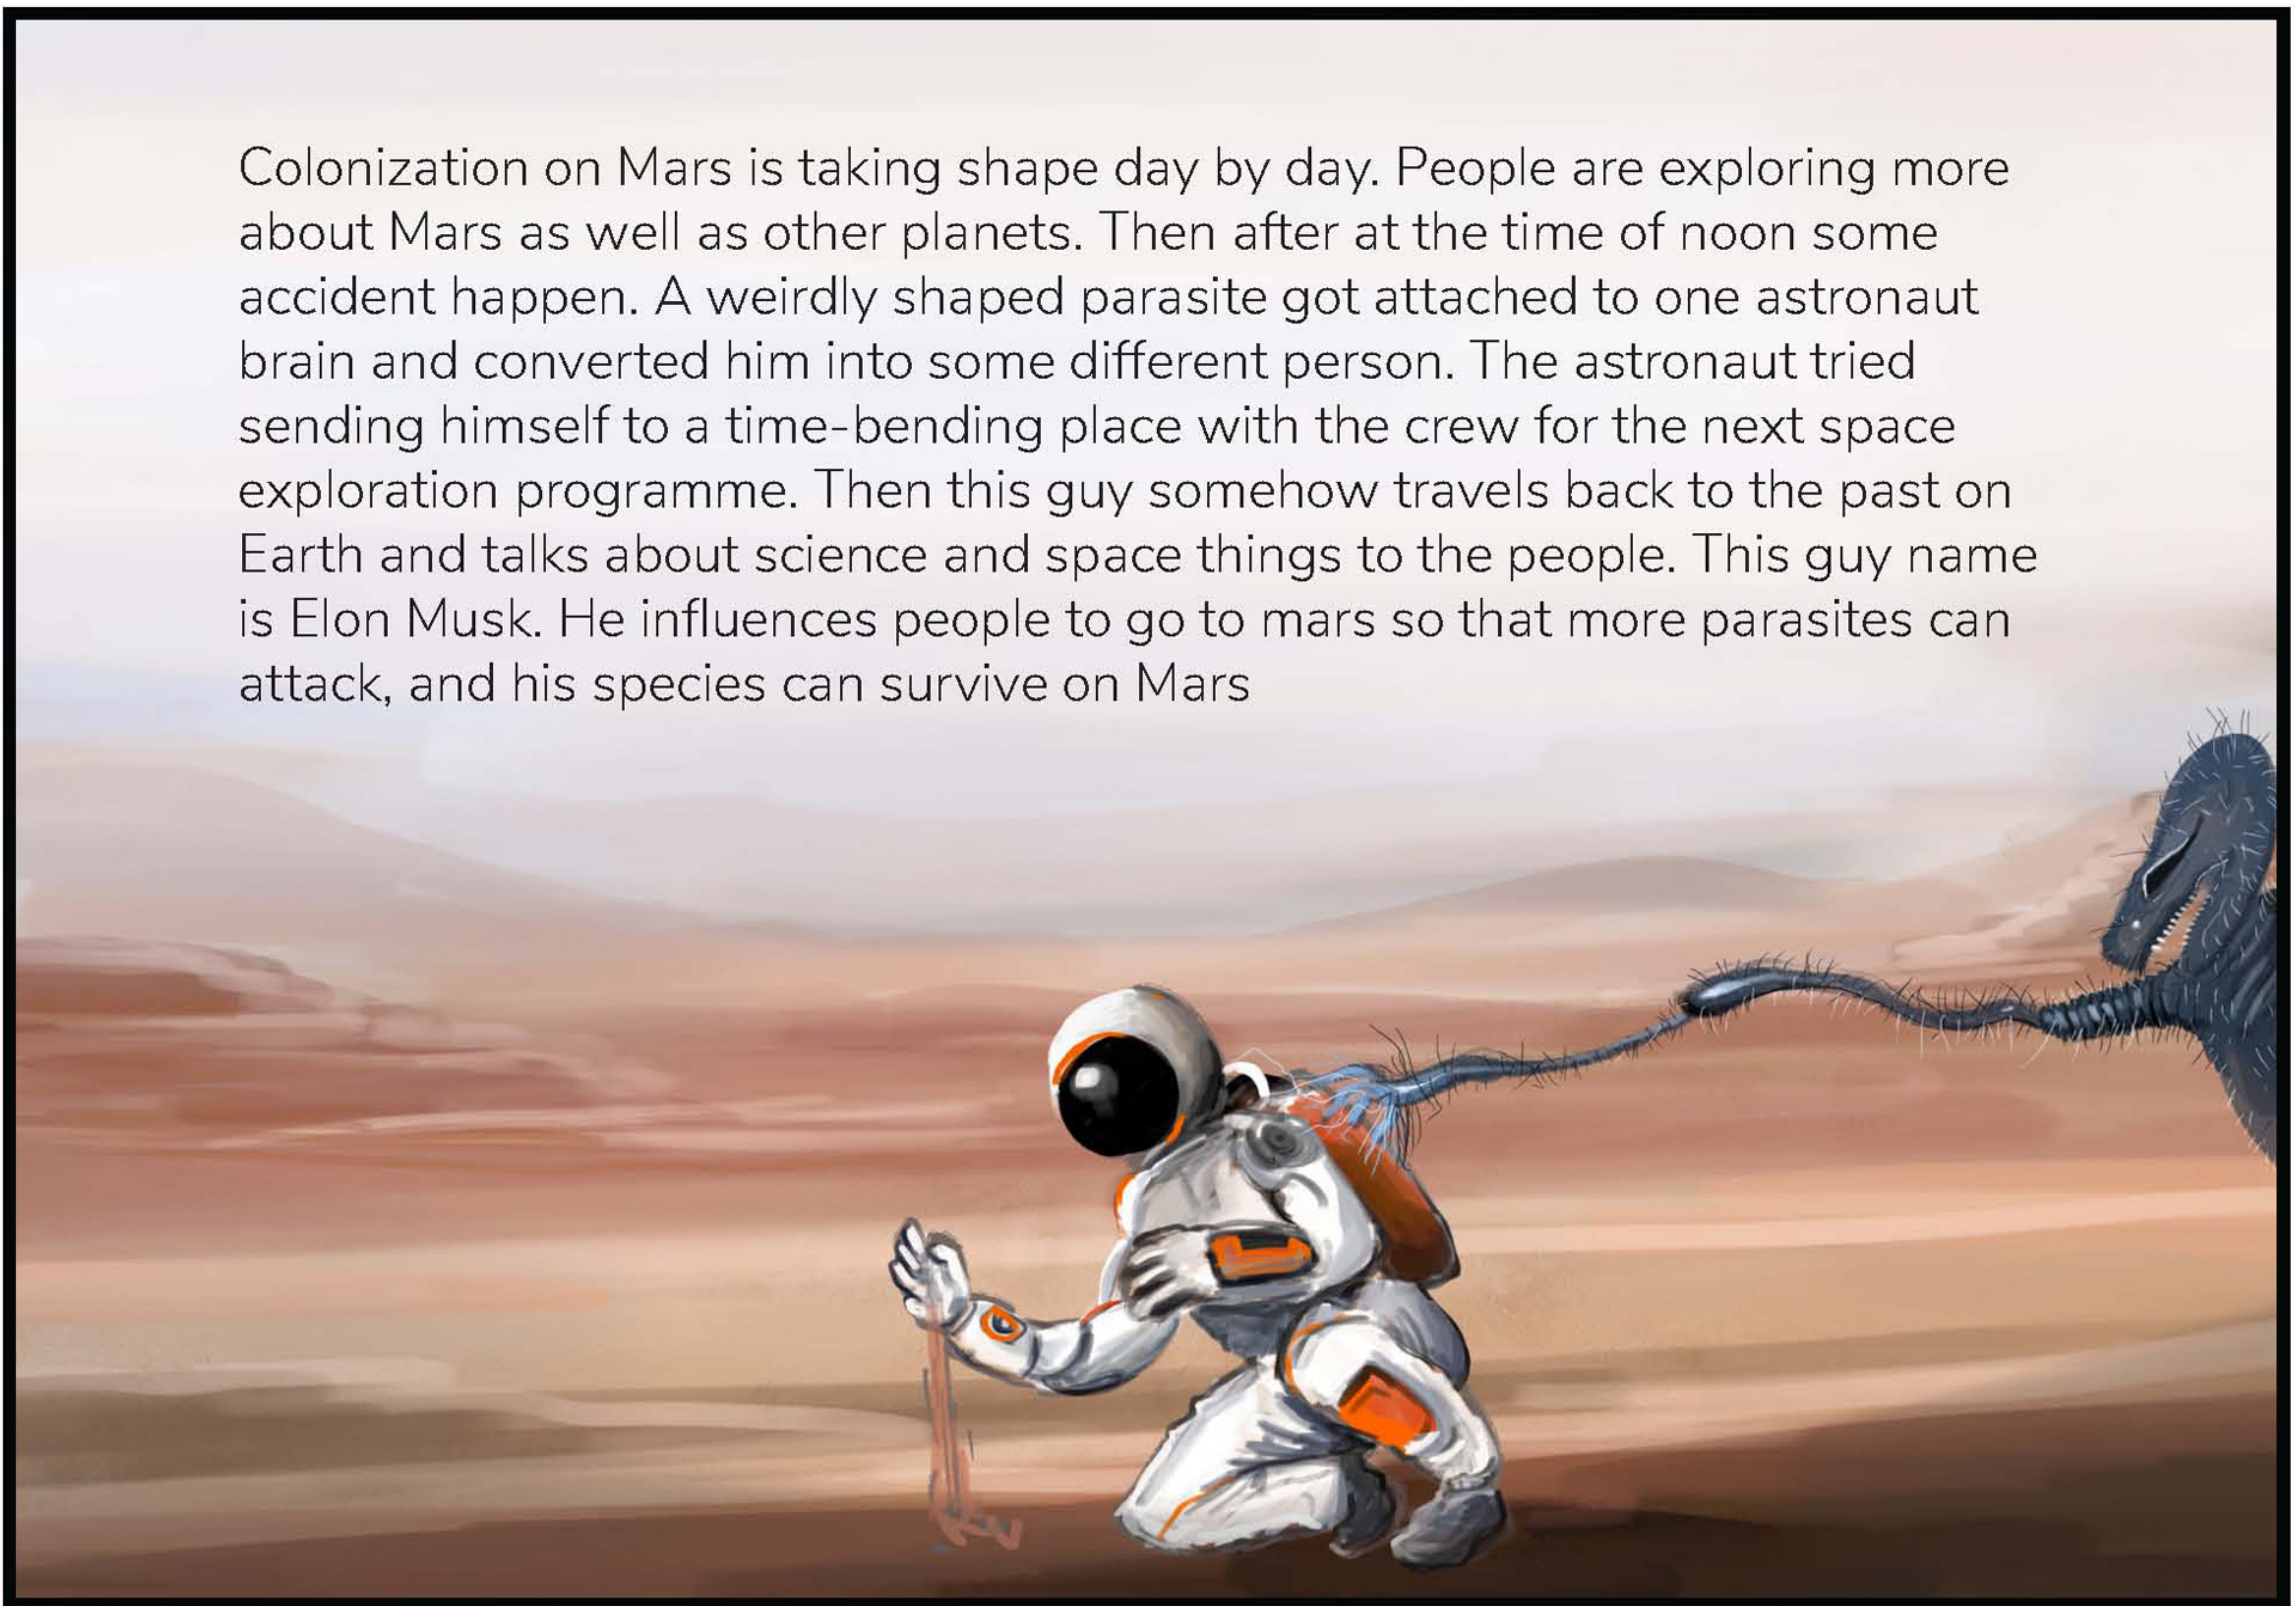

The colonization on Mars took place successfully, and more people are arriving from Earth.

Colonization on Mars is taking shape day by day. People are exploring more about Mars as well as other planets. Then after at the time of noon some accident happen. A weirdly shaped parasite got attached to one astronaut brain and converted him into some different person. The astronaut tried sending himself to a time-bending place with the crew for the next space exploration programme. Then this guy somehow travels back to the past on Earth and talks about science and space things to the people. This guy name is Elon Musk. He influences people to go to mars so that more parasites can attack, and his species can survive on Mars

Future Sequel Of Story(What if)
